OPIUM PARLEY COLLAPSES AS JAPAN SPURNS PACT

Excitement Reigns When Nipponese Lay Discrimination in Narcotic Importation to Great Britain

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Nov. 16.—The international conference for the suppression of the opium smoking in the Far East virtually collapsed today when the Japanese delegation announced that it could not sign the proposed agreement because of the discrimination against Japan in connection with Japanese importation of opium.

Before the Corfu dispute between Italy and Greece has the attention of the League of Nations been the scene of such tense interest as marked today's forenoon session of the opium conference, the object of which was to arrange some plan for the suppression of opium smoking in the Far East, and to further the curbing of excessive opium production in China.

Without regard to charges by the Indian delegate and the apparent impossibility to obtain satisfactory assurances concerning Japan's freedom to purchase opium abroad, the Japanese delegation virtually left the conference.

CHARGES DISCRIMINATION

This morning session adjourned after all the delegates admitting the conference had virtually failed in what it had achieved. There was still on the program, however, a session in the afternoon and a few points in the program which might lose contentions in nature, but the question which had caused the rupture.

The morning's clash was caused by Japan's allegation that she was discriminated against by other countries, chiefly Great Britain, in connection with the shipment of opium further than when the agreement issued. Import certificates they were not always honored by the other powers, and Japan was immediately due, according to Japanese resentment made yesterday by Viscount Ishii. Delevingne, the British delegate that Great Britain did not habitually recognize import certificates because of scandals in connection with them which involved officials in one Far Eastern country whose name he preferred not to divulge.

The Japanese position was that, although issued import papers and other narcotics often were diverted from the country of purchase and forwarded to other destinations where they were used for illegal purposes and illicit gain, Japan could not be made a scapegoat on the name of certificates which permitted the shipments.

The Japanese contended that Great Britain had tried to trans-ship opium at Hongkong, the British colony, interfered and prevented transportation. They held this was an attack on Japanese sovereignty.

GEN. DAWES UNDERGOES OPERATION

Treatment for Rupture Successful; Patient Will be in Bed Two Weeks

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Charles G. Dawes, Vice-President-elect, underwent a successful minor operation at the Evanston Hospital in Evanston this afternoon.

Mr. Dawes, in taking his customary exercises this morning, ruptured himself.

His physician, Dr. W. T. Parks, said he probably would have to remain at the hospital for two weeks.

Late today Dr. Parks issued the following statement:

"Gen. Dawes stood the operation nicely. It was a simple operation of herniotomy involving no vital organs. The general will be in bed about two weeks. His vitality is very good.

"Six years ago, when the general was being examined for promotion to brigadier-general, a slight suggestion of the trouble was discovered. The operation today probably is an exaggeration of the trouble then noted."

Mr. Dawes was accompanied to the hospital by Mrs. Dawes and B. A. Mattingly, his secretary.

MURDERERS MUST DIE

Evans Slayers Sentenced

Two Bandits Who Robbed, Killed American Woman to Face Gun Squad

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 16.—A few minutes before midnight at the City of Puebla last night Judge Munoz Gamboa pronounced the sentence of death on Alejo Garcia and Francisco Ruiz for the murder of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, American-born British widow and landowner, on August 2. The conclusion of their trial before Judge Gamboa ends an important chapter in a case in which center the entire difficult situation and strained relations of Great Britain and Mexico.

The Evans case was filled with romance, diplomacy and courage—a brave American woman, the seal of a British diplomat, the expulsion from the country of the diplomat, who was H. A. Cunard Cummings, the dignity and sovereign rights of Mexico, all were involved in the events which led to the murder of Mrs. Evans and a final split between England and Mexico. There were charges made also that Rudolph Hollocombe, a confidential employee of the British Legation, had attempted to bribe the prisoners to alter their statement and lay the blame on agrarian leaders because of the stubborn resistance of Mrs. Evans to the expropriation laws and the application of these laws to her property, which she proved she cherished more than her life.

DEMANDS DEATH

The trial began Thursday morning. The prosecution demanded the death penalty, saying that unless it was granted Mexico would lose its position in the family of nations, society, humanity and the entire nation were in danger unless the death sentence was passed, the prosecutor declared, "for otherwise this privileged territory will become converted into a repulsive cavern of assassins and thieves." The prosecution referred to Garcia and Ruiz as "genuine savages, who have planted in their path desolation and death."

The defense argued at length, declaring the prisoners had not been properly identified and that they deserved clemency because of their ignorance. It was said Garcia and Ruiz were merely accomplices of the real culprit, Francisco Perez, who has not been captured. It was also said that Judge Gamboa could not lawfully sentence the prisoners, having expressed an opinion prior to their arrest.

Both Garcia and Ruiz when cross-examined by the judge denied their guilt, each accusing the other, and Garcia, adding that Perez was the real culprit. The defense attorney for Ruiz said, "An English woman has died; it appears this is worth two Mexican deaths. Upon this theory if she had been French her death would be paid for by three Mexican deaths, if American with four or four hundred."

The attorney declared but one bullet wound fatal to Mrs. Evans and said, "It has not been proved what manner of weapons the culprits carried. It was an explosive bullet that killed Mrs. Evans. Could it not have happened that Humbert Strathaus, her German ranch manager, sitting beside her in the ill-fated buggy, pulled the trigger of his gun unwittingly in a moment of excitement when they were attacked, and so wounded Mrs. Evans? Then through his own injury and lack of evidence, might he not have won over the public by his easy flow of speech?"

The date of the execution, which in Mexico is done by a firing squad, has not been announced.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—If helium, instead of hydrogen, is issued to inflate the ZR-3, the Navy's plans to use the big dirigible as a trans-Atlantic mail carrier will not materialize, Dr. Hugo Eckener, president of the Zeppelin Company and one of the men in charge of the airship on her flight across the North Atlantic, predicted just before sailing for Germany.

"I doubt whether the ZR-3 can be put to this use if helium gas continues to replace hydrogen," Dr. Eckener said. "Helium is safer, but it is not so economical as hydrogen which really is imperative in the case of the ZR-3 so far as flights across the Atlantic are concerned."

Business Leaders Jubilant Over Outlook for Boom Following Landslide for Coolidge

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

The following is the first of a series of six articles on business conditions by William P. Helm, noted economist and financial expert. They will appear daily in The Times.—Editor.

BY WILLIAM P. HELM, JR.

[Copyright, 1924, by Current News Feature, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—What does the election result mean to business? The uncertainty is ended; how do American commerce and industry regard the future? Your correspondent has asked these and related questions of leading business men in virtually every big industry in the United States. More than 200 of the foremost men of the country have answered. They were spokesmen for practically all industry and finance. Simmered down to fewest words, here is their composite answer:

The United States faces the greatest period of prosperity it has ever known. We are standing on the threshold of a boom which will probably eclipse that of wartime. Business will begin to pick up immediately—began to pick up the day after election. The revival will not come with jarring suddenness, but will be gradual, healthy, progressive and of tremendous proportions."

These men speak for more than 25,000 big business concerns in their various lines. And they are the happiest set of mortals that ever correspondent interviewed.

For behind the uncertainties of election day business effort began to dam up with postponed orders and plans. The banks, for instance, held an untapped credit of more than $20,000,000,000, but they were waiting. They wanted to know what changes the election would bring before they lent out their money. They wanted to know what, if any, political uncertainty they and business generally would face before opening their vaults to new enterprises.

Now they know—the credit already is beginning to flow freely. The record shows, for instance, that there were floated in June, 1923, largely with the aid of the banks, new enterprises with authorized capital stock of more than $1,400,000,000. That was in the year before election. In June, 1924, the authorized capital stock of new enterprises had fallen to less than $460,000,000 a drop of almost $1,000,000,000 during a single month.

That drop was the effect of election year with its uncertain-

LA FOLLETTE "OUTLAWED"

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRENCH LICK (Ind.) Nov. 16.—In so far as it is possible for him to do so, United States Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire today excommunicated Robert M. La Follette from the Republican party.

As an individual Senator, his utterance might not be considered of great importance but as the almost certain head of the Committee on Committees of the new Senate, a statement by him today is considered of extreme significance.

The statement follows:

"I have been one of those members of the Republican Committee on Committees and Senator Watson has been another who has maintained that Senator La Follette was entitled to Republican standing in the organization of the Senate. We have argued that he was nominated in a Republican primary, that he was elected on the Republican ticket, that he came to the Senate with Republican credentials and that he claimed to be a Republican.

WITHOUT POWER

"We have held that we had no business to go behind the returns and that especially we were without power to instruct the Republicans of Wisconsin regarding the choice they should make for Senator.

"The political landscape now, however, seems to be somewhat changed and the composition of the picture which confronts us is different. Senator La Follette apparently has gone out of the Republican party and has gone voluntarily. He has headed the national ticket of a new party which he undoubtedly hopes to perpetuate as an active factor in our politics. Therefore, it seems to me wholly within reason that we should assume that La Follette has abdicated his Republicanism and now stands in the Senate on the same footing as Senators Shipstead and Johnson of Minnesota, who are carried on the rolls as representing the Farmer-Labor party and who have received their committee assignments at their own requests although these assignments have been charged up to the Republican allotment of committee memberships."

LOSES CLAIMS

In other words, Senator Moses holds that La Follette now loses all claims of seniority upon committee assignments, the deciding factor in the organization of the Senate. If the committee and the majority of the Senate were to hold with him that would mean that the third party leader would forfeit the chairmanship of the Committee on Manufactures, which he now holds.

It would mean that Senator George P. McLean of Connecticut would be the ranking member of both the Finance and the Interstate Commerce committees and since he probably would choose the Finance Committee leaders that Senator James E. Watson of Indiana would have the new Interstate Commerce Committee, which handles such important subjects as railroad legislation.

RANKS OF UNIONS DEPLETED

Membership Shows Decrease of 1,331,500 in Three Years; War Brought Organizations to Peak

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Trade-union membership decreased 1,331,500 in three years, according to a report finished today by the National Bureau of Economic Research. The report, to be published next month under the title "The Growth of American Trade Unions, 1880-1923," is the result of two years' research by a group of experts working in industries all over the country.

In 1920 the high-water mark was reached when the unions reported a total membership of 5,110,500. Within three years this had dropped to 3,779,000. What the trend has been since January 1, of this year the investigators were not able to determine in time to include it in their survey.

In the years before the war, when membership rose from about 450,000 to 2,750,000 the gains were made by the building trades, steam railroad and printing industries unions, and by the coming into power of the United Mine Workers, the report says. Nearly one-half of the total membership was in the transportation and building groups while the rest were scattered over all other industries and services. Only in the coal mines and glass and stone industries was there a like concentration of union membership.

This condition changed radically from 1915 to 1920 by the extensive spread of unionism among the semiskilled and unskilled and into industries having been almost totally unorganized, the investigators found.

Partly as a result of the temporary effects of industrial depression and partly the effect of the permanent liquidation of war industries the period from 1920 to 1923 was one of falling membership. In the drop virtually all labor organizations shared. Those most heavily represented in the war industries and which had experienced the most substantial gains were in the period of deflation the heaviest losers.

The metal and transportation unions alone contributed about 60 per cent of the total loss in this period. The textile and packing-house unions lost about as much as they gained.

SHOTS FLY IN MILK WAR

Nine Arrested in Bay Region

Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed; Truck Guards Armed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Shots were fired today as the East Bay milk war reached the stage of actual hostilities.

Nine men are under arrest, thousands of dollars' worth of milk has been destroyed, armed guards have been placed upon trucks bringing the product into Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, and all important roads leading into these three cities from Alameda, Contra Costa and San Joaquin counties are picketed by the striking producers.

Such is the situation in the war that is expected to create a famine today in the milk supply to residents of the East Bay region.

Five of the nine men under arrest were captured by employees and officials of the Walnut Grove Creamery, 542 Twenty-fifth street, Oakland, after a thrilling chase through San Leandro, East Oakland and into Durant avenue, Oakland, where they were halted after one of the number had shot directly at W. K. Ward, driver for the milk company, who was bringing a supply in from Alvarado.

THOSE ARRESTED

Avilar at the police station, was charged with attempt to commit murder when he assumed full responsibility for the shooting. The others were charged with disturbing the peace and released on bail. All are San Leandro producers.

At Livermore four more men were jailed by Constable Peter Wright upon the complaint of truck drivers who claimed that they were halted on the Dublin Canyon road and warned to turn back with their produce.

Those arrested in this encounter are Louis Sucha, Frank Imlig, C. Ricksenbach and Joe Imfield, all of Pleasanton.

Complaint was made to Contra Costa county authorities that trucks containing milk from Solano and Napa counties were stopped by pickets at Rodeo as they were landed on the Rodeo-Vallejo ferry and ordered to return to the north shore. A report was being investigated that one of the trucks had been confiscated by the strikers.

RAIDS REPORTED

While many reports were received of raids made upon independent dairies during Saturday night, resulting in the dumping of all milk intended for shipment to East Bay cities, the most flagrant was one reported by Frank C. Harvey of Newark, who told authorities that a large group of men swooped down on his dairy and dumped all of his milk, which was ready for shipment.

Declaring that the East Bay Milk Producers' Association, responsible for the calling of the strike, had nothing to do with the various crimes charged to its striking members, President Edward S. Babue today stated that he could not stop members of the organization from committing such acts, as they were in a desperate frame of mind.

Babue claimed today that the Independent Producers' Association, headed by William Lewis, had joined with his organization in refusing to supply East Bay distributors unless the present wholesale price was increased from 25 to 29.01 cents a gallon. This, according to Babue, will result in the control of 97 per cent of the supply.

MILK SPOILING

"We have agreed to deliver no milk to any dealer until all have agreed to our demands," declared Babue.

Joe Silva, one of those stopped at Livermore, told arresting officers that 100 cans of milk were being allowed to sour at Tracy by being kept from shipment to the Bay Cities. He confirmed reports that virtually every producer is dumping milk rather ship it at present prices.

"We certainly will not, under any circumstances, accept the demands of the producers," declared C. A. Fieweger, manager of the Walnut Grove Producers' Association. "We already have a contract with one of their members to furnish milk at 25 cents a gallon until February and until then will not change our price."

Robert Shuey, manager of the Central Shuey Creamery, declared that his company had supplied every home today, and some of its wholesale customers, but no stores. While the supply may be short tomorrow, it will be brought up by new supplies, which his company has negotiated for during the remainder of the week, he said.

SEEK PROTECTION

"Tomorrow we are going to the sheriffs of all surrounding counties and demand protection for our truck drivers. We will place armed guards on all trucks operated and have instructed our men to shoot any person who attempts to interefere with our traffic," Shuey announced.

Picketing producers were not molesting shipments of milk to San Francisco or other points nor were they preventing the marketing of cream in the East Bay cities. The actions were confined solely to milk.

"There is no occasion for legal action in the present milk boy-

TROOPS ASKED AS OWENS RAIDERS OPEN AQUEDUCT

Governor to Act Today on Request of Inyo Sheriff; Civil War is Feared; No Water Shortage

State troops were called for yesterday by Sheriff Collins of Inyo county to restore the flow of water in the Los Angeles Aqueduct and to disperse 100 Owens River Valley residents who yesterday morning seized the Aqueduct and opened the Alabama waste gates, five miles north of Lone Pine. The Sheriff, who was defied by the raiders, stated that he feared bloodshed would follow if the militia did not appear.

Gov. Richardson said he will consider the request this morning.

AUTHORITIES DEFIED

About sixty men, in the first party, traveling in automobiles, bore down on the Aqueduct yesterday morning and took possession. Guards were brushed aside and the spillways opened, at a point about 200 miles north of Los Angeles. Efforts by Sheriff Collins, the Inyo county District Attorney, and Aqueduct officials to close the gates and conserve the water, were unavailing.

Los Angeles receives her water from the Owens River Valley by means of the Aqueduct, but it was stated that there should be no fear manifested, as there is enough water in reservoirs near the city to furnish a supply for three months.

Aqueduct officials stated that the matter would be settled long before the city felt the pinch of thirst. This is the second attack on the Aqueduct in six months. City officials consider it a part of a scheme to force the sale of land in the valley.

The concerted action of the large number of men, and their attitude, indicated to officials that it was the result of a preconceived plan. It appeared that there will be no immediate attempt to dislodge the raiders by violence or that a surrender will be made to this summary action.

COMPLAINTS PREPARED

Meanwhile, officials of the Department of Public Service, with the aid of a large staff of clerks, were preparing seventy-five civil complaints to file with Judge William Dehy of the Inyo county Superior Court, asking injunctions to dispossess the raiders. Except for two, all are John Doe complaints. Mark Q. Watterson, a banker of Bishop, and W. R. McCarty, engineer for an irrigation ditch, are the men named.

The complaints were to be taken to Independence, the county seat, for filing today.

Late reports from Lone Pine indicated that the ranchers were determined upon a last stand, and that they would defy the courts, as they defied their Sheriff and District Attorney yesterday. Some went home last night to rest, while others mounted guard. Tents were pitched, and food was brought up. Reinforcements are expected today.

CIVIL WAR FEARED

The situation is said to be filled with danger. The men feel they are defending their homes from encroachment and are resolved to force the Los Angeles Bureau to a settlement. Attempts to dislodge them, except by troops, will result in civil war, it is said. No attempt has been made to conceal the identity of the raiders.

The text of Sheriff Collins's telegram is as follows:

"Gov. Friend W. Richardson:

"Approximately 100 citizens have opened the Los Angeles Aqueduct waste gates and are spilling the water of the Aqueduct into Owens River. They are standing guard over the gate and resisting all efforts to close it. All efforts to disperse the party have failed. Confident the party will disperse and bloodshed be averted only by arrival of State troops. I urge that troops be sent immediately. Location of party five miles north of Lone Pine.

"C. C. Collins,

GOVERNOR NONCOMMITAL

Gov. Richardson was shown Sheriff Collins's plea for State troops just as he was boarding a train in Los Angeles last evening for Sacramento.

"When I get to Sacramento in the morning I will take up the Sheriff's message and consider it."

MURDERED MAN FOUND ON STREET

Blows Upon Back of Head Cause of Death in Latest Mystery Slaying

Mysteriously slain, the body of Allen H. Rosenblum, 30 years of age, a real estate salesman, was found last night in the roadway on Hauser Boulevard near Wilshire. Death was caused by blows on the back of his head.

Rosenblum, who resided at 1027 Court street, and was employed by the Victor Girard Company, left his home at 6:30 p.m. yesterday, according to his wife, saying he was going to meet a friend, also in the real estate business. He drove away in his Rollin sedan.

The body was found in the street, about four feet from the curbing, by Carroll and Fay Hanson, brothers, as they were on their way to their home at 826 West Knoll Drive. Rosenblum's automobile was gone and his hat was missing. The Hansons notified Wilshire police, who in turn notified the detective bureau at Central Station.

Detective Lieutenant Ammon of Wilshire, Assistant Captain of Detectives Taylor and Detective Lieutenants Harris and Post, the last three of Central Station, went to the scene and began an investigation.

Robbery, they said, apparently was not the motive. A diamond ring, a small amount of money, and personal papers, were found intact on the body.

Mrs. Rosenblum told the detectives that her husband had planned to meet a Mr. Latimer of 1241 Longwood avenue. Efforts were made to communicate with him last night to determine whether Rosenblum kept the appointment.

The body was discovered shortly after 10 p.m. Indications were that the man had been dead about two hours.

Officers Leave to Place Ban on Kaibab Hunting

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Nov. 16.—Acting on direct orders of Gov. Hunt of Arizona, Sheriff Campbell and a deputy sheriff and Game Warden Jack Fuss of Coconino county left Flagstaff today to arrest any one found with deer outside of Kaibab National Forest. The Sheriff will deputize men to patrol the border of the forest, all of which is within Coconino county.

This action followed telegraphic advices from District Forester Rutledge at Kanab, Utah, that the preserve was opened to hunters Saturday.

WOMAN CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Officials May Ask Congress to Rescue Aged Patriot and Her Husband From Workhouse

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WORCESTER (Mass.) Nov. 16.—Congress may be called upon to enact special legislation to get Mrs. Mary Ann Johnson and her husband Peter out of the workhouse at Worcester and bring them together once again in their own home for the few remaining years of their lives.

Officials of the Red Cross, pension attorneys and custodians of the musty records of the Civil War are now working on the case, which is one of the most unusual in the military and pension records of the country.

It is hoped that it will be found that Mrs. Johnson is a veteran of the Civil War in which she claims to have taken part as an enlisted soldier of the Fifty-third Massachusetts Volunteers garbed as a boy in blue and passing everywhere as a man.

SENT TO ALMS HOUSE

Mrs. Johnson is now 84 years of age, and her husband is 82. About two years ago, after years of independence, the old people—neither of them with relatives—were forced to turn to the State for help. In the absence of an old-age pension system, there was only one thing that could be done. They were sent to the alms house at Tewksbury and later transferred to the home farm on the outskirts of this city.

The strange, almost unbelievable story that Mrs. Johnson tells of her experience does not correspond in every detail with historical facts. Yet the investigation now being made under direction of the executive secretary of the Worcester Red Cross has produced evidence enough to warrant a further search.

"I was left at home alone and I hated it," she said. "I was small—just as I am today—but I was strong and wiry."

CLIPPED HER HAIR

She says, however, that she clipped her hair, wrapped herself in a tight bandage to conceal her feminine figure, and enlisted under the name of Samuel Hill. She says she became a member of Company B of the Fifty-third Massachusetts Regiment, and received a bounty of $110 when she was enrolled.

"Our regiment went down to

Frances Burnett Bequeathes Bulk of Estate to Son

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. The will of Mrs. Frances Eliza Townsend, better known as Frances Hodgson Burnett, author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," who died at Long Island, October 26, last, was filed for probate in Mineola today. The document disposes of $100,000 in real and $50,000 in personal property.

A sister, Miss Mary Jordan of Plandome, receives the contents of Mrs. Townsend's home at Plandome and all clothing belongs to Mrs. Townsend.

The will was made March 1, 1915. The residuary estate, constituting the bulk of the property, is left to a son, Vivian Burnett, for use during his life as he may select. The son also is named executor.

Improvement is Seen in Condition of Mrs. Harding

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MARION, (O.) Nov. 16.—The condition of Mrs. Warren G. Harding was slightly improved today.

A bulletin issued by Dr. Charles Sawyer described Mrs. Harding's condition as changing for the better. The bulletin said: "Mrs. Harding has had a good change for the better. Her pulse is stronger and she has been taking her own—even gaining a little. She took a little nourishment this morning and has been sleeping quietly."

Railroads' Part in Aiding President Revealed

ties. But now almost any legitimate, sound business under the flag can go to the bank and get money if it needs it. And that is because the election uncertainty is over.

BUSINESS BASIS

"The basis of good business is stability and confidence." That is what Francis Sisson told me in New York a day or so ago. Mr. Sisson is vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company, the largest trust company in the world and one of the largest of New York's great financial institutions.

"These factors," Mr. Sisson went on, "were the winning factors in President Coolidge's election. Their victory reasonably justifies the assumption that prosperous and stable business conditions will follow.

"Complete repudiation by the voters of destructive and radical proposals is reassuring to all who believe in the private ownership of property, the rights and rewards of personal initiative and legal safeguards for the security of person and property."

Mr. Sisson looks for a whale of a big year ahead. So do his associates in the banking field. The head of a great Middle Western bank wires that he had held up applications for more than $1,000,000 in loans during the month of October because he was frankly nervous about what the election would bring forth. Now he knows what to expect and the loans will be made.

RAILROAD MEETING

And not only the banks. A week from next Tuesday the heads of virtually all the great railroad companies of the United States will meet in New York to frame their policy for the coming year. At that meeting will be laid plans for spending probably $1,000,000,000 for new railroad equipment. The sum may run higher. Whatever it is, it will give employment, beginning at once, to tens of thousands of workmen for many months to come.

These same roads spent money to build 197,000 new cars in 1923. That was the year before election. In 1924, they are building only 135,000 new cars. This is election year, uncertain up to a few days ago. Next year, the correspondent hazards the prediction, the same roads will spend at least half as much again as they spent in 1924. Clear signals on the right of way is the answer.

"This is the end of isms for a while. Now we can get down to business with both hands and eyes. Heretofore we have had to devote at least one eye and hand to politics."

AIDED COOLIDGE

The railroads, incidentally, are pluming themselves for what they did in Kansas, Iowa, North and South Dakota and Minnesota. Naturally, they wanted Coolidge to win. Under the law, they couldn't help finance his campaign, but they could help in other ways. And here is one of the ways:

Early in September, they decided that they would exert themselves to give every farmer in the grain belt all the cars he wanted to move his crops. There were big crops this year, far bigger than usual, and never before had a big crop been moved without a distressing car shortage. Now car shortages make the farmer grouchy and unhappy; conversely, plenty of cars kegp him in good humor. So the railroads flooded the grain belt with cars and worked as never before hauling the crops. There wasn't any car shortage—and everybody knows how the farmers voted.

"There is no doubt in my mind," a high railroad official told me yesterday, "that the railroads helped mightily to win those States for Coolidge."

OPTIMISM KEYNOTE

In every line, optimism is the keynote. Some of the big men of industry were frankly jubilant. One of them said he couldn't believe himself when he got to figuring on the possibilities. Most of the business leaders, however, while 100 per cent optimistic, were conservative in what they dictated to go between quotation marks in cold type. Of that class, for instance, was Richard F. Grant of Cleveland, O., president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Mr. Grant heads an organization of organizations. Within the national chamber are 1300 other chambers of commerce and trade associations. These 1300 organizations have the almost unbelievable membership of 800,000 firms and individuals. When it comes to speaking on behalf of so huge an aggregation of business men, Mr. Grant is justified, of course, in being careful about what he says.

Your correspondent got him on the long-distance telephone at his office in the firm of M. A. Hannan & Co. of Cleveland, of which he is vice-president.

ASSURANCE GIVEN

"I have a deep-seated feeling," Mr. Grant dictated, "that the election result will be most reassuring to the business men of the country. I look for a gradual but progressively continued betterment of business conditions. Our prosperity, I think, will be very great in the near future, but it will come, in my judgment, gradually, rather than through an immediate business boom."

Mr. Grant was asked the basis of his opinion.

"Business," he replied, "has grown to its present estate through the operation of long-established policies and institutions of government. These were recently attacked. Business men generally wondered what the result of the attack would be. It was necessary, in the interest of prosperity, for the business men of the country to be reassured that those policies and institutions would continue.

"Such reassurance has just been given."

And so it goes. Manufacturers, producers, bankers, merchants, railroad executives, and financiers are speaking the same language of optimism. Yes, the farmers, too. They expect a quickening of their prosperity, lately roused from a four-year sleep, as the result of dissipating the political uncertainties.

METHUSELAH'S MODERN RIVAL

Kurd . on 150th Birthday, Seeks Younger Wife; Present One 65

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 16.—Zoro Agha, the oldest man in the world, celebrated his one hundred fiftieth birth anniversary yesterday. He is a Kurd.

His age is authenticated by a birth certificate, by his minute remembrance of rulers and events in Constantinople more than 120 years ago, and by testimony of a dozen old men who declare that Zoro was already an old man when they were boys.

Zoro said today he is looking for a younger wife, his present one being 65. She is his fifth. Three was the largest number he ever had at one time, he said.

ACTORS MIX IN FIGHT AT EQUITY BALL

Beautiful Blonde Stops Gory Combat Between Sherman and Baxter

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Lowell Sherman and George Baxter, actors, had a gory encounter at the Actors' Equity ball at the Hotel Astor early this morning.

Baxter, according to the story, was sitting in a box chatting with Sherman's wife and mother when Sherman returned with Lillian Foster, a new Broadway luminary. In an adjoining box were Ethel Barrymore and Nora Bayes. Sherman introduced Miss Foster all around, except that he ignored Baxter.

The "oversight" was called to Sherman's attention whereupon he made some remark which caused the two men to step out of the box to the balcony. In a minute Sherman was on the floor with his collar torn. Baxter was ready to continue.

A beautiful blonde stepped between them and pushed Baxter down the hall. Sherman rose unsteadily. The belle saved him.

Fifteen minutes elapsed, during which Sherman was kept busy explaining to Equity officials just what had happened.

Baxter had no right in his box, he insisted, and he simply threw him out.

Outside the Astor, Baxter gave the real reason for the quarrel.

"Lowell Sherman was once infatuated with my sister Helen," he related between torn lips, "but I never would permit them to marry. Since those days Sherman has never liked me. He has always borne me a grudge."

Belgium Will Favor Germany; French Ire Seen

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BRUSSELS, Nov. 16.—The Belgian government is reported to have decided to concede to Germany most favored nation treatment.

If the report prove true, it is believed the decision will arouse resentment in France, following on the difficulties raised by Belgium in enforcing higher tariffs without having previously informed France.

WISCONSIN MILLER DIES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 16.—Christian Breisch, long identified with various Lansing business enterprises and owner of the Breisch Milling Company, is dead at his home in Lansing following an illness of several weeks. During the war he was called by President Wilson to serve on the advisory committee of the United States Grain Corporation. He served as a member of the Lansing School Board for sixteen years.

was the Governor's only comment for publication.

By the Governor's attitude, however, he was understood to believe that Inyo county authorities probably would be able to handle the situation without the expense and inconvenience of ordering out State troops.

The Governor occasionally receives calls for military aid from various places in the State when hot blood starts trouble, but has on previous occasions of the kind given time an opportunity to cool off the trouble makers without intervention of State soldiers.

The Governor left Los Angeles at 6:15 o'clock yesterday evening to arrive in the State Capital this forenoon at 9:30 o'clock.

Practically the entire flow of the Aqueduct, amounting to 291 second feet, or 2182 gallons a second, was spilling into the Owens River last night, while the raiders, unmasked and apparently unarmed, stood by defying Sheriff Collins of Inyo county and representatives of the city of Los Angeles.

The raiders said they will continue to waste the water, estimated worth $10,000 a day, until a committee comes from Los Angeles and "settles" with them. The scene of their raid is approximately 200 miles up the Aqueduct which feeds the reservoirs from which Los Angeles gets her water.

SUITS PLANNED

City Engineer H. A. Van Norman and Chief Counsel of the Department of Public Service Mathews, after a conference yesterday afternoon, said suits for damages might be filed against the leaders.

The raid yesterday morning is the latest move by a part of the Owens Valley residents who recently have indulged in dynamite, night-riding and threats to demonstrate their attitude toward the Los Angeles Water Department. Mr. Van Norman stated that he believes the attack on the gates is another gesture in a long program to force the city to buy extensive properties in the valley.

The Alabama gates, a point of yesterday's foray, is five miles north of Lone Pine and one mile north of the scene of the dynamiting of the aqueduct of last May 31. It is about fifty miles below the point where the majority of the Owens' Valley farms are affected.

Mr. Van Norman said that while the loss to the city is large there is no immediate danger, as the lower reservoirs now contain about ninety days' supply. The daily consumption is about 100 second feet, about one-half of which is picked up from the Los Angeles River, miles below the scene of the cut.

Mr. Mathews did not contemplate yesterday any action beyond the point of the restraining order. If the raiders refuse to obey the order plans will be made. Special Counsel S. B. Robinson was assisting Mr. Mathews.

HUNDRED IN PARTY

According to information telephoned to officials of the Department of Public Service, the men, whose number increased during the day to more than 100, rode to the gates about 10 a.m. They were opposed ineffectually by Frank Lasky, gate-tender, who lives near by. The gates were opened. At this point the water runs in an open cut about the base of the Alabama Hills.

E. H. Leahy, superintendent of electrical construction in the valley, and Claude Van Norman, in charge of maintenance from the intake to the Haiwee Reservoir, came to the gates at the call of events, reached the gates thirty minutes behind the raiders.

Claude Van Norman said he recognized Mark Q. Watterson, banker, as one of the leaders. He reported that he asked who was in charge. There was no answer. He then said the gates must be closed. A member of the crowd whom he could not identify said that the gates would remain open until the committee came from Los Angeles.

"If the committee leaves on the train tonight they can be here Monday and this thing can be settled," said the unidentified man.

Sheriff Collins then ordered the gates closed, but made no impression. The Sheriff is said to have written down the names of the men present. He then left for the county seat.

Mr. Mathews told Claude Van Norman to announce to the crowd that they were trespassing, had caused enormous loss to the city, and that they were individually liable to recovery of damages.

ACTION IS PROMISED

The following statement was issued late yesterday by Chief Engineer of Water Department Mulholland:

"The fact that Sheriff Collins of Inyo county has asked Gov. Richardson for troops is an admission that the county authorities are unable to cope with the situation and that troops are needed.

"The situation demands summary methods—there is little likelihood that the demand of the ranchers at the gates for a conference with a committee representing the department will be met with. I do not consider the group as representative of the sentiment of the valley.

"It is now planned to institute damage actions against each of the men comprising the group of raiders, in addition to the injunction proceedings to be instituted in the Supreior Court of Inyo county this morning.

"Interference with a public utility is a serious matter—of greater import than the interference with mails. Mail robberies are of no more import than such an action as was taken yesterday at Lone Pine."

NO WATER SHORTAGE

Mulholland confirmed the earlier statements of other officials of the department that the opening of the gates does not affect in any degree the water supply of the city of Los Angeles.

"There are no grounds for uneasiness in this direction," he declared. "The Alabama gates might be left open for a considerable period of time without any affect whatsoever on the city's water supply."

City Engineer Van Norman, Louis P. Hill and Mr. Mathews are members of a committee appointed by the Department of Public Service Commissioners to treat with the farmers of the valley, who declare that the city of Los Angeles is taking their water and ruining their lands.

SEEN MINORITY ACT

Mr. Van Norman said in relation to the work of the committee: "Mr. Mathews and I went to the valley a week ago to confer with members of the Owens River Canal, the Bishop Creek Irrigation District and the Bishop Creek Ditch. Also all interests in the valley were represented. We proposed to enter into an agreement with them whereby the city would supply water for irrigating an area of 20,000 acres each year.

"We found that this idea appealed to many of the ranchers. Many of them are doing well on their ranches, and desired to stay, thinking that this agreement was for the best interests of the valley and the city. Representatives of the Owens River Canal, however, stated that the only thing that would satisfy them would be for the city to purchase their entire lands.

"We asked them to take this proposal under consideration. We told them that Mr. Hill was then in Washington, and that as soon as he returned we would inform him of our visit and that we would return to the valley with further and more complete data.

"The Bishop Creek Irrigation District people and the Bishop Creek Ditch people appeared to be satisfied to take our proposal under consideration.

"The group which seized the aqueduct today does not represent the majority of the people of the Owens River Valley."

WATER FIGHT HISTORY TOLD

Controversy Between City and Owens Valley Ranchers Began Twenty Years Ago

The Owens River Valley water controversy that led again to violence yesterday virtually started twenty years ago with the inception of the plan to bring water 250 miles from the mountains to Los Angeles by the Aqueduct.

Points of view held by ranchers and farmers of the valley and the Los Angeles Water Department officials clashed almost from the beginning of the project. To the valley residents the Aqueduct reached a long arm from Los Angeles and took from them the farmers' life blood, without which their prosperity would be seriously set back. To the Los Angeles representatives the building of the Aqueduct was a necessity, an engineering feat to make possible future growth of Los Angeles.

Litigation between the ranchers and irrigation companies and the city ensued, the former asserting that the "piece meal" policy of buying land and water rights jeopardized agricultural development and eventually would cause Owens Valley to revert to desert. Numerous suits were brought by valley residents seeking to prevent the sinking of wells and the diversion of streams into the Aqueduct. Many of these cases dragged through the courts without, the valley residents assert, settling the controversy of bringing about an organized policy on the part of the city of Los Angeles.

The controversy flared up anew with the sensational dynamiting last May of a section of the Aqueduct near Lone Pine. The damage was nominal but aroused city officials to action to settle the feud. An Inyo county grand jury investigation did not bring indictments.

The next outbreak was the kidnaping of L. C. Hall, a Los Angeles attorney, who had been acting for the city, but a band of unidentified men, said to have been prominent citizens of Bishop. He was taken out of Bishop and warned not to return. The Inyo county grand jury investigated it but returned no indictments.

Since then committees from Los Angeles have conferred with Owens Valley representatives but no proposal by the city has been accepted, although local officials have stated progress in a solution has been made.

The chief proposal by the city guaranteed sufficient water to keep 30,000 acres in the valley under cultivation. This was ridiculed by several valley organizations, including a federation of women's clubs, which asked the representatives of the Los Angeles Board of Public Service Commissioners to "Step aside and let some one else try" if that was the best proposal they could make. One irrigation ditch company, however, thanked the commissioners and expressed a willingness to confer further.

The counter-proposal by valley residents that the city should buy all remaining water rights at a price to be determined by arbitration was rejected by the city. The latest outbreak is taken to indicate that residents of the valley intend to force acceptance of this proposal by retaining control of the open spillway.

EX-KAISER'S THREATS OF SUICIDE TOLD

Pathetic Letter Written to Von Buelow Revealed in Book on Germany

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—A story of how former Emperor William, once threatened to commit suicide is revealed in a book written by Theodor Wolff, editor of the Tageblatt, dealing with Germany's policy during the Chancellorship of Von Buelow.

Emperor William had, in 1905, induced Emperor Nicholas of Russia to sign a treaty of alliance which pledged Germany to aid Russia in Europe, but not in Asia. Von Buelow disapproved of the treaty and orally tendered his resignation, Thereupon William wrote Von Buelow a pathetic letter in which he said the Chancellor's resignation gave him such a shock that he had collapsed and he feared he would have a serious nervous illness.

In the letter the Kaiser reminded Von Buelow that to please him he had ridden in Tangier on a strange horse, notwithstanding his crippled left arm and that the horse had nearly killed him.

"I rode among the Spanish anarchists," said this letter, "because you wanted me to and because your policy would benefit by it; and now after I have done all this you wish to leave me . . . If you now disavow your policy, I should be made to look ridiculous, which I cannot survive."

Then comes a postscript saying: "The morning after the receipt of your resignation you will not find your Kaiser alive. Think of my poor wife and children."

Von Buelow, according to Wolff, finally withdrew his resignation and the writer declares his reward came three years later, when the Kaiser dismissed him with the remark, "I have chased the scoundrel away."

KENOSHA NOT TO BE "RENO OF WISCONSIN"

CHAMBER ASKS SECRECY ON TAX

National Body of Commerce Also Favors Rail Board

Privately Owned Merchant Marine Recommended

Survey of All Waterways in Country is Urged

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Immediate repeal of the law permitting publication of income tax returns and establishment of a tax commission to simplify regulations was urged by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States today in a statement outlining its position on national economic questions presented to President Coolidge.

The chamber also asked for extension of the budget system, a continuation of the principles embodied in the railroad labor board, establishment of an immigration commission to recommend and administer legislation and development of waterways.

Publication of income-tax returns, the statement declared, "violates the good faith which the government owes to its citizens, to protect them in their private affairs."

The Howell-Barkley bill, proposing abolishment of the railroad labor board, was assailed as a "long step backwards."

"Without assuming to pretend that the present construction or composition of the Railroad Labor Board is in all respects perfect," the statement declared "the chamber finds that the principles embodied in the labor provisions of the Transportation Act establishing the board are sound."

So as to permit the activities it advocates in trade associations, the chamber said it would appeal to Congress for minor amendments to the Sherman Act.

It pointed out that to visualize before the public as well as the government, the actual business status of trade associations, the membership of the chamber, through a referendum vote, had made the following recommendations:

"Statistics of capacity, production, stock and sales, and statistics of actual prices in closed transactions, should be collected by a trade association for its industry or breach of commerce.

"Such statistics should be distributed without any comment or interpretation which could induce or facilitate concerted action on the part of members.

"The statistics should be made as available to the trade association and the public agencies as to the members of the association."

On the merchant marine question, the chamber committed itself to "policies of subsidy, mail, subvention, private as against government ownership and operation and most strongly against government operation in competition with private operation which depressed private investment and initiative in this important field."

The chamber proposed in connection with the development of inland waterways that Congress be asked to detail army engineers to make "a comprehensive survey of the waterways of the country as a whole in their relation to other transportation agencies, and to recommend a definite plan and schedule of priorities for waterway development."

COOLIDGE'S FARM QUIZ DUE TODAY

Commission Will Meet With President Before it Begins Deliberations

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The inquiry proposed by President Coolidge into farming conditions will get under way here tomorrow when the commission he has appointed will assemble in his office.

The President will tell the commission of nine members his purpose in instituting the investigation—to have formulated a program for permanent stabilization of agriculture—and it is expected the organization immediately will open its work.

A course of procedure has not been decided upon. The meetings will be conducted with the cooperation of the Department of Agriculture. The agricultural situation was discussed last night by Mr. Coolidge with three members of the commission who were his guests on a week-end trip aboard the yacht Mayflower. These members were R. W. Thatcher of Geneva, N. Y.; W. C. Coffey of the University of Minnesota, and William M. Jardine, president of Kansas Agricultural College.

cott," declared Roscoe D. Jones, attorney for the East Bay Milk Producers' Association. "The situation may inconvenience the public but the United States is still a free country and there is no law which can force a man to produce something on which he can make no profit."

"There is nothing to prevent him from quiting any activity. The producers are going to the wall financially at the present price of milk, so they are simply going to quit and there is no law that can stop them."

Officials of the Mutual Creamery asserted that they were making regular deliveries to stores. It was admitted that the supply was running short and would not hold out long.

"Invalids, infants and children of tender age, in fact, all those whose conditions require milk for the maintenance of health will not be allowed to suffer as a result of the controversy between milk distributors and producers now going on in the East Bay region."

This was the declaration today of Dr. George E. Ebright, president of the State Board of Health.

In discussing the matter of milk famine in the cities of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, the health board official said, today, that as matters now stand there would be no official cognizance taken of the present milk war.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Young Seymour Gilbert, Agent-General ... erations under the Dawes Plan, is having his first run-in with able politicians regarding reparations.

Mr. Gilbert's letter addressed to the German Minister of Finance, Herr Luther, stating that France and Great Britain are not entitled to collect a tax of 26 per cent on German imports, clashes directly with the view point of Downing street and Quai D'Orsay and it is not believed the French will surrender their contentions without a struggle.

Mr. Gilbert states he will not credit to reparations any sums the German government pays to exporters to defray this 26 per cent tax, insisting that all sums of this kind must be paid by the agent-general for reparations—himself—in conformity with the Dawes plan, and quotes the decision of the transfer committee on October 31.

Today Sir Malcolm Delevingne insisted on Great Britain's right to investigate all opium exportations, even if they were accompanied by official certificates.

REFUSE TO SIGN

Publicly admitting that it was Japanese officials who were implicated in the opium scandals, Mr. Sugimura, the chief Japanese delegate today, amid tense silence, read a statement in which he declared that nations often are blind to their own faults but quick to see the defects in others. ... added that no international accord was possible when mutual confidence was lacking; hence he regretted that Japan could sign no accord arranged in Geneva.

"When all nations are able to see themselves in the looking-glass we may attain real international co-operation."

A long silence ensued, with all the delegates flushed of face and wearing worried looks. One of the numerous Japanese delegates did not serve to allay the panicky atmosphere when he strode to the brass benches and distributed a statement.

POLICY PERILED

The statement set forth that Japan had come to Geneva earnestly desirous of signing an accord to stop opium smuggling but she was convinced the principle of gradual and effective suppression provided for in The Hague convention had not been followed satisfactorily. Furthermore, the system of import certificates constituted by the League of Nations had not been recognized by several countries, thereby imperiling Japan's fundamental policy, which, it was declared, was that of having abolished all unjust descrimination between nations.

Sir Malcolm Delevingne denied that he had attacked the Japanese government; he insisted he had merely cited incidents which justified Great Britain in preventing trans-shipment of opium on steamers which used British ports.

UNITED STATES WATCHED IN GENEVA

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Nov. 16.—With the international conferences on Far Eastern opium problem ending tonight sensationally, all the delegations are discussing with eagerness the probable attitude of the United States at the second and more important international opium conference, which will begin tomorrow.

So surcharged with suspicion is the atmosphere at Geneva in consequence of charges and counter-charges pivoting around the contention that countries are engaging in opium traffic to fatten their treasuries, that few, if any, official American delegations will have gone into a conference more full of potential difficulties than that which opens its sessions tomorrow. But the American position on opium and narcotic drugs is held by the delegates generally to be so disinterested that there seems a general expectation that the American delegation of five, headed by Representative Stephen G. Porter, will be able to bring something helpful out of Geneva.

The preliminary conference accomplished neither of the objects for which it was convoked. It failed to form any estimate of the amount of opium required for smoking purposes or any estimate of the date when the importation of opium for smoking could be brought to an end and it took no measures to curb the illicit production of opium in China.

UNION SESSIONS TO START TODAY

Delegates Will Represent All North America

Reelection of Gompers by Federation Predicted

[TELEGRAPH DISPATCH]

EL PASO (Tex.) Nov. 16.—Two conventions in which the United States, Mexico and Canada will be represented by organized labor will open here tomorrow morning at 10 a.m. Tomorrow afternoon the delegates of the Mexican Federation of Labor will join with the international session and join the American Federation in a joint meeting.

The opening session will be addressed by Mayor R. M. Dudley and Congressman Claude Hudspeth. Samuel Gompers is expected to follow the speakers by giving the keynote speech of the convention, which will probably set the pace for the matters which will come before the conference.

Legislation to be put before the United States Congress will probably play a large part in the convention proceedings.

SEVERE CRITICISM

Many leading labor union officials are severe in their criticism of the way in which the American Federation of Labor permits itself to be used by the Socialist and radical elements during the present campaign. Many of these officials say that if the La Follette forces had kept their activities confined to a dozen States where the Coolidge chances were the strongest, instead of trying to conquer the entire country, they would have succeeded in the center of the political stage.

The leaders point out that success of electing Labor candidates in the United States would have aided materially in enabling the Federation to present a program to Congress and with an effective bloc which how prevented the enactment of legislation they oppose.

Many efforts will be made to change the convention to a close one by this fact, so that delegates will have here to attend the inauguration of Gen. Calles as President of Mexico.

OPEN-SHOP MOVE

The open-shop movement will come in for its share of discussion and is predicted to be one of the leading matters to be taken up by the convention. The situation in California will be discussed with the idea to take strong action in the matter, it is stated. Frank X. Bowles and C. T. Cramp will represent the British Trade Union Congress and John Colbert will represent Canadian labor. Herr Grassman, vice-president of the German Federation of Trades Unions, arrived here today from Berlin to represent that organization at the conference.

The election of Samuel Gompers as president of the Federation will probably come up and on the eve of the opening of the convention it is predicted that he will be again elected to this position by a unanimous vote of all members.

Seven boat loads of barnacles were scraped from the bottom of a ship which arrived a voyage of six months from Liverpool.

CORNS: And Their Cure

CEREMONIES AT YOSEMITE

New Park Building Dedicated, Corner-stones Laid for Museum and Postoffice

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YOSEMITE, Nov. 16.—The new national park headquarters were officially established this morning with the unfurling of the national emblem over the location chosen by the National Park Service. The flag raising opened a dedication program which included the laying of the corner-stones for the new park museum and the new postoffice and the acceptance of the new park service administration building.

Director Stephen T. Mather of the National Park Service, opened the dedication program in front of the new administration building by delivering a speech of acceptance of the new building to an audience of 100 prominent visitors and several hundred local residents. During his talk, Director Mather outlined the development of Yosemite National Park and touched on the needs of better understanding of national parks by every citizen of our country.

"The national parks are the playgrounds of the people and I trust that every person gathered here will carry this message to his community and create a desire on the part of every American to see the national parks," he said.

CORNER-STONE IS LAID

The laying of the corner-stone of Yosemite's museum on a site immediately adjoining the new administration building was the next event on the program. Ansel F. Hall, chief park naturalist, briefly reviewed the beginning of a museum in Yosemite National Park by himself five years ago, starting with a small collection of early park relics. The speaker related how the museum rapidly won friends, who sent interesting historical exhibits that soon necessitated the original museum being replaced by a more adequate structure. During the convention of the American Association of Museums in Washington, D. C., last February, Director Mather in an address before that body suggested that possibly some private sources might erect a museum in one of the national parks, hoping that Congress might see the need and provide a museum for every national park. Members of the American Association of Museums took Director Mather's suggestion to the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial Trustees, who appropriated $70,500, of which $50,000 was to be spent in erection of this building, whose corner-stone was laid this morning.

James E. Power, Postmaster of San Francisco, officially designated by Postmaster-General New as special representative, in company with Director Mather, led the spectators across to the south end of the plaza, where Mr. Power laid the corner-stone of Yosemite's $40,000 postoffice building. Postmaster Power told his listeners that he little realized the unsatisfactory postoffice facilities existing in Yosemite National Park until this visit. "The tremendous volume of business handled by this national park demands adequate equipment to serve better the thousands of Americans that annually make Yosemite their playground. Therefore, it is a pleasure to see the work on this new postoffice building commence. I feel confident that the members of local postoffice department will render the same satisfactory service to the general public as have the representatives of the National Park Service.

Arthur C. Pillsbury, who by his photographic floral studies has won wide recognition and honorary appointment as Ranger Naturalist by the National Park Service, invited the assembled dedication day audience to his magnificent studio now in process of construction.

The dedication party was met by Supt. W. B. Lewis of Yosemite National Park and his assistants. The visitors were driven up New El Portal Road, which will link up with the highway now being built up Merced River Canyon by the State Highway Commission. Arriving in Yosemite, the party was taken to the Sentinel Hotel for luncheon, after which they were assigned to their rooms in the hotel and Rangers' Club.

CHIEF CALLS DANCE

Among those assigned to the Rangers' Club were William A. Brackenridge, vice-president of the Southern California Edison Company and wife, and Albert W. Atwood, nationally known magazine writer, who is accompanying Mr. Mather on his visit to Yosemite.

At a dance given in the government pavilion last evening, Pete Hilliard, full-blooded Yosemite Indian and grandson of Chief Tenaya, last ruling Indian chief, called the various steps in an old-fashioned square dance.

Other arrivals included Dr. William Frederick Bade, president of the Sierra Club; Frank Smith, newly appointed Warden of San Quentin prison; Harry Luttens, secretary to Gov. Richardson; Newton Drury, president of the Save the Redwoods League; H. W. Child of Yellowstone National Park and Irving Martin, publisher of the Stockton Record and member of the Railroad Commission.

INCREASE IN FORT UNITS IS PROPOSED

Gen. Coe Asks Trebling of Coast Artillery; Says Training is Hampered

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The enlisted strength of the Coast Artillery Corps for harbor defense, anti-aircraft artillery, railway artillery and heavy tractor artillery, should be more than trebled and the overseas garrison should be almost doubled, Maj-Gen. F. M. Coe, Chief of Coast Artillery, said today in his annual report to the Secretary of War. The Coast Artillery Corps was short more than 19,000 men for the efficient manning of its various activities, he said, and its present strength of 12,026 the lowest since 1907, should be raised to 13,583.

According to Gen. Coe, the personnel manning the harbor defenses should be raised from 3403, its present strength, to 9780; the anti-aircraft artillery also should be augmented from 1323 to 6100; the railway artillery should be developed from 426 to 2152, while overseas garrisons should be expanded from the present strength to 6090 to 10,000 men.

Gen. Coe said the training of Coast Artillery troops, within the continental limits of the United States, and the instruction of officers corps, organized reserves and National Guard during the last year had been "handicapped by the limited personnel available, and, in some cases, by lack of necessary material, especially harbor boats and certain anti-aircraft material."

MATE'S MAIL IS BASIS OF WIFE'S SUIT

Too Many Letters from Women, Charged in Plea for Divorce

Frank S. Edmiston must have been one of the principal supporters of the postal service, according to the divorce complaint of his wife, Gertrude L. Edmiston.

"Get lots of mail," invites the caption over an advertisement frequently seen in "Home and Fireside" magazines, inserted supposedly to obtain names for commercial mailing lists. An "action" picture shows a man staggering away from a postoffice window loaded down with mail. Edmiston could have posed for the picture, if his wife means what she says in her complaint and can prove it.

For at receiving mail Edmiston was without a peer, as described in his wife's suit. Selections from his correspondence were submitted.

"Dear Pal," wrote one who signed "Mizpah," Mrs. Edmiston relates. To "Anna" he was "Dear Heart;" to Violet Grover, "Daddy Dear," she said. A certain "Gladys" wrote burning love notes, and "Betty" sent him a sweater with an explanation that it was intended "to keep your little back and tummy warm," the complaint recited.

But it was a letter from Mrs. Lenore Waters that upset Mrs. Edmiston most, she said. This epistle contained such torrid reading that the surprised wife was shocked into a trip to the hospital, she declared. A long list of women's addresses was found in Edmiston's clothing once, she asserted.

WOUNDED MAN HELD AS SUSPECT

Said to Resemble Bandit Who Was Shot in Attack on Service Station

Shot through the abdomen and unable to explain his predicament, Robert Markwood, 25 years of age, was arrested early yesterday by Detectives Brown and Rosselli and held on suspicion of robbery. He was partially identified by E. N. Chase of 616 East Fifty-first street, as the man who attempted to hold up the service station at 5100 South Park avenue.

Chase told the detectives that Markwood looked like the man who pulled a revolver on him and ordered him to hand over the money in the service-station till. Chase said that he answered the order with a shot from his revolver and that he saw the bandit stagger away.

The police were summoned to Markwood's bedside at 1206 Ingraham street when Mrs. W. G. Robinson, the landlady, called Dr. H. Gordon Bayless to attend his wounds. The doctor summoned the police when he discovered that a gunshot was responsible. Upon arrival at the bedside the officers ordered the man removed to the Receiving Hospital. There he was questioned and is asserted to have said that he could recall no happenings of the evening except that he was intoxicated.

Pinch Your Nerves Spoil Your Health!

You would not do this intentionally—that's true! But do you realize that you are very liable to pinch your nerves without knowing it? Seldom does a pinched nerve cause pain in the spine. Thousands of people slip, fall, over-exert themselves and in many ways cause the small bones of the spine to become displaced. Shocks to the body are registered in the backbone.

MAE PARSONS, D.C., Ph.C.

CAUSE

Do you know that 31 pairs of spinal nerves pass out through the openings between the spinal bones on either side of the spinal column? These nerves carry the vital force of health to the various parts of the body. Falls, twists or shocks often displace these spinal bones—thus closing openings through which nerves pass, thereby shutting down the flow of vital force to some part or parts.

EFFECT

Eventually the organs to which these nerves lead begin to "act up" more or less, and you complain of stomach trouble, heart trouble, nervousness, or something else.

THE ANSWER

Can this flow of vital force be re-established? Yes! That is exactly what we do. An X-Ray picture of your spine is the only way of knowing the EXACT position of displaced spinal bones. We then, by hand, gently adjust these small bones of the back so that the full amount of vital force can again reach the organs from which it was withheld—health being restored as the result.

HOW ABOUT YOUR SPINE?

The picture at the right shows how bad a spine may become if not taken care of in time. Here is the case of a man who had a slight displacement (weak spot) in his spine. He had a bad fall and the "weak spot" gave way to such an extent that he became paralyzed from the waist down. Note how badly out of the straight line position the vertebrae are. Fortunately chiropractic adjustments restored the use of his limbs.

PANAMA HAS NO CRIME PROBLEM

Zone Inhabitants Abide by Laws; Courts Idle

Juvenile Offenses Are Bulk of Law Business

Model Hospitals Are Pride of Isthmus People

BY ALMA WHITAKER

[SPECIAL FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE]

PANAMA, Nov. 16.—Almost no crime news in the Panama Star-Herald. And this paper is printed in Panama City, in both Spanish and English, and is not under Zone jurisdiction. It is the only newspaper in English. So I had a chat with Judge J. W. Blackburn, special judge in the Canal Zone, to hear how it happens.

There are four American Federal judges here, appointed direct from Washington. Two magisterial districts—one for Cristobal on the Atlantic side and one for Balboa on the Pacific side. Then there is a higher one with jurisdiction over the whole Zone, and this Special Judge Blackburn, who officiates whenever anyone is sick or on leave, or for special cases.

Judge Blackburn has been here eight years. His wife is with him and they have no children. He looks healthy and jolly—no tropical ennui noticeable.

IT'S DIFFERENT HERE

"Well, there really is very little crime here," he told me, "and that is chiefly because most of the natives in the Zone are West Indians from Jamaica and other British possessions. They are a gentle, courteous, law-abiding lot—and used to the British certainty of justice. That makes a big difference. Any white woman can go anywhere here—even in Panama City—at any time of the day or night and would never receive anything but the utmost courtesy."

I can vouch for that. I have poked around in all sorts of queer places myself, outside of the Zone as well as in, and found those very black West Indians quite charming.

Anyone arrested in the Zone, whether Panaman or white, is dealt with in the American Zone courts. And any American citizen misbehaving and arrested in the Panama republic, or any of the other little republics round here is dealt with by native courts.

"We do what we can for 'em," says the judge, "but it isn't much. No pull can help them here. So Americans find it desirable to behave decently. They don't like the native jails," he grinned.

SERIOUS CRIME RARE

Native offenders in the Canal Zone are rarely serious cases. Often it is just small boys who break the strict law for the protection of bird life.

"It seems a shame to send them to jail," says the judge, "but we have no juvenile court or reform school. But anyway, our jails are model and sanitary institutions and the children thus corrected don t come in for any vicious contacts. The Panama government is, however, planning to establish a reform school—that is where they need it, and we haven't any real use for one on the Zone."

I asked about women prisoners.

"Quite remarkably few. But those we have are pitiful—usually girls of from 12 to 16, early matured little prostitutes, who try to get out to the Army posts on pay day. But, thank goodness, we have that pretty well in hand, now, too," said the judge.

It appears that women prisoners in the republic jails are also on this sad order—but the Panama republic is co-operating very earnestly with the Zone authorities on this subject.

Only two cases in the courts while I have been here—one a man charged with embezzling $92, and the other an ex-Zone policeman who had married an American girl under age—in Panama City. The latter was dismissed as being outside the jurisdiction of the Zone court.

NO RENO STUFF

Remarkably few divorce cases—considering how easy it must be for spouses to get tired of each other in the tropics. But then the divorce law is tighter here—no Reno stuff. A divorce can only be obtained on grounds of cruelty, unfaithfulness or desertion, and then only when the parties have lived together in the Zone.

The Zone has no City Council—everything is under the direct jurisdiction of the Governor, now Mr. M. I. Walker, and until a week or two ago, Gov. J. S. Morrow. A quartermaster hired by the Governor is responsible for keeping the streets clean, for instance—and a jolly good job he makes of it. Few cities in the U.S.A. are as clean as these.

Judge Blackburn wanted the to be sure to eulogize the wonderful hospitals here—three fine American ones, and a brand new model one, the pride of the republic, erected by the Panamans. These are so important because they insure the finest health measures. People come to the Panama Hospital from all the Latin-American countries for the skilled treatment obtainable. United States doctors are in charge, men with international reputations in tropical diseases.

PANAMA HEALTHY

"It is through their efforts and amazing efficiency that Panama is such a healthy place for young children," said the judge. "You must have noticed what fine, healthy, rosy-cheeked youngsters we have in the Zone. But it doesn't do to keep them here after the age of puberty. This climate is not good for them then—they mature too fast. That's when we send our youngsters back to the States to school."

Panama ladies stick closely to the home, they never walk the streets, and never even read. One charming woman is Senora de Calvos, superintendent of public instruction for the Panama government. Her government sent her to Europe for nine years to be educated, and to fit her for this job. She attends the foreign conventions to represent Panama women—always at the instance of the men. There is absolutely no woman movement in Panama.

Yet these women have everything that we have—excepting only the vote. Laws are all in their favor, including divorce and property laws, and equal rights in their children. Senora de Calvos, who speaks several languages, wishes she could organize a club—Mrs. Catt tried hard to found a League of Women Voters here with her help—but Panama ladies positively, adamantly, decline to be interested.

FOUR HURT IN WRECK

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OMAHA, Nov. 16.—An automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bloom, Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olson of Lincoln were touring to Excelsior Springs overturned seventeen miles north of Atchison, Kan., injuring the two women so that they had to be removed to an Atchison hospital, where they still are. Mrs. Bloom and Mrs. Olson both suffered broken arms and were badly bruised, while the two men escaped with cuts and bruises. Mr Bloom is proprietor of the Bloom Sash and Door Fixtures Company, and Mr. Olson is a coal contractor.

HOMELESS TOTS GIVEN AUTO RIDES

Orphans Cheered by Native Sons and Daughters; Dance Benefit Planned

Automobile rides now are being furnished homeless children of Los Angeles county by the Native Sons and Native Daughters. The Central Committee on Homeless Children of the order has acquired a new touring car which is being used to extend to unfortunate tots some of the pleasures enjoyed by luckier children.

The order has been engaged in the work of finding homes for orphans since 1907, and has developed this activity into one of its most prominent objectives. Homes have thus far been found for more than 3000.

A benefit dance will be conducted by the Central Committee at 134 West Seventh street tomorrow night. An admission fee of 50 cents will be charged.

The constant, daily patter of tiny feet — added to the steady heavy tread of grown-ups—is bound to tell on ordinary floor paint.

But Mathews Treadover Floor Enamel enjoys being "stepped on"—its sturdy, "hard-over-night" surface forms an armor-like veneer between feet, furniture, etc., and the bare floor.

Mathews Treadover Floor Enamel preserves the floor wood—floors easily kept clean—frequent washings do not injure its high gloss and it shows no heel marks—is obtainable in nine colors.

Governor-Elect of Texas Has Time for Reflection

Must Become Public Speaker in New Office

Husband Basely Deserts; is Goin' Fishin'

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TEMPLE (Tex.) Nov. 16.—"I've brung in enough wood and water to last Ma a couple of weeks, and I'm off on a fishin' trip." former Gov. Ferguson told friends the day following the election of his wife as Governor.

Now that Mrs. Ferguson has won the final battle which will give her the distinction of being Governor of the largest State in the Union when her formal inauguration takes place January 20, many people still wonder just what part her husband will play in the administrative affairs of the chief executive's office. Mr. Ferguson has repeatedly asserted that he would be content to "keep the home fires burning" while his wife sat in her office in the Capitol building, but the belief is quite general that he will find time between "toting in wood and water" and his other household chores to act as unofficial assistant to his wife.

It is expected that one of the first acts of the Legislature when it meets early next January will be to remove the impeachment verdict against Mr. Ferguson and restore him to full citizenship. If this is done he would be eligible for appointment to office by his Governor-wife, but the nepotism law would stand in the way of his holding a job in her own office.

OUT OF RETIREMENT

Notwithstanding the fact that Mrs. Ferguson kept in retirement during the pre-election campaign, she has accepted invitations to deliver a few public addresses between now and the time she takes office. It is said to be her ambition to overcome her natural timidity and become a public speaker.

She realizes the fact that as Governor she will be constantly called upon to attend conventions and be present on other public occasions and make talks. The suggestion has been made that on such occasions as these her husband will be able to render her valuable service. As a rip-snorting public speaker Ferguson has no equal in Texas. He would function ideally in the role of unofficial "greeter" of the Governor's office, it is pointed out.

Mrs. Ferguson is looking forward to the Governorship with no little fear and trepidation, and she does not hesitate to admit that when she thinks of the great responsibilities of her stewardship of the State's affairs she is almost overwhelmed with the magnitude and seriousness of the multitudinous tasks that are before her.

Pending the time of her inauguration she intends to make a thorough study of the various departments and institutions. She will rely largely upon Mr. Ferguson's knowledge of the prison system in arriving at decisions as to how she will deal with the several important problems that will be met with in that branch of public service, it is stated.

TAX PLEDGES MADE

She is pledged to carry out a platform that calls for a reduction of taxes, the abolishment of several State departments and bureaus and a general retrenchment of expenses. It is thought at this time that she will have the sympathetic assistance of the Legislature in doing the things that she has promised the people to do.

In the closing speeches of his campaign Ferguson was exceedingly bitter in his attacks on the Ku Klux Klan. He declared that "the dern Klan controlled the affairs of the State College of Industrial Arts," which is a largely attended school for girls, and that when his wife became Governor "she would fire every Klan member of the faculty."

It is a well-known fact that many of the heads of departments and employees in the State capital belong to the Klan. It is expected that Mrs. Ferguson as Governor will do all she can to oust them from office. She has the appointing, directly and indirectly, of several hundred officials and employees and it is said that the Klan test will be applied to every person who may seek a position in her administration.

London Rector Levies Fine On Hesitant Couples; Bridegroom Pays

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The pastor at St. Giles Church, Camberwell, has waited too often for fussy brides who arrived late at the church. Now brides are fined for being late. The fines are at the rate of $10 an hour, or 17 cents for every minute the ceremony is delayed.

One bride recently was late fifteen minutes and it cost the bridegroom $2.50. A fee is also asked for "special weddings," when the double gate leading to the church is swung open with pomp. That costs $1 extra.

OREGON COUNTY TO BE CHILD HEALTH FIELD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Marion county, Oregon, has been chosen as the field of the fourth demonstration in the Commonwealth Fund Child Health Program. This announcement was made today by Barry C. Smith, chairman, and Courtenay Dinwiddie, director of the Child Health Demonstration Committee. The demonstration will cover a period of five years. It is the first of the demonstrations in the Far West. The program will begin early in 1925. The three other demonstrations already under way are in Athens, Ga.; Rutherford county, Tennessee, and Fargo, N. D.

VIENNA, Nov. 16.—Kathie Schratt, the actress who was for many years the intimate friend of Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria, has been forced by straightened financial circumstances to return to the stage and it is announced that she has contracted with a local theater to reappear during the winter season. The former favorite of the Austrian Emperor has sold all of the costly presents, including her villa and furniture, given her by her royal admirer, it is reported.

Descendant of Little Corporal Wins Election

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Nov. 16.—Had Napoleon Bonaparte been able to establish a dynasty in Europe, the man who now is treasurer of Oklahoma county might be king of Holland. E. B. Bonaparte is the son of Eugene Bonaparte, who was the grandson of Joseph Bonaparte placed upon the Dutch throne by edict of the Emperor of France.

"The victory I have just won pleases me as much as any battlefield victory ever pleased Napoleon," said the newly-elected county treasurer.

Bonaparte is a nephew of the late Charles Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States under President Roosevelt. He homesteaded a quarter section in Oklahoma just exactly 100 years after his distinguished ancestor sold Oklahoma to the United States, together with other territory included in the Louisiana Purchase.

ARRANGE PLANS OF GOODS BUYERS' FAIR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Announcement has been made from the headquarters of the National Merchandise Buyers' Fair, to be held in Grand Central Palace, February 7 to 14, that the first of the four floors to be used will be devoted exclusively to a "Made in America Textile Exhibition." The National Retail Drygoods Association and the National Council of Traveling Salesmen's Association, the two organizations under whose auspices the fair will be held, have decided to open this feature of the exhibition to the public.

The three upper floors will be restricted to buyers and others identified with the products on display and the trades represented among the exhibits.

SECOND THOUGHT OF DOG MAKES TROUBLE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Nov. 16.—George Walker, 71 years of age, was a burglar away back half a century ago. He thought he had forgotten the pastime, but when he was hungry he broke into the kitchen of a home. That is, he really didn't break in. The dog thought he was an old friend of the family and let him in. But, discovering its error, the dog wouldn't let him out, and its barks woke up the family. At least, Walker blamed the dog for his troubles when he faced the judge.

COOLIDGE KEEPS FOREIGN POLICY

Congress Message Will be in Accord With Speeches

Expected to Urge Action on German Treaty

Spokesman for White House Makes Statement

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Any recommendations President Coolidge may make in his message to the forthcoming session of Congress regarding foreign affairs will be along the lines of policy laid down in his several addresses prior to and during the election campaign, it was learned at the White House today. While it was stated that President Coolidge declined at this time to make any statement as to what he will say to Congress on foreign affairs, it was pointed out that he had set forth his views on various international questions fully in his several speeches, and the White House spokesman stated flatly that the President's views on these questions have not changed.

In view of the importance attaching to the German commercial treaty, inasmuch as negotiations on a dozen or more similar treaties with other countries are being held up pending action by the Senate, it is expected that the President will urge early action by the Senate on this agreement, as well as upon the Turkish treaty.

CANADIAN QUESTION

The President is still strongly committed to the conclusion of an agreement with Canada on the question of the development of the St. Lawrence waterways project, but the matter now rests with a joint commission of Canadians and Americans, which is working out details of the plan, and it is believed that nothing can be done from this end until the commission has reported and a treaty has been concluded specifically defining the manner and means of co-operation in the project.

Some weeks ago the State Department addressed a note to the Canadian government, through the British Embassy here, suggesting that if the Canadian government insists upon discussing the diversion of water from the Great Lakes by the Chicago drainage canal, it would also be advisable to consider at the same time the excessive diversion of water power on the part of Canada at Niagara Falls. To this note the Canadian government has replied, and it is understood that the views of the American government in this respect have not entirely been met, since the matter remains a subject of negotiation.

SOVIET RUSSIA

The White House statement of today was taken to mean that the administration's view regarding recognition of soviet Russia had been unaffected by recent developments in the relations of the Bolshevists with the rest of the world.

In connection with reports attributing to Stresemann the view that the United States and Germany were daily coming to a more friendly understanding the White House spokesmen said that President Coolidge believes the United States is constantly improving its understanding with virtually all the nations of the world.

Governors Will Open Parley in Florida Today

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Nov. 16. Governors of various States were arriving here tonight for the opening tomorrow of the sixteenth annual Governors' conference to be in session two days. Miles C. Riley of Madison, Wis., secretary of the conference, said tonight that as many as twenty-four Governors probably would attend the conference.

The program calls for four sessions, one tomorrow morning and another tomorrow afternoon. Conservatin of natural resources and taxation were the subjects for discussion tomorrow. Tuesday morning the Governors will consider measures to safeguard State highways and prevent grade crossing accidents.

Officers will be elected late tomorrow afternoon in an executive session, at which the treasurer's report also will be heard.

ARMY CRUSHES SPANISH REVOLT

Catalan Uprising Put Down by Iron Method

Province Aspires to State of Independence

Joins Republicans in Move to Overthrow Military

BY VINCENT SHEEHAN

[BY CABLE—EXCLAIVE DISPATCH]

CERBERE (France) Nov. 16.—The Republican and Separatist movement in the Barcelona district has been absolutely crushed for the time being.

Since the outbreak on the 5th inst., when a handful of fanatics spoiled all the plans for the whole movement by their premature action, Gen. Barrera, captain-general of the district, has conducted a campaign of pitiless repression. Up to today more than 300 arrests have been made in Barcelona, in addition to two executions and eight court martials with life imprisonment as the verdict.

Gen. Barrera has a force of 60,000 infantry and cavalry to subdue the province. In addition to these he can command the cruiser Rio De La Plata, which arrived in Barcelona three days ago, and four destroyers which accompanied the cruiser. The forces of the civil ordinary uniformed police, as well as the secret police, also are at the disposal of the military dictatorship.

SEEK INDEPENDENCE

The province of Catalonia, with its entirely distinct language, claims the right to be governed by its own people in a sort of home-rule regime, which the Republicans, anxious to gain the support of this important industrial and commercial district—are ready and willing to grant. The result has been that the Republicans and Catalans Separatists, although radically different, in all essential points, have made an unholy alliance for the overthrow of the military despotism of Spain.

Secret pamphlets bearing the names of Blasco Ibanes and Miguel De Unamuno have been circulated in Barcelona and throughout Catalonia during the last fortnight. These circulars promise the Catalans full State rights—home rule in full under a Republican government. Enormous impetus has been given the Republican movement by this agitation, and udoubtedly Catalonia will support the Republican revolution whenever it comes.

However, such a revolution can never start in Catalonia itself, according to best informed political observers in Barcelona. Catalonia has been under suspicion too long. Every town in the Province is heavily garrisoned by well-equipped troops, who are more than willing to fire on the population any time there is sufficient provocation. The troops are entirely Castilian or Galician, with all the inherited Spanish contempt for the Catalans.

According to the officials of the Eldiluvio, a Republican daily newspaper in Barcelona, which is still appearing, although with large blank spaces left by the censors' destroying pencil, the Republican party in Catalonia has 300,000 adherents. This figure is possible, but it does not indicate the actual strength of Republicanism.

REBELS UNORGANIZED

It means only 300,000 unorganised, leaderless men, without arms, who can neither vote nor speak in public nor express their opinions in newspapers, letters or by sign language. They are powerless, as so many insects against the heavily organized forces of military despotism.

One case is the recent arrest in Barcelona of Juan Joaquin Moroneo, who was convicted for having made disrespectful remarks about the government. He will expatiate this crime by one year's imprisonment in a Spanish jail.

Every hotel, cafe, theater and home is filled with spies, according to the time-honored system sanctified by Bolshevik Russia. The cases of those appearing before the court-martials indicate the extent of this spy system. The evidence on which accused persons are condemned is almost always from unexpected sources.

TO AID CRIPPLED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—St. Louis chapter American Red Cross has decided to re-establish an employment bureau here for handicapped persons. The bureau will be available to the blind and crippled, both civilian and veteran.

AID ASKED FOR CRIPPLE

Remarkable Case of Handicapped Youth Revealed; Work During Training Course Sought

What the State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation declares is one of the most remarkable cases to come to its attention of a man's fight against physical handicap resulted in an appeal being issued Saturday for assistance to the department in making an opportunity possible for the man.

The department is asking that a temporary job be given Jessie Hibler so that he can earn a living until he masters a trade in one of the State schools.

Hibler, who is 28 years of age, lost one of his legs through illness when he was 4. Five years later his parents died and since his ninth birthday he has made a living for himself despite his handicaps.

Over a period of years he attended grade school in St. Louis and at the same time sewed linings in shoes in a factory.

GRADES HIGH

A year ago he came to Southern California and recently was referred by the Y.M.C.A. to the State department where he has been examined. Hibler, among other things, was given the Therman group intelligence test.

Out of a possible total of 220 points for the test Hibler made 197, a figure that only has been equaled by 3.5 per cent of all who have taken the examination. H. D. Hicker, district supervisor of the department, declares that Hibler's results have been previously attained only by professional men and that the general average seldom goes above 100 points.

"In the face of his physical handicap and his lack of any home or social advantages Hibler's record of intelligence along general knowledge lines is one of the most remarkable the department has yet seen," Supervisor Hicker declared.

NEW CHAPTER

"We are satisfied that with six or eight months' training in a commercial school where he can learn expert stenography and bookkeeping a new chapter will be opened in his life.

"But as it is only possible for the State to supply vocational training Hibler must find employment during the time he goes to school. We are, therefore, appealing for work for him — clerical work without special training or a factory job where he may sit down to work." Supervisor Hicker may be reached at 1020 Pacific Finance Building or by telephone MEtropolitan 3811.

HOPE OF THIRD PARTY SINKING

Reconvening of Conference May be Wake

National Body to Set Date for Meeting Soon

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Instead of an occasion for rejoicing over the birth of the new progressive party, the adjourned convention of the Conference for Progressive Political Action may become a wake over its corpse.

Since the utter rout of La Follette forces in the recent Presidential election, hostile and conflicting groups which composed it have manifested such diverse purposes that formation of a permanent party appears to be exceedingly doubtful.

Before the conference that indorsed Senator Robert M. La Follette for President at Cleveland on July 4 adjourned, it adopted a resolution directing its national committee to reconvene the conference in January, 1925, for the purpose of effecting a permanent-party organization.

The national committee is to meet here soon to fix the time and place for this adjourned meeting. Cleveland probably will be selected as the place.

READY TO BREAK

Senator La Follette issued a brave statement from his Wisconsin farm saying he had "just begun to fight," but that by no means represents the sentiments of many of his followers.

For example, the Socialists, who profess to have contributed 1,500,000 votes of La Follette's total, or one-third, are reported as ready to break away and continue their own separate party organization.

Certain of the most influential Socialist leaders are now quoted as saying they made a mistake when they joined up with the La Follette movement, submerging their own identity and compromising their principals.

Instead of advocating and defending Socialist measures incorporated in their platform, both Senator La Follette and his running-mate, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, they charge, "laid down," permitting the barage attack of President Coolidge and the G.O.P. spellbinders to go unanswered.

LEADER BITTER

"Better far to have nominated Debs again on a straight Socialist platform and gone down fighting," remarked a bitterly disillusioned Socialist.

Regardless of what decision is made at the adjourned convention it therefore appears to be likely that the biggest single group will withdraw and, in 1928, nominate its own ticket.

The hardest blow to the prospect of forming a permanent national organization, however, was dealt by labor, both organized and unorganized.

Though indorsed by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, La Follette received only a comparatively small fraction of the labor union vote.

Certain persons close to La Follette headquarters have represented the Wisconsin Senator as feeling that he has been betrayed grievously. They say that on the basis of returns from New York, Chicago, St. Louis and other great labor centers, he is convinced that certain of the high-ups in the union ranks failed in good faith to carry into effect the Atlantic City indorsements. Others, he is reported as suspecting, deliberately "double-crossed" him and used their influence in behalf of either Coolidge or Davis.

BREACH WIDENS

The action of the Central Trades and Labor Council of Greater New York in switching its indorsement from La Follette to Davis in the last week of the campaign is evidence of such duplicity in La Follette's mind, his supporters say.

Only in Cleveland, which gave La Follette a plurality over Coolidge, did organized labor actually perform as promised, according to the prevailing La Follette view.

The conflicting action taken by organized labor and various farm organizations on the proposed child labor amendment to the United States Constitution is widening the breach between these two elements in the La Follette movement, making less likely their uniting in the same party.

Union labor, led by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is vigorously urging ratification of the progosal as submitted by Congress. Farm organizations, charging it would place an unfair restriction on help farm boys are able to give to their fathers, are as strenuously opposing ratification.

As a matter of fact, certain La Follette men who, six weeks ago were most zealous in demanding formation of a new party to "carry on" after election, are despairing now. The fates, they think, have conspired to make the project difficult, if not impossible, and they are ready to "throw up the sponge."

Child Kidnaped; Woman Victim of Abductors

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Lucille Maltis, 10 years of age, was kidnaped from in front of her home in Blue Island, a suburb, today by two women and a man. Witnesses said the girl struggled to free herself, but was subdued by the women and driven away in an automobile. No motive for the abduction could be learned.

Earlier today Mrs. Esther Anderson, 24 years of age, returned home after having been forcibly taken from her automobile last night by five men. Her husband, who was with her at the time, notified the police and several squads of officers swept the South Side in search of the abducters, who, Mrs. Anderson reported, had attacked her and stripped her of several pieces of jewelry. She was removed to a hospital in a serious condition.

FIGHT FOR 1928 NOMINATION ON

Major Democratic Factions Girding for Fray

Smith, Brennan and Taggart Meeting is Beginning

First Battle Will be Fought on Shaver Successor

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. — The meeting of Gov. Al Smith of New York with George E. Brennan, Democratic national committeeman for Illinois, and former Senator Tom Taggart of Indiana of French Lick, Ind., last week is generally regarded by the politicians as the first council of the approaching war for supremacy in the Democratic party.

The two major factions of the party—McAdoo and anti-McAdoo—are again facing each other as they did in the New York convention and girding for the fray. The struggle for the 1928 nomination already is beginning, it being assumed that McAdoo is even now a potential candidate and that Al Smith now is determined to go after the prize with a vengeance.

The first battle will be fought soon over the selection of a chairman of the National Committee to succeed Clem Shaver, who presided over the late Democratic fiasco and is blamed by many important Democratic leaders for the disaster to a considerable degree. Mr. Shaver is to retire soon by common consent and upon his successor will devolve the responsibility of reorganizing the party.

SMITH FOR HAGUE

Gov. Smith, Mr. Brennan and their associates are said to favor National Committeeman Frank Hague of New Jersey for chairman, while the McAdoo faction leans to Committeeman Homer Cummings of Connecticut. Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi has been suggested as a possible compromise.

Both the McAdoo and Smith factions are agreed that the party must throw overboard the last remnant of conservatism and become rampantly liberal if it is to continue the chief opposition to the Republican party and that it must wax fairly radical if it is to attract back the labor union and other radical Democrats who deserted to La Follette.

The McAdoo following think that their leader with his asserted hold on the Railroad Brotherhoods is the logical candidate to effect the reabsorption of the La Follette party. McAdoo would have the party remain dry and calculate victory on a basis of the South and West as was achieved by his father-in-law in 1916. Mr. Brennan plans to present Gov. Smith as a liberal, if not radical, and will urge the party to go frankly wet with a view to winning with the wet East and traditionally Democratic, though dry, South.

PROHIBITION ISSUE

By the wet Democrats, the misfortunes of the Jeffersonian party are attributed mainly to the failure to take the wet side of the prohibition argument with the bone-dry Republican party. They were convinced that even Davis could have beaten Coolidge had he come out for beer and light wine even at the eleventh hour. They sent an emissary to induce Davis to make such a declaration a month before the election. The emissary reported that Mr. Davis said he was not adverse to doing so as a last resort but that he did not deem it necessary. Mr. Davis was of the opinion, the wet leaders were informed, that La Follette would carry enough Western States to throw the election into the House, where the Democratic candidate was confident he would be chosen President.

Whether the Smith or the McAdoo faction gains control of the party, there is doubt that the debacle on the 4th inst., left the popular New York Governor, the great outstanding figure in the party. He was the only Democratic candidate of importance who survived, and he survived magnificently. Four years ago he was beaten by a nose when his leader, Cox, lost New York by 1,000,000. That was called a prodigious performance but this time he outdid that record, winning handsomely although his leader, Davis, lost the State by nearly as many votes as did Cox.

TAMMANY MAYOR

Sam Koenig, New York Republican county chairman, concedes that Smith's great victory virtually assures the election of a Tammany Mayor of New York City next year. Tammany may decide to let Hylan have a third term, the Mayor having got on the Smith bandwagon in the late election.

The term of the New York Governor will expire in 1926, when his friends want him to go out and beat United States Senator Wadsworth, Republican, and go to the Senate as a preliminary to the bid for Presidential nomination in 1928.

The election of Smith to the Senate after three years as Governor, his friends believe, would commend him to the country as an able public servant, and make him a more formidable foe of McAdoo in 1928 than he was last summer.

The Democrats came out of the campaign with a deficit of $200,000, and Chairman Shaver is understood to be desirous of cleaning up this debt before retiring. The opposing factions are disposed to give him a reasonable time in which to do this, though not four years, when the auction of the 1928 convention to the highest bidder could be relied upon to pay off the deficit as it did this year.

Chicago Police Nab Scores in Gangster Drive

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Mayor William E. Dever's order to Chief of Police Morgan Collins to sweep the city clean of gunmen today had resulted in the arrest of about 150 suspicious characters. Twenty-five men carried revolvers and they were booked on charges of carrying concealed weapons. The others are being held until the police investigate their records.

TEACHERS IN BRITAIN MAY GO ON STRIKE

Proposed 10 Per Cent Cut Fought; Pay Now is Under Street Sweepers

BY JOHN STEELE

LONDON, Nov. 16.—One of the greatest meetings of school teachers held in London in many years yesterday voted to resist an attempt by the education authorities to cut salaries 10 per cent. Today's meeting at Kingsway Hall was attended by 2000 delegates, representing more than 600 associations, numbering 200,000 members throughout England, Scotland and Wales.

A nation-wide strike of teachers, in what corresponds to the American public schools, is believed probable if the fight against the 10 per cent reduction is lost. In the last school year the teachers voluntarily accepted a 5 per cent salary reduction in order to relieve the national financial difficulties.

The teachers pin their hopes of winning the present fight on the sympathy of the new Baldwin government which appears favorable to their demands. The salary reduction question is likely to be left to arbitration with Lord Burnham suggested as the arbitrator.

The teachers point out that even under the present scale the teacher is paid less than the janitor of a school building. The teacher starts at $610 a year with a prospect of $1700 after nineteen years' service. Under the present rate a teacher is paid less than road sweepers, policemen, porters or bus drivers.

QUARANTINE LIFTED FOR APACHE COUNTY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Nov. 16.—California has lifted its quarantine against Apache county, Ariz., with respect to cattle shipped westward for immediate slaughter. The quarantine has been in effect since March, 1921, when cattle scabies was brought into Northeastern Arizona from New Mexico. It is declared that the disease has had no new cases for the last year.

SKYSCRAPER IS CHAFING ROME

Mussolini's Plan for Eighty Stories Causes Stir

Many Fear City's Beauty is to be Threatened

Structure Would Outstrip America's Largest

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The report that Premier Mussolini of Italy has approved plans for an eighty-story skyscraper to be built in Rome has drawn much unfavorable comment. Architects feel that the massive splendor of the old Roman ruins and palaces would appear dwarfed by a monster building towering against the sky line.

Rome would have the distinction of possessing the greatest skyscraper of them all—a structure far more fearful and wonderful than New York's fifty-eight-story Woolworth Building or its fifty-story Metropolitan. But that Rome would be made more beautiful or really more impressive by its new possession is seriously questioned.

It is impossible that there should be any plan to introduce a number of such buildings into Rome and to make it a second New York. The Italian capital has plenty of space in which to develop, and does not heed to shoot up to the skies. The eighty-story building is apparently proposed as an isolated spectacle, a tour de force—if, indeed, the report is correct as to the height.

The fact is, European cities do not take kindly to the American invention of the tall building. In Europe, a six-story or eight-story commercial structure, about eighty feet tall, is regarded as a skyscraper and there are few of even this height. The tallest in Europe is in Vienna and is only eighty-two feet high. The limit for commercial buildings in London is eighty feet, in Rome it is seventy-eight feet, and in Paris, sixty-five.

No doubt Europeans realize that the tall building might be a profitable venture for builders and a convenience for tenants. It enables a great many more business concerns to operate close together than low, spread-out offices ever can. Nevertheless, even in crowded sections of big European cities, zoning regulations strictly limit the height of buildings.

Paris was alarmed by the skyscraper menace last spring, when a few eight and nine-story apartment houses were planned, and when work was really started on one of them. The controversy raged again when London authorized the construction of a building that would tower a few feet above the eighty-foot limit.

Many American architects are no more anxious for the skyscraper idea to emigrate to Europe than the Europeans are. Architects regard the tall building not merely as a modern development, but as an American development. The idea can not be casually transplanted to other lands.

NEW YORK'S SKYLINE

The skyline of New York, seen from the harbor, is one of the finest features of the city. The tall buildings have varied and beautiful outlines, and their towers fairly melt into the clouds. There are enough of them so that they do not look like monstrous freaks. They are a fitting part of Manhattan as the result of a peculiar combination of circumstances.

The crowded narrow island needed to make every inch of ground count. Business could not spread outward; it had to spread upward. Improvements in making steel came just in time to make this possible. The first skeleton steel structure was erected in Indianapolis in the seventies. It was four stories high. Then New York and Chicago began to experiment with height. By 1888, Broadway had an eleven-story building with only twenty-one feet of frontage. This "Tower Building" was derisively called a card House by some New Yorkers, but it stood firm until it was torn down in 1908.

The tall, thin type of building was a curiosity at first, but its usefulness was undeniable in a city like New York. Other builders went to work to show what they could do with steel frame construction. Office structures became higher and higher, until the Woolworth Building set a formidable world's record with its fifty-eight stories, rising 793 feet from the street to the top of its tower. A new height record in residential construction was recently set, when a thirty-two story bachelor hotel was built.

Most of the recent office buildings are not in the class with those closest to the sky. The competition among builders to put up the tallest possible structures has about ceased. Americans are no longer easily overawed by mere height in a building. It has become apparent, too, that a large number of extremely tall structures can not very well be located close together, especially in a district where the streets are narrow. Too much air and light would be shut off, and the congestion when workers poured in and out of the buildings would be intense.

BUILDING IN TERRACES

To prevent such conditions, zoning regulations have put restrictions on location of tall buildings and on their construction. These regulations are directly influencing the styles in skyscrapers. They are responsible, for instance, for the tower style of the newer tall buildings.

The lower floors of one of these giant buildings may cover a city square. Above the fifteen or possibly the seventeenth floor the building becomes a little smaller in diameter, and at intervals the terraced effect is repeated until the top is a small tower. This style of architecture has proved far more effective than the tall squared-off building. Architects say that the pleasing effect of a skyscraper fading away mysteriously into the sky is obtained as a result of the terraced plan.

When skyscrapers appeared on the horizon like an exotic breed of construction they were plain boxes with innumerable little windows, or else they were heavily ornamented in ways suited to lower buildings. Few of them won the unstinted admiration of the architects of the country. Elevators and skeleton steel construction—strictly modern developments—had brought into being this strange form of architecture which had never before existed in the history of the world. It seemed next to impossible to apply the traditional principles of construction to tall box-like cave dwellings so as to get artistic results.

ARM AGAINST DRAGON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TORREON (Mex.) Nov. 16.—A strong anti-Chinese feeling prevails in this and many other portions of Mexico, and is being intensified by the formation of clubs and societies for the purpose of eventually having laws passed restricting Chinese immigration. This order has become quite strong in Torreon with subordinates in the neighboring cities and towns of Gomez Palacio, Lerdo, San Pedro, Matamoros and others.

The Mexican women are urged to take an active part in this move and wage a campaign against the women of the lower class marrying Chinese, which is of frequent occurrence.

As the Chinese government has no consular representation in this country, American consuls are requested to use their influence in favor of the Chinese, as the latter are here under treaty rights and entitled to protection, but these American diplomats often are confronted with the question as to why they should wish Mexico to harbor and protect a race of people which their own country refuses to admit.

As a rule, the Chinese are peaceable and law-abiding, although it is claimed that a Chinese Mafia has members in Torreon and San Pedro and that this organization is responsible for the mysterious deaths of four Chinamen at the latter named place recently.

By keen competition the Chinese keep the price of vegetables and and other home products down and also cultivate productive gardens near the cities and towns, supplying the markets with fresh garden truck at low prices.

The portion of Mexico most densely inhabited by Chinese is the State of Sonora, where they control a large percentage of factories and commercial establishments, as well as numerous small stores. In that State a law was passed prohibiting their marrying Mexican women and recently about 500 were ordered expelled from the country as undesirables.

Kansas City Doctor Invents New Truss

New Discovery Heals Rupture Without An Operation

A new discovery which, experts agree, has no equal for curative effects in all rupture cases, is the latest accomplishment of the well-known Hernia Specialist, Dr Andrews, 1818 Koch Bldg., Kansas City, Mo. The extraordinary success of this new method proves that it holds and heals a rupture. It weighs only a few ounces. Has no hard gouging pads, no elastic belt, no leg straps, no steel bands, and is as comfortable as a light garment. It has enabled hundreds of persons to throw away trusses and declare their rupture absolutely healed. Many of these had serious double ruptures, from which they had suffered for years. It is Dr. Andrews' ambition to have every ruptured person enjoy the quick relief, comfort and healing power of his discovery, and he will send it on free trial to any reader of The Times who writes him. He wants one person in each neighborhood to whom he can refer. If you wish to be rid of rupture for good, without an operation, take advantage of the doctor's free offer. Write him today. PARIS AIMS HARD BLOW AT ALIENS

Children Born in France of American Parents May Have to Serve in Army

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Nov. 16.—A severe blow to the permanent American colony here may be inflicted by the French government. A resolution by Deputy Pichel Misoffe for a "code for foreigners" has been adopted by the Paris offices. The plan is to force children born in France of foreigners to adopt French nationality, thereby being forced to do military service in mitigating circumstances. M. Misoffe states:

"In the Seine Department alone 30,519 sons of foreigners were born and substantially liable to military service. Only 534 adopted French citizenship when they reached the age of 18, the others all escaping military service by becoming citizens of other countries. We should force persons born in France and living in France permanently to assume army obligations for the defense of the country."

IOWA CORN GROWERS PLAN TO HOLD CROP

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DES MOINES, Nov. 16.—The Corn-Growers' Association in Iowa will seek to form corn-holding clubs in all of the counties in the State in order to impress upon farmers "the necessity of holding corn in order to avert the calamity" that would ensue if farmers sold their corn now, according to an announcement by Paul Talbot, an official of the association. The association declared that the price of corn would increase, but that the farmer would benefit through that increase only by holding his corn on the farm.

IOWA COUNTY FIGHTS EPIDEMIC OF RABIES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DES MOINES, Nov. 16.—West Liberty is the latest town to report rabies in the epidemic which several sections of the county are combatting. The State laboratories at Iowa City report the discovery of positive rabies in the head of a dog which belonged to W. O. Wiese and which bit Mr. and Mrs. Wiese and Dr. J. C. McCarge, a veterinarian. The victims are taking Pasteur treatments. Another dog owned by H. C. Kerr was killed on the streets of West Liberty after showing symptoms of rabies.

Bus System May Replace Trolley at Leavenworth

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 16.—That the antiquated trolley system of Leavenworth, Kan., is about to be replaced by a modern system of busses seems almost certain following a conference between Conway F. Holmes, president of the Kansas City Western Railway Company, and Mayor James C. Davis and City Commissioners of Leavenworth.

Mr. Holmes requested Mayor Davis to put in writing such proposals as would be required by the city for the granting of a bus franchise and the abandonment of the street railway system, excepting the Third-street line which carries the through traffic between Fort Leavenworth and Kansas City.

At a conference last night the city authorities proposed that the railway company tear out the tracks, poles, wires and other paraphernalia of the road on the Ottawa street, Fifth street, Fifth avenue and Spruce street lines and replace the street surface in serviceable condition.

It is proposed that the fare be eight cents, with two tickets for fifteen cents and universal transfers. The schedule is to remain at twenty minutes and the busses will operate farther out than the cars now run.

The BOOK of KNOWLEDGE

They have done so because it is the simplest and most natural method of turning the child's normal curiosity into valuable knowledge. It answers in plain and simple language the questions children ask. It is so captivating that the child absorbs the profound truths and great facts of the world of knowledge without effort while reading it for pleasure and looking at its thousands of pictures.

DE PALMA CHEERED TO VICTORY ON TANFORAN TRACK BY 30,000 FANS

LOCKHART WINS AT ASCOT OVAL

Wonder Runs Away With Four Features

Ralph Ormsby in Five-Lap Match Race

Pilots Should Hang Anchor on Young Pilot

BY BRAVEN DYER

It looks as if Ascot officials will have to handicap Frank Lockhart, the boy wonder, with an anchor or some other impediment in order to make Sunday's races at George Ascot track interesting enough to draw a decent crowd. Yesterday the youthful pilot simply ran away with the entire show, copping all four events in which he was entered. Nothing like 12,000 fans saw Lockhart do his stuff and went home hoping that Bill Pickens and his wide-awake Ascot digsters will dig up some new stuff for Frankie or else hang a mighty trailer on his flivver, No. 27.

The event of the day—the match race between Lockhart and Ormsby, the midwestern speed demon, a finish if ever there was one—Ted Tobey, whose melodious voice has gladdened many an Ascot event, announced that Ormsby would be unable to drive his car, No. 4. It seems that Ormsby was driving to church in Los Angeles and being a bit late stepped on the gas with rather disastrous results. At any rate he developed something and that somebody couldn't be fixed for him to ride even chariot in the race to church.

SPEED BETTER

Lockhart's Frontenac No. 7 was sent into service and after a try-out lap with it, which was a bit hard on the car, he left for the pits, where he gave it up and climbed aboard Al Watson's car of the same make. This car was still Ralph better and Ormsby got away with the pole position. The start almost as soon as it was scheduled for Lockhart looked back and Ormsby gave his charger the gun and was never even headed, winning in 2m. 46s., without a struggle. Maybe Ralph's car is all right next Sunday when they'll race again, if Frank will let 'em.

The three races which Lockhart won were just about as thrilling as the Italian Victory dash provided lots of thrills. Six cars started in the event and Frank took the lead at the first turn and was never headed. George Beck was second and Al Watters third. The time, 2m. flat, which is moving some, was the Ascot Derby, which, at fifteen laps, was out to the limit of approaching cars. Lockhart followed the pace that had been using all day and stayed out in front at the finish, staying there. Nobody seemed to have enough to him to ask how fast he was going, but Frank finally let up in 6m. 37s. He was clocked at 6m. 31s. This race, coming before the Derby, and Lockhart announcing that his time for that event was a new track record it is presumed that faster time was also a new track record and a busy day, even if there wasn't anyone to give him competition.

BULLOCK WINS

Hal Bullock, Pike's Peak driver, won the John Bowers Invitational of five laps, following three heats of the final. Al Cotey finished a good race of it, but was a couple of seconds behind. Bullock's time was 2m. 51s.

There were a couple of exciting spills recorded on the disastrous Long Beach stakes program, five laps. Robert Burman, while trying to take the pole at the last turn of the final heat, got his bike and bounced, and skidded fifty feet down the track.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER.
BILL HENRY

Saturday's football games certainly don't seem to shed a whole lot of light on the football situation. Certainly not as far as the Coast is concerned. Victories by California and Stanford were not at all unexpected though Stanford is showing increasing scoring power and all-around strength with every Saturday. Watch out for the Cardinals next week-end against the Bears. U.S.C. had a walkaway against the staggering Poets, who showed nothing except the effect of having played a hard game against Pomona four days previously.

The Trojans showed some strong running plays around end and off-tackle that worked well against the Quakers and probably would have worked well against anybody. However, the game was nothing to judge by as Whittier manifestly was all in by the end of the first half and when Hawkins got away with his fake of touching the ball down and then ran practically the length of the field—that was the end of the Quakers who were a thoroughly dispirited outfit from then on.

It looked as though the Trojans could make plenty of yards with the sweeping end runs and off-tackle smashes they used. The backs, in at least three out of four cases, were taking their men out and the attack looked smooth and satisfactory. When the Trojans were spending all their time on fake criss-crosses and fake reverse plays they didn't go so well.

Back East there were the regular number of surprises. One of the biggest, although it will not be so generally recognized as such, was the upset of the unbeaten Alabama eleven by Centre College, 17 to 0. Centre wasn't considered so very strong this year. The prize upset of the day, of course, was the victory of Minnesota over Illinois. Red Grange probably had an off day, something that is liable to happen to anybody.

Brown beat Harvard, though the Crimson team was made up largely of substitutes. This is one of Brown's habits. Chicago now seems to have a good chance to grab the Big Ten honors, Illinois being tied with Michigan. Dartmouth proved itself to be a great eleven by beating Cornell. The big Red team from Ithaca had started a strong comeback after its disastrous defeats by Rutgers and Williams.

BIG TEN IN MUDDLE

Upset Defeat of Illinois Leaves Fans in a Daze; Settle Title This Week

BY WALTER ECKERSALL
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Following the playing of last Saturday's games, which were featured by the usual number of upsets, one remains to make the year of 1924 about the most surprising in the history of the gridiron game is for Northwestern to win from Iowa on Saturday, Iowa to be the victor over Michigan, Michigan to beat Illinois.

Illinois must be given a good chance to beat Iowa from Chicago and Michigan from the Western Conference champion will be more than should defeat the Maize and Blue, Northwestern is victor over Iowa, the Wolverines will have a great claim to the Big-Ten championship, the decisive defeat administered by Illinois early in the season. Considering what happened, the fans must be prepared for almost anything, all of which goes to show this game of football cannot be doped with any degree of accuracy in advance.

The season in the Middle West has driven home more forcibly than anywhere else the dire necessity of having a strong line. It was the forward walls of Chicago and Minnesota which proved the undoing of Illinois and it is the strength of the linemen that has made Notre Dame just about the strongest football team in the country. A strong line has made

TENNESSEE GOBS WIN GRID GAME

U.S.S. West Virginia Team on Short End of 21-to-0 Score in Harbor Tilt

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 16.—The eleven from the U.S.S. Tennessee won the championship of the battleship division five at Trona Field this afternoon by defeating the U.S.S. West Virginia eleven, 21 to 0. The West Virginia's defeat was caused solely by poor work of the line on both offense and defense.

Cruse and Wilson formed a splendid backfield duet for the losers, but their efforts were useless with a line that presented no interference or driving power. Blackie Conroy, Tennessee back, bucked through the first two Tennessee touchdowns and Brown, who relieved him in the last quarter carried the third across after he had intercepted a West Virginia pass and carried it 60 yards for the score. Ensign Dole, Rebel coach, converted all three tallies.

Tennessee (21)		West Virginia (0)
Gemmett	L.E.R.	Coleland
Baldridge	L.T.R.	Drudek
Polley	L.G.R.	Bolyer
Tompion	C.	Doyle

HUNTINGTON BEACH WINS

Huntington Beach tossers downed the Biltmore Hotel nine, 6 to 4, in an Independent League game played yesterday at Huntington Beach.

VIKING SOCCERITES LOSE

Hollywood Athletic Club Eleven Takes Measure of Vikes at Loyola by 2-to-0 Score

Over 3000 wildly cheering soccer fans saw the fighting Vikings go down to defeat at the hands of the Hollywood Athletic Club at the Loyola soccer park yesterday afternoon by a 2-to-0 score. Hollywood outplayed the Vikes for the greater part of the game yet were somewhat lucky in winning. This may seem paradoxical, but a review of the play reveals that the winners earned but one goal, while the Vikings failed to convert a penalty in the early stages of the game.

Hollywood's second goal was a present from the referee. Rosendale in attempting to clear slipped and fell on the ball with his hands. The ref awarded hands and Shepherd made no mistake in netting. The hands decision was a palpable error in judgment by the referee. There was no Hollywood player in position to play the ball at the time Rosendale fell, and there was no evidence that hands, if it was committed, was deliberate.

The decision took some of the heart out of the Vikes. They were trailing their conquerors by one goal, and while it would probably be stretching the point to say that the decision might have cost them the chances of tying the score, their attacks lost considerable of their punch.

ON BEST SIDE

There can be no disputing that the moviemen were on the better side. There was more finesse to their play, their passes were made with unerring accuracy and it was only due to the stiff defense put up by Mortensen and Wathne that the Hollywood sharpshooters failed to net more often.

Vikings failed because they concentrated their attack through center. They relied too much on Doctor Brix to give them the points. Their plans were made plain to the opponents, and as a result Brix was never able to get away, so closely was he watched. Except on one or two occasions did their wingmen initiate any attacks. Hyder was little more than a passenger for the greater period of the game, his halfbacks starving him while feeding the ball to the inside men.

Another factor which mitigated against the Vikings was their inaccuracy in passing. Time and again their passes were incompleted the ball going to the toe of of an opponent, and attacks were nipped in their incipiency. In this department the moviemen were masters. Their well oiled football machine was working to perfection, and their passes were completed with monotonous regularity.

LOSE OPPORTUNITY

Vikings lost their chance to score in the first twenty minutes when Hollywood was penalized for hands. Brix took the kick and only eleven neither beaten nor tied.

Penn's record of eight victories, one tie and no defeats still keeps her to the front in the title scramble, but the Red and Blue now must share the heights with Dartmouth and Rutgers, each of which also has only one tie to mar its record. The big Green outfit, held to even terms only by Yale, closed its season with a smashing 27-to-14 triumph over Cornell at the Polo Grounds and with other victories over Harvard and Brown to its credit must be considered when final honors are distributed.

Rutgers, tied only by Lehigh, added another impressive victory to her list by trouncing New York University, while Yale and Lehigh complete the list of prominent unbeaten aggregations.

FIVE TEAMS CLAIM TITLE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—With the end of the 1924 eastern football season only two weeks off, the contest for premier sectional honors remains an "open race." Where a year ago the battle narrowed down to two outstanding elevens, Yale and Cornell, the stretch this year finds no fewer than five teams putting forward title claims.

Saturday's results, adding further fuel to the blaze of upsets that has marked the season's path so far, produced outstanding features in the decisive victory of Yale over Princeton, blasting the Tigers' hopes of a "big three" championship while strengthening the Blues' chances, and the scoreless tie struggle between Pennsylvania and Penn State, which toppled the Quakers from their lofty perch as the

POLOISTS BATTLE TO TIE SCORE

Reds and Whites Play 9-to-9 Match at Midwick in Opening of Season

Before a large crowd, the Reds and the Whites of Midwick Country Club played a practice polo match at Midwick yesterday, which resulted in a 9-to-9 tie. E. G. Miller, playing No. 3 for the Whites, shot the tying goal in the final period. The turf was in excellent condition and the ideal weather brought out a crowd of midseason size. Eddie Vail, Jack Holt and Bert Roach starred for their respective teams. Vail shot five goals, Holt three and Roach two. No accidents marred the day.

The teams started out fast, scoring twelve of the eighteen goals in the first half. Jack Holt twice goaled in the first chukker. The third period was full of thrills, with Holt, Vail and Roach scoring. With two periods to play, Mallaby and Miller counted three goals, Miller scoring the ninth with less than three minutes to play. The line-ups:

Whites (9)		Reds (9)
Wrightsman, 2	1	Kierup, 1
Mallaby, 1	2	Roach, 2
Miller, 3	3	Vail, 3

MIDWICK GOLFERS LEAD

Hold Half-Point Margin Over San Gabriel Feminine Team in Play for Southern California Title

BY CHARLES WEST

With only two points separating the five leading teams, the feminine golf representatives of the various Southern California country clubs enter their second round of play this week, Midwick holding the spotlight at present with 8½ points scored at the expense of Wilshire's players, who were able to garner only ½ a point.

Midwick entertains Brentwood this week in the second match of the schedule, and may be sure of some spirited opposition, as Brentwood rolled up 6 points on Annandale last week.

San Gabriel's players, who are in second place by virtue of their eight points scored against Hillcrest in the opening match, play at Hollywood. Hollywood lost to Los Angeles last week 6 to 3, but obtained considerable solace out of the fact that in the first foursome Miss Anne Webster and Miss Ruth Killiam defeated Mrs. W. W. Campbell and Mrs. George Weber, 2 and 1. Flintridge faces Annandale, and hopes to increase the total of 7 1-2 points scored against California last week.

Los Angeles meets Hillcrest, and Wilshire plays at California in the other feminine team matches Thursday.

The standing of the clubs follows:

Midwick	8½
San Gabriel	8
Flintridge	7½
Brentwood	6
Los Angeles	6
Hollywood	3
Annandale	3
California	1½
Hillcrest	1
Wilshire	½

FIRST ROUND RESULTS

Los Angeles 6, Hollywood 3.
Flintridge 7, California 1½.
Brentwood 6, Annandale 3.
San Gabriel 8, Hillcrest 1.
Midwick 8½, Wilshire ½.

MATCHES THIS WEEK

Brentwood at Midwick.
Los Angeles at Hillcrest.
San Gabriel at Hollywood.
Flintridge at Annandale.
Wilshire at California.

LOS ANGELES

Fourth-round matches in the annual fall handicap at the Los Angeles Country Club were played yesterday, W. C. Smith trimming Chester Lyday in the feature match of the day, 3 and 2. E. K. Brown defeated Dr. C. G. Hartley, 4 and 3; Perry Howard, Jr., defeated G. C. Williams, 2 and 1, and J. J. Donohue won from A. W. Bumiller, 1 up. Semifinal results in the consolation found H. L. Dardorff the victor over W. P. Reid, 1 up, while H. W. Armstrong won from Dr. M. W. Jenny by default.

In the weekly mixed foursomes, Mrs. Lou Rose and J. J. Donohue had low net, 93-14-79, Miss Margaret James and Dr C. W. Anderson taking second place, 96-16-80, while Mrs. J. J. Donohue and Lou Rose were third, 97-16-81.

BELLEVUE

The second nine holes of the Bellevue Public Golf Course, located in the southwestern part of the city, will open next week-end, according to an announcement made yesterday by Ralph Noble. It will be necessary to use only two temporary greens, the other sixteen being in excellent shape.

Yesterday a record crowd played the Bellevue course, 140 separate people teeing off, most of whom played the course over twice—something of an achievement for a nine-hole links. The attendance has been rapidly increasing, and with the new holes the crowds will be handled with ease.

The arrangement of holes will be altered somewhat, as the present nine holes will not be the first half when the complete course is opened. The new eighteen-hole unit will have a par of 71. Charlie Guest, Bellevue's accomplished professional, holds the record at 34 for the present nine, 2 under par. Guest, by the way, is in no small way responsible for the popularity of the Bellevue links.

OLYMPIC CLUBMEN THUMP SANTA CLARA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—The football eleven of the San Francisco Olympic Club won a 13-to-0 victory over the Santa Clara College team here today in a game featured mostly by straight football and a punting duel between Patrick for the Clubmen and Casano for the collegians.

Coach Ed Kienholz of Santa Clara started the game with practically his entire string of first players on the side lines and during the first period the Clubmen scored a touchdown and converted the try for point. The Olympics made their second touchdown in the third period.

RACE MONARCH HAS EASY TIME

Speed King Starts in Lead and is Never Headed

Peter De Paolo Walks Off With Second Honors

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16. Cheered on to victory by a crowd of 30,000 race fans, Ralph De Palma, king of the dirt tracks and idol of the speedways, won the 100-mile speed classic staged on the Tanforan course here this afternoon. From the opening lap to the checkered flag, the smiling Italian racing ace led the field. Only twice during the 100 laps was his lead in danger.

The time for the 100-mile dirt track battle was 1h. 43m. 2-5s. This might have been much faster had not Phil Shafer, the "Texas Terror," been forced out of the race with a broken crankshaft, just as he was giving De Palma a hard run for first place.

Fouth and fifth places went to Earl Cooper and Tommy Milton, respectively.

TRIO WITHDRAW

Bennett Hill, Jerry Wonderlich and Phil Shafey were in the running at the start, but the trio had to take to the side lines on account of engine trouble.

A tire change on Hearne's car cost him second place.

On the opening lap De Palma jumped into the lead and for the full distance of the first turn De Paolo endeavored to crowd into the front. De Palma shot into the clear on the back stretch and came thundering around the second turn and into the stretch with fully ten yards on De Paolo with Hearne almost locking hubs with the young Duesenberg pilot.

On the fourth lap Shafer came up from fifth place, passed De Paolo and started to overhaul Hearne. In three laps the red-headed Texan took Hearne's measure and started out to give De Palma a trimming. Five laps of hard driving brought the Texan up with De Palma and in the lower turn he rode even with him for a brief spell. On the back stretch the Italian shot out in the clear and threw dirt in Shafer's face for six laps with the big boy from Texas staying right in his wake.

SHAFER OUT

As Shafer made another attempt to overcome the lead of the flying De Palma in the twenty-ninth lap, Shafer's car changed from a smooth-running speed creation to a concrete mixer. Before he could coast around to his pit, Shafer came to a stop and his work for the day was over. Hill went out with a broken oil line and Wonderlich broke a pinion.

As a preliminary there was a twenty-five-mile race for the boys with the "hopped-up cans." This event was a thriller in itself. First money went to Bill Reed at the wheel of a car called the Marasco Special.

Reed was given a battle for the full distance and had not Tony Undefeated Stanford and California Teams Settle Coast Supremacy Next Saturd

BIG GAME HAS REAL MEANING

Coast Conference Title at Stake in Battle

Bears Defend Championship of Four-Year Standing

Neither Eleven Favored to Emerge With Victory

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—When the football teams of Stanford and California meet at Berkeley next Saturday they will not only settle the annual and traditional rivalry that makes the big game of these parts, but they will also determine the supremacy of the Pacific Coast intercollegiate conference. The two are the only undefeated elevens in the conference.

Stanford has won every game, while California's victorious march was halted, although not turned back, by a 7-to-7 tie with Washington. The Idaho Vandals lurk just behind the two leaders, with a record of four games won and one lost, but facing a tough session with Southern California at Los Angeles next Saturday.

Stanford romped through its semifinal test yesterday at Palo Alto, thrashing Montana, 41 to 3. Coach Warner used his second string mostly. But he started Ernie Nevers, so that the line-splintering fullback could have a good workout after spending most of the season on the sidelines nursing an injured ankle. He went out during the second quarter, not limping perceptibly. Later it was reported, however, that his weak ankle had been hurt. He probably will get in the California game, but it is considered doubtful whether he will be able to play long. The burden of Stanford's plunging is likely to be borne by Hey and Bogue, who have alternated at fullback throughout the season.

The only other conference game of the week-end was played between Oregon and Washington State at Portland and ended in a 7-to-7 tie.

California went outside the conference and beat Nevada, 27 to 0. Dixon raced fifty yards for a touchdown and Imlay contributed a forty-one-yard run for another score. These slender halfbacks are primed to give Stanford some unpleasant moments. The California squad is in good shape for the title game. The first team begins the last week of practice virtually without injuries.

California has won four straight championships, and in that time has not met defeat, inside or outside the conference. The best its opponents could get was a tie game now and then. This year Andy Smith had few lettermen, but out of the green material he has built a team full of speed and punch.

Most impartial critics consider the California-Stanford game a toss-up.

	Won	Lost	Tied	P.c.
Stanford	5	0	0	1.000
California	3	0	1	1.000
Idaho	4	1	0	.800
Washington	2	1	1	.667
U.S.C.	1	1	0	.500
Oregon	1	2	1	.333
Oregon Aggies	1	3	0	.250
Washington State	0	3	1	.000
Montana	0	3	0	.000

FOOTBALL DRAWS MAMMOTH MOBS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—The tremendous interest in football throughout the nation is indicated in statistics compiled here tonight showing that 509,000 spectators viewed the fourteen major contests Saturday.

The Michigan-Ohio State game at Columbus drew the biggest attendance, 68,000.

The seven leading contests in the East drew 269,000 fans, while the seven leading games in the South, Midwest and West drew 240,000.

The Yale-Princeton clash topped the eastern attendance with 58,000.

In Pugilism's Spotlight

Tony Fuente and his fighting implements, with which he hopes to flatten out Fred Fulton tonight in the Culver City Stadium. Fuente will be giving away weight, but expects to trim the Minnesota Plasterer with speed and tremendous hitting ability. Fulton weighs 220 and Fuente 190.

MEXICAN BATTLER PERFORMS

Meets Fred Fulton in Culver City Arena this Evening in Big Bout

California's latest heavyweight championship hope, Tony Fuente, gets a whack at Fred Fulton tonight in the Culver City American Legion arena in his second appearance in fast company. The first was at Vernon when the hard-socking Mexican outpointed Floyd Johnson before a howling mob of fans, and if Fuente gets by Fulton tonight, he will be considered for battles with such men as Renault and Weinert.

Although Fulton is as big as a three-story house, and weighs almost as much as the City Hall, Fuente has established himself as a terrific puncher, and is exceptionally fast for a big man. Fulton has the reputation of being nervous at the start of a bout, but improves as the battle progresses. Just how much he will have a chance to improve in the four-round racket is causing considerable comment, while Fuente's bouts have all been of four rounds or less.

The Minneapolis plasterer measures six feet five inches from the top of his head down to his stiff socks, and he presses the scales down to 220 pounds when he climbs aboard. Add to this Fulton's five-inch advantage in reach and his years of ring experience, and you have summed up his most favorable points. Whether they will be enough to make Fuente's qualifications null and void remain to be seen.

Tonight's program starts promptly at 8:15 with a series of preliminaries. Tom Jones will be the third man in the ring during the main event.

HOPPE TO SCRAP AT PASADENA

Fast Lightweight Booked for Main Event at Armory Next Thursday

Dick Hoppe, one of the strongest contenders for the Pacific Coast lightweight championship crown now worn by Tommy Carter, will be seen in action next Thursday night in the Pasadena Armory, opposing a boxer yet to be selected by Matchmaker Pop Hanlon. Hoppe is apparently quite respected in the lightweight division, as no boxer has been uncovered yet who is willing to step into the ring with the clever scrapper.

However, the rest of the card has been completed. Young Lancho and Kid Raymond are billed for the semi-wind-up, while Frank Perry and Kid Gonzoles will meet in the special event. Kid Shannon and Young Garcia meet in one preliminary and Bobby Carter gets another chance at Sally Martinez, who was awarded a very unpopular decision over Carter last week. A battle royal with three dusky scrappers from Los Angeles facing three from Pasadena will be included in the program. Tickets are selling fast for the entertainment.

ERRORS GIVE TIGERS WIN OVER MONARCHS

Errors at critical times and the failure of Rube Curry to pitch his usual star brand of ball accounted for the Kansas City Monarchs' 11-to-7 defeat at the hands of the Vernon Tigers yesterday at White Sox Park before a huge crowd. Wee Ludolph, Vernon hurler, although touched for sixteen hits managed to bear down when in danger. Foreman, colored star, hit one of the longest homers ever seen at the new park, while Schneider, McDowell and Murphy also got circuit clouts. Butcher was the fielding star with four great catches in left field. Score:

FORD MAY REFEREE RACE

Famous Henry is Invited to Officiate at Opening of Culver City Board Track Turkey Day

A dozen famous racing drivers who were entered in yesterday's 100-mile race at Tanforan, San Francisco, and a half a dozen others equally as famous, are rushing back to Los Angeles today to begin preparations for the 250-mile championship classic that will open the new lightning-fast Culver City board speedway Thanksgiving Day.

The only driver entered in the Culver speed fiesta, who is not already in California, is Pietro Bordino, the Italian "Mad Mullah," who left Chicago for Los Angeles yesterday morning aboa. the Santa Fe's California Limited. He will arrive here Wednesday morning.

A. M. Young, president of the big speedway, has announced that he has invited Henry Ford to act as referee for the inaugural classic. Ford is a racing enthusiast and a keen follower of the sport. He was referee for the Indianapolis 500-mile classic last May and filled the job as capably as he runs his huge plant in Detroit. Ford, unless very pressing business keeps him away, is expected to accept the offer as he has been informed by his friends among the drivers that the Culver City bowl will undoubtedly be the fastest track in existence.

WATTS SLUGGERS ROUT VIRGINIA CITY SQUAD

Virginia City proved easy prey for the Watts Chamber of Commerce nine in an 8-to-2 game played yesterday on the losing nine's home grounds. Cruse, on the mound for Watts, had but one bad inning, the sixth, when Virginia City bunched three hits for a run. Cruse fanned thirteen men. Campbell, Rudd and White featured with the willow for the victors, while Spaulding drew a pair of blows for Virginia City. Score:

WHITE KINGS ANNEX PAIR FROM PIRRONE

Before an enthusiastic gathering, the strong White King Soaps administered a double defeat to Joe Pirrone's All-Stars yesterday at Washington Park, winning the first game, 5 to 1, and the second, 4 to 2.

With the youthful Doc Crandall pitching great ball, the White Kings won the opener by bunching hits off Bob McGraw in the third inning, driving in three runs and clinching the contest. But for a home run over the left-field fence by Ping Bodie, Crandall would have had a shutout. George Payne beat Pug Cavet in the afterpiece, although the All-Stars had the former in trouble in the last two innings. Pete Thompson and Lyman Smith each connected for three hits in the second tilt, while Buzz Arlett, with a single, and a triple, carried away hitting honors in the opener.

PLAY SCORELESS TIE

The Arroyo Seco and Salt Lake soccer teams battled to a scoreless tie on the latter's grounds yesterday. The Arroyo playground eleven is leading the league.

SIXTY-FOUR CARS ENTERED

Sixty-four cars and drivers have been nominated to start in the $52,000 Thanksgiving Day Ascot road race, with the possibility that five or six additional entries are in the mail which will be placed on President George Bentel's desk this morning. Entries in envelopes bearing a postmark of midnight Saturday or previous thereto, will be accepted. Never in the history of automobile racing has such a huge list of entries been filed for any sort of race.

With so many famous cars and drivers named, there is a movement on foot among the entrants to have the Ascot management raise the limit of starters in the Turkey Day classic from thirty to forty. The width of the road over the five-mile circuit and the class of the entrants, many argue, will make the course safe for forty cars. The machines will be sent away in pairs at intervals of a few seconds, these starting behind others being credited with the elapsed time. In addition to the list of entrants printed in yesterday's Times, the following, bringing the total up to sixty-four, were received in Sunday's mail: National, Lloyd Vieaux; Stutz, Walske and Rank; Chrysler, John Thiel; Cleveland, Walter Dalson; Wade Special, John Mahoney; Wade Special, William Wallace.

Practice is now allowed over the course from daylight to sunset. The winding circuit should present a sight rivaling a bee-hive from now until next Sunday when the elimination trials will be held.

BIG TEN IN A BAD MUDDLE

many a star back but a clever ball carrier has seldom been of much use behind a weak front. The smart coach, if he has not a good backfield and a strong line, will take the latter nine times out of ten in preference to the expert ball carriers.

Following its games with Michigan and Iowa, the gridiron fans looked upon the Illinois eleven as invincible. It was rated a miracle team by its admirers, many of whom claimed it was the greatest football team of all time. These same supporters did not prepare themselves for the fall which has generally always overtaken a team which had to be prepared for an important early season struggle such as Illinois had with Michigan on October 18. Such conditions have existed in the past and they will continue to exist with the result that such teams and their admirers must prepare themselves for the unexpected.

Notre Dame, providing it wins from Northwestern in the Grant Park Stadium here next Saturday, will be entitled to the undisputed western championship. If the Hoosiers are victors over Carnegie Tech, in pittsburg on the 29th inst. they will be entitled to national championship consideration and should be rated the strongest team in the country.

The decisive victory of Notre Dame over Nebraska, 34 to 6, shows beyond all doubt Coach Rockne has an eleven of great offensive and defensive strength. Its scoring possibilities are unlimited and if one form of attack fails, another is called into commission. It is a smart team which generally does the proper thing at the opportune time and one which is an excellent exponent of modern football.

Defeat of Illinois by Minnesota, 20 to 7, has left Chicago in undisputed possession of first place in the Big Ten race. If Chicago wins over Wisconsin on next Saturday they will win the conference title, the first gained by any midway eleven since 1913. The Maroons, however, must expect a struggle because the Badgers play one of their best games of the season against the Stagg men.

While it was an unexpected setback for Illinois, it was a great victory for Minnesota and Coach Bill Spaulding. It has been contended right along that Spaulding knows this game of football and can teach it. Like other coaches, he must have material and apparently the players at Minnesota are just beginning to grasp the ideas of their coach. The defeat has eliminated Illinois from any championship consideration, but the squad will start preparation tomorrow for the final game of the year with Ohio State at Champaign next Saturday.

Northwestern played great football against Chicago and only succumbed to a 3-to-0 defeat, although the Maroons had been dopes to win by a much larger score. In fact, it was a moral victory for Northwestern, and the players and coach are deserving of great credit considering the week's recovery from the defeat by Michigan a week ago.

Michigan continued to show that characteristic Wolverine spirit, which has made its teams famous in the past. The Maize and Blue eleven came from behind to defeat Ohio State, 16 to 6, before the largest crowd which saw any football game Saturday, 65,000 fans. It was not until the close of the third period that the Wolverines worked the oval into scoring territory and then piled up 16 points in the last quarter.

Wisconsin went down in defeat by Iowa, 21 to 7, in the big homecoming game at Madison. Wisconsin has not experienced a successful season, but in justice to Coach Jack Ryan, the material does not rank with that at some of the other conference universities. The result shows that Iowa is a much better team than it showed against Illinois, and should give Michigan an interesting struggle on the week-end.

COMPTON FIREMEN PUT OUT BELLFLOWER NINE

The Compton Firemen, although outhit 8 to 5, defeated the Bellflower outfit, 6 to 2, in an interesting game played yesterday at Compton. A four-run rally in the third gave the Firemen their winning margin. The hitting of Hubbell and Rothrock, along with the good hurling of Buckley, Hillhouse and Young featured the game. Rothrock smashed out a circuit clout. Score:

GRANGE'S INJURY IS NOT SERIOUS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHAMPAIGN (Ill.) Nov. 16.—Harold Grange is not seriously injured by any means, but he will not be able to play against Ohio State Saturday in the closing game in the Illinois memorial stadium. His shoulder blade was torn loose, a not uncommon injury in football, but the bone was not broken. He would probably be able to play in two weeks time if the season did not close next Saturday.

With Grange out of the game, Bob Zuppke must rebuild his attack overnight. Ohio looms as a formidable foe which the Illini scouts report had an excellent chance to defeat Michigan with a little better judgment at times.

BROTHERHOOD SQUAD WALLOPS VERMONTERS

The Vermont Square Merchants may have been beaten badly before, but they probably got the worst trouncing they've ever received at the hands of the Fraternal Brotherhood nine yesterday at Ross Snyder Field. Oxy and Pomona in Annual Classic Saturday

SAGEHENS ARE DOPED TO WIN

Experience is Basis for the Popular Choice

Conference Title at Stake in Annual Clash

Pasadena Stadium Will be Scene of Conflict

Battling for the Southern California Conference championship and the mythical "big seven" football championship of Occidental and Pomona Colleges will clash at Pasadena Field, Eagle Rock, Saturday afternoon. The main game of the day is carded for 2:30 o'clock with the frosh squads of the two institutions meeting in the curtain raiser.

Both teams are the Occidental stadium holds but 10,000 fans when the capacity it can readily handle, a few thousand fans will be left out of the game. Both Oxy and Pomona have their rooters out en masse for the game, as it is the struggle is the closing one of the season.

Both teams have impressive records having gone through their conference games without defeat. Occidental, has built up a strong record, Captaining the Tigers is Bill Herbert, without a peer among the Coast fullbacks. "Tarzan" Herbert is injured now and then but will be ready to lead the Tigers against the Sagehens.

Pomona is a smooth running, well coached made up of Capt. Bill Merritt, Ed McCully and Jerry Bell. This quartet combines beef, kicking and shiftiness, and just about anything that is needed.

Pomona's line average about the same as Occidental's being fairly heavy in the tackle positions. Oxy's line is more uniform with the Sagehens and will probably outweigh the Claremonters a few pounds.

Bill Johnston Splits Even With Tilden

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16. Ranking tennis players of the country, meeting in exhibition matches here today, assisted in the dedication of the new tennis stadium in Golden Gate Park.

The first match was between William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, national champion, and William M. Johnston, San Francisco, the players breaking even on sets, with Tilden taking the first, 7-5, and Johnston the second, 9-7.

In a mixed doubles acair, Helen Wills and Vincent Richards, national mixed doubles champions, defeated Helen Jacobs, national junior titlist, and Tilden, 9-7, 7-5.

Following the mixed doubles Miss Wills defeated Cranston Holman, San Francisco city champion, 6-1, in a one-set match.

San Diegans Annex Fifth Championship

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 16.—San Diego High School won its fifth league championship Saturday by defeating the Whittier High School eleven in a game played at Whittier, 32 to 7. The local school is now in possession of every trophy offered by the Coast Prep League with the exception of the basketball cup. The school has won the championship in football, baseball, track, swimming and tennis.

The local team is scheduled to play Orange High next Saturday in the first game of the semifinals for the Southern California championship. The game will probably be played at Santa Ana, as the coaches and managers of the rival elevens would not agree to play in either Orange or San Diego.

There is a possibility that the San Diegans might add another championship to their list in the Class B branch of play. Mathematically, the San Diego school is tied with Pasadena High for first place in that class. Pasadena holds a victory over San Diego, but was defeated by Fullerton High, which school was eliminated by the Hilltop lightweights. Following is the record of the San Diego High School varsity for the past season:

San Diego 32; Fullerton 7.
San Diego 21; Pasadena 3.
San Diego 14; Santa Ana 0.
San Diego 6; Long Beach 3.
San Diego 32; Whittier 7.

BILLIE BUTTS PRIZES BABE RUTH PELLET

If any of Hollywood's motion-picture starlets can prove that they are busier than he is at the present time, Billie Butts, 5-year-old character kid of the films, will reward said starlet with his most highly prized possession, a real big-league baseball bearing the autograph of Babe Ruth.

Last Friday night Billie was "emoting" before the clicking cameras at the Thomas H. Ince studios, in Culver City, shedding copious tears in Florence Vidor's current starring vehicle, "Lady of Gold."

A telephone message announced that the freckle-faced youngster was wanted urgently at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater, to take part in the act being built for the personal appearance of Babe Ruth, king of swat, and highest paid baseball player in the world. Billie reported promptly.

MARTY FARRELL TO MEET TAYLOR SOON

Marty Farrll, two years ago a contender for the middleweight championship, will continue his comeback campaign next Monday night, when he meets Buck Taylor of Butte, Mont., in a four-round bout. The fight heads the program scheduled by Carlos Curtis for the Newsboys' Club arena.

Benny Miller, former newsboy champion, will meet Kid Evans for the 112-pound championship, the winner to receive a gold watch. Herbert Turche will take on Al Garcia in a return bout.

Whittier Net Stars Victors Over San Pedro

Taking a majority of the matches played, the Broadway Tennis Club of Whittier trimmed the San Pedro Athletic Club players at Whittier yesterday afternoon.

Following are the results: Myers (W) defeated Parker (SP) 6-2, 6-0; Marsh (W) defeated Holland (SP) 6-4, 3-6, 6-2; Cook (W) defeated Amundson (SP), 6-0, 7-5; Grace (W) defeated Fenner (SP), 6-3, 6-4; Keagi (SP) defeated Keasby (W), 6-2, 6-2; Ota (SP) defeated Burke (W), 6-3, 7-5; Weed (W) defeated Curtis (SP), 6-3, 6-4.

Doubles: Cook and Myers (W) defeated Holland and Amundson (SP), 6-1, 6-3; Marsh and Keasby (W) defeated Park and Fenner (SP), 6-3, 5-7, 6-3; Burke and Grace (W) defeated Keagi and Ota (SP), 11-9, 6-1.

SALT LAKE VICTORS OVER ARROYO SECOS

The Salt Lake Intermediates defeated the Arroyo Seco Intermediates at the Salt Lake Playgrounds yesterday by a score of 13 to 3. The victory for the Salt Lakers is the fifth straight. Excellent hitting by the triumphant squad was the feature. The score:

VENTURA IS WINNER OF HURLING BATTLE

For seven innings Dill and Fairbanks battled on even terms in a great mound duel, each hurler pitching shut-out ball, but in the eighth the former weakened and Ventura put over three runs and defeated the Pacific Electric nine, 3 to 0, in one of the best games ever played at the Ventura park. Fairbanks yielded nine hits during the tilt, but was effective in the pinches, while Dill had but one bad frame after allowing but one hit in seven innings. Scarritt, Wall and Fairbanks were the hitting stars. Score:

IDAHO COMING FOR BIG GAME

Vandals Play Trojans Here Next Saturday

Have Been Defeated Only Once This Year

U.S.C. Shows Improvement in Whittier Contest

Coach "Matty" Mathews and his hard-fighting Idaho athletes will arrive in this city Thursday for their game Saturday at the Coliseum with the U.S.C. gridders. The Vandals are coming with a great record and the clash promises to be the best yet played in this metropolis this season.

The only defeat on the Vandals' escutcheon was administered by the Stanford outfit, the score being 3 to 0. At that the Idaho gridders are credited with outplaying the Cardinals during most of the game, and lost only because a fumble was made on a touchdown play.

Some basis for comparison between the Trojans and Vandals is found in the Oregon Aggie games. Idaho won, 22 to 0, from the Oregon eleven, while the Trojans were victorious, 17 to 3.

The Vandals have a great quarterback in Stivers, a middle-sized chap with a world of drive and quite a few brains. He is the man behind the Idaho passing attack which is called the best on the Pacific Coast. The loss of Bob Pitzke, the great fullback of last year, was a sad blow.

The Trojans have been picking up fast since the St. Mary's defeat, and will be primed to give the men from Moscow a battle royal. Capt. Hawkins et al ran wild over the weary Whittier athletes in the last half of Saturday's game at the Coliseum, and those in charge figure the U.S.C. team has recovered its drive.

RACE MONARCH HAS EASY TIME

Marasco on a Brady Special been forced to make a stop at the pits it is more than likely that Tony would have carried off the first slice of the prize money for the junior event.

The race meet at Tanforan drew the largest crowd ever seen at a dirt track race in Northern California and there is already a demand for another race at Tanforan if the event can be worked in so as not to interefere with the events scheduled for the big stars of the roaring road on the board speedways.

HASTEN SOUTH

Immediately after the Tanforan race most of the drivers hurried to catch the "Lark" or "Padre" for Los Angeles, where they intend to go over their cars in preparation for the opening practice on the new Culver City speedway. A group of Southern California race officials including A. M. Young, president of the new Culver City Speedway, Val Harsenape, member of the contest board of the A.A.A., and Barney Oldfield, who served as referee today, left for Los Angeles after the race and will be busy for the next few days rushing plans for the 250-mile championship classic that will dedicate the new speedway at Culver City on Thanksgiving Day.

VIKING ELEVEN IS VANQUISHED

booted the ball by the post by about six inches. This narrow escape of the Hollywood eleven caused them to institute a concerted attack which culminated in Archie Mitchell bulging the net. It was a splendid effort, Mitchell literally playing his way through the defense to beat Wathne.

In the morning game the Scots trampled on the Sons to the tune of 3 goals to 0. Holmes opened the scoring with a fine shot when he scored from the 30-yard line. The other counters were made by Tunicliffe.

Sons were badly outclassed, and will have to improve greatly on their play if they hope to offer any opposition to the other teams. There was a great lack of cohesion, team play being sacrificed to individualism.

L.A.A.C. ran true to predictions and took the points from the Thistles. The final score was 4 to 0. For the major part of the second period, the Club played with nine men, one man having to retire due to injuries, and the other having run afoul of the referee. The handicap, however, was not sufficient to make up in the difference of playing strength. Scores were Downey (1.) Davidson (2) and Robertson (1.).

GILMORE OIL TEAM LOSES; COPS SERIES

Despite the fact that they lost to the St. Louis Colored Giants yesterday afternoon at Goodyear Park by the score of 5 to 2, Cliff McCarl's Gilmore Oilers copped the series, two out of three, Fardie Schupp hurled for the Oilers yesterday, while Ross worked for the Colored Giants, and both twirled good ball.

Carlisle, Gilmore's right fielder, starred with the willow, smashing out three hits. Poor decisions by the uppires cost the Oilers a couple of runs. The score:

Synopsis: The wolf-pack routed after depredations on a Northland sled team starts after new game. The she wolf and Old One. Eye travel alone. Kiche, the she wolf, gives birth to a litter of cubs. White Fang, the gray cub, and Kiche survive. Kiche, the once-domesticated wolf, returns to an Indian camp with White Fang. She is sold to another tribe; White Fang deserts, but returns to the Indians again. He dutifully serves in his place as a sled-dog. White Fang defends his master's son from attack.

What was his god's was to be defended against all the world—even to the extent of biting other gods. Not only was such an act sacrilegious in its nature, but it was fraught with peril. The gods were all-powerful, and a dog was no match against them; yet White Fang learned to face them, fiercely belligerent and unafraid. Duty rose above fear, and thieving gods learned to leave Gray Beaver's property alone.

One thing, in this connection, White Fang quickly learned, and that was that a thieving god was usually a cowardly god and prone to run away at the sounding of the alarm. Also, he learned that but brief time elapsed between his sounding of the alarm and Gray Beaver's coming to his aid. He came to know that it was not fear of him that drove the thief away, but fear of Gray Beaver. White Fang did not give the alarm by barking. He never barked. His method was to drive straight at the intruder, and to sink his teeth in if he could. Because he was morose and solitary, having nothing to do with the other dogs, he was unusually fitted to guard his master's property, and in this he was encouraged and trained by Gray Beaver. One result of this was to make White Fang more ferocious and indomitable, and more solitary.

The months went by, binding stronger and stronger the covenant between dog and man. This was the ancient covenant that the first wolf that came in from the wild entered into with man. And like all succeeding wolves and wild dogs that had done likewise, White Fang worked the covenant out for himself. The terms were simple. For the possession of a flesh-and-blood god, he exchanged his own liberty. Food and fire, protection and companionship, were some of the things he received from the god. In return, he guarded the god's property, defended his body, worked for him, and obeyed him.

The possession of a god implies service. White Fang's was a service of duty and awe, but not of love. He did not know what love was. He had no experience of love. Kiche was a remote memory. Besides, not only had she abandoned the Wild and his kind when he gave himself up to man, but the terms of the covenant were such that if he ever met Kiche again he would not desert his god to go with her. His allegiance to man seemed somehow a law of his being greater than the love of liberty, of kin.

CHAPTER VI
The Famine

The spring of the year was at hand when Gray Beaver finished his long journey. It was April, and White Fang was a year old when he pulled into the home village and was loosed from the harness by Mit-sah. Though a long way from his full growth, White Fang, next to Lip-lip, was the largest yearling in the village. Both from his father, the wolf, and from Kiche, he had inherited stature and strength, and already he was measuring up alongside the full-grown dogs. But he had not yet grown compact. His body was slender and rangy, and his strength more stringy and massive. His coat was the true wolf-gray, and to all appearances he was true wolf himself. The quarter-strain of dog he had inherited from Kiche had left no mark on him physically, though it played its part in his mental make-up.

He wandered through the village, recognizing with staid satisfaction the various gods he had known before the long journey. Then there were the dogs, puppies growing up like himself, and grown dogs that did not look so large and formidable as the memory pictures he retained of them. Also, he stood less in fear of them than formerly, stalking among them with a certain careless ease that was as new to him as it was enjoyable.

There was Baseek, a grizzled old fellow in his younger days had but to uncover his fangs to send White Fang cringing and crouching to the rightabout. From him White Fang had learned much of his own insignificance; and from him he was now to learn much of the change and development that had taken place in himself. While Baseek had been growing weaker with age, White Fang had been growing stronger with youth.

It was at the cutting-up of a moose, fresh-killed, that White Fang learned of the changed relations in which he stood to the dog world. He had got for himself a hoof and part of the shin-bone, to which quite a bit of meat was attached. Withdrawn from the immediate scramble of the other dogs—in fact, out of sight behind a thicket—he was devouring his prize, when Baseek rushed in upon him. Before he knew what he was doing, he had slashed the intruder twice and sprung clear. Baseek was surprised by the other's temerity and swiftness of attack. He stood, gazing stupidly across at White Fang, the raw, red, shin-bone between them.

Baseek was old, and already he had become to know the increasing valor of the dogs it had been his wont to bully. Bitter experiences these, which, perforce, he swallowed, calling upon all his wisdom to cope with them. In the old days, he would have sprung upon White Fang in a fury of righteous wrath. But now his waning powers would not permit such a course. He bristled fiercely and looked ominously across the shin-bone at White Fang. And White Fang, resurrecting quite a deal of the old awe, seemed to wilt and to shrink in upon himself and grow small, as he cast about in his mind for a way to beat a retreat not too inglorious.

And right here Baseek erred. Had he contented himself with looking fierce and ominous, all would have been well. White Fang, on the verge of retreat, would have retreated, leaving the meat to him. But Baseek did not wait. He considered the victory already his and stepped forward to the meat. As he bent his head carelessly to smell it, White Fang bristled slightly. Even then it was not too late for Baseek to retrieve the situation. Had he merely stood over the meat, head up and glowering, White Fang would ultimately have slunk away. But the fresh meat was strong in Baseek's nostrils, and greed urged him to take a bite of it.

This was too much for White Fang. Fresh upon his months of mastery over his own teammates, it was beyond his self-control to stand idly by while another devoured the meat that belonged to him. He struck, after his fashion, without warning. With the first slash, Baseek's right ear was ripped into ribbons. He was astounded at the suddenness of it. But more things, and most grievous ones, were happening with equal suddenness. He was knocked off his feet. His throat was bitten. While he was struggling to his feet the young dog sank teeth twice into his shoulder. The swiftness of it was bewildering. He made a futile rush at White Fang, clipping the empty air with an outraged snap. The next moment his nose was laid open and he was staggering backward away from the meat.

The situation was now reversed. White Fang stood over the shin-bone, bristling and menacing, while Baseek stood a little way off, preparing to retreat. He dared not risk a fight with this young lightning-flash, and again he knew, and more bitterly, the enfeeblement of oncoming age. Calmly turning his back upon the young dog, and shin-bone, as though both were beneath his notice and unworthy of consideration, he stalked grandly away. Nor, until well out of sight, did he stop to lick his bleeding wounds.

The effect on White Fang was to give him a greater faith in himself, and a greater pride. He walked less softly among the grown dogs; his attitude toward them was less compromising.

Ned Cutting Carries Off Shoot Honors

Ned Cutting won both the W. D. Murphy and Silver Trophy matches at the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club yesterday, with W. D. Murphy crowding him for first honors in both shoots. Cutting took the W. D. Murphy Trophy affair with a score of 228, considered excellent work on the German ring target while using service rifle sights and ammunition. Murphy took a 218.

In the afternoon shoot Cutting, using his "Big Bertha" rifle, but with iron sights, captured the Silver Trophy with a score of 237, one better than Murphy could gather.

The scores:

W. D. MURPHY MATCH

Ned Cutting	228	E. C. Price	214
W. D. Murphy	218	Mrs. E. C. Crossman	214
R. J. Fraser	217	E. K. Steininger	208

SILVER TROPHY MATCH

Ned Cutting	237	E. K. Steininger	219
W. D. Murphy	236	E. C. Price	203
R. J. Fraser	223	Jim Crossman	201
Mrs. E. C. Crossman	219

Carroll Schilling, at one time a famous jockey, will have a stable of his own competing in the Tia Juana races this season. His chief hopes are June Grass and False Face. He will start False Face, a 2-year-old colt, in the special "prep" for the Tia Juana Derby. Racing begins there the 27th inst.

Fullerton High Eleven Cleans Up Santa Ana

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FULLERTON, Nov. 16.—Bringing to an end a winning streak that had given to Santa Ana victories in three consecutive years, Fullerton Union High School, playing a superb game, defeated the Santa Ana Saints by a 13-to-6 score on the local gridiron yesterday afternoon.

It was Rohrer, stellar halfback for Fullerton, who made victory possible for the locals through clever open-field running and line smashing. It was Rohrer who received the ball in the second quarter after Fullerton had bucked the oval into enemy territory and carried it across for the first touchdown. It was he who, shortly after received the ball on his own 40-yard line and dodged his way through a scattered field 60 yards for a second touchdown. Forster converted the first goal but failed on the second, giving Fullerton its thirteen points.

Santa Ana scored its touchdown on a pass, Dawson to Meisinger, the latter running 50 yards across a clear field for a touchdown. Goal kick failed.

The line-up:

Fullerton.		Santa Ana.
Sweet	L.E.	English
Elder	L.T.	Decker, (C.)

LORD WIMBORNE TO QUIT POLO SPORT

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Lord Wimborne, polo star and financial backer of the last British international team, announced today his retirement from active participation in the game. His retirement is believed to be the result of his experiences when he was the center of a storm of criticisms for the disastrous defeat of the British team by America at Meadowbrook.

"I will not play myself next season, and I am disposing of my ponies," says Lord Wimborne. "My active connection with the game is finished."

Lord Wimborne will leave polo for politics, wherein he plans to devote his energies and resources.

DUARTE'S WANTS EXPLAINED

Annexation to Monrovia, Incorporation or Adequate Domestic Water System

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

MONROVIA, Nov. 16.—Residents of Duarte, the community adjoining Monrovia on the east and south, wish to be annexed to Monrovia, to incorporate as a city of sixth class or to form a special water district in order to secure a more adequate domestic water system and other advantages.

According to the report of a committee appointed upon the annexation question headed by W. W. Bacon, this is impossible from the simple fact that it was learned that Duarte does not want to be annexed and Monrovia does not want to annex the community.

Various committees have been appointed by the Duarte Chamber of Commerce and the residents to secure data on the matter of annexation, of incorporation and of securing a domestic water system.

Numerous meetings have been held but nothing has been determined as yet.

The residents of the district famed for its beautiful orange groves, avocado orchards and lovely residences of millionaires say their motives for annexation were purely to secure an adequate domestic water system, nothing else. If this can be secured in any other way they will do it.

Duarte has a plentiful water supply for irrigation and plenty of water from the various wells in the district, but nothing but "little dilapidated private systems" they say, for domestic distribution.

In the discussion the confines of Duarte have been looked into and many are surprised to learn that Mt. Wilson is in Duarte and all of the foothills north of Sierra Madre, Monrovia and Duarte not within the corporate limits of Sierra Madre and Monrovia are included as well as a tract on the Bradbury Lane commonly known as South Monrovia.

Road Meeting is Called for Bakersfield

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16.—L. B. Denison of Tehachapi, a member of the Kern County Chamber of Commerce, has called a meeting of farmers, mining men and business men of Tehachapi and vicinity for next Tuesday evening in Tehachapi, to discuss the proposed Tehachapi-Bakersfield Highway.

The residents of Tehachapi and Mojave feel that the completion of the new road would divert much business trade now going to Los Angeles to Bakersfield, where they feel it rightfully belongs.

A keen interest has been evidenced in the project by residents of mountain and desert district as well as Bakersfield people, and a sincere effort is being made to gain favorable action on the matter in the Legislature this year. The measure was presented at the State Legislature last year by J. H. Thornber, assister by C. A. Barlow and H. A. Jastro of Bakersfield. It passed both houses, but was the last road bill to be vetoed by the Governor. The men feel that if the matter is presented again this year to the State it will be accepted.

OWENSMOUTH SCHOOL TEN YEARS OF AGE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

OWENSMOUTH, Nov. 16.—Ten years ago last October Owensmouth High School opened with fifteen pupils, nine from here and six from Hollywood. The next year there was an attendance of thirty-seven. There has been gradual increase until now, when the school has an enrollment of 205, comprising pupils from various communities of the valley. A score of instructors teach the classes.

BURGLAR STEALS MINISTER'S SUIT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ARCADIA, Nov. 16.—Thieves entered the residence of Rev. Hugh Jones, minister of the Community Church, Friday night and stole a quantity of clothes including a new ministerial suit the minister had just bought. Mr. Jones intended to wear the new suit for the first time at his church services today. It was valued at $100. A business suit and an overcoat were also taken, in all amounting to about $250.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

TUJUNGA, Nov. 16.—One hundred live turkeys have been purchased by the Legion post here for the annual Thanksgiving turkey shoot which is to be held at the Phil Begue ranch on the 23rd inst. Each year these shoots are largely attended, bringing forth all the best shots in Tujunga Valley.

Shut Her Eyes, Pulled Trigger, Woman Lives

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 16.—Shutting her eyes before she pulled the trigger of a .35-caliber revolver, probably saved the life of Mrs. Gertrude Mills, 30 years of age, who, the police assert, attempted to take her own life at a late hour this afternoon.

According to the police, the woman placed the gun next to her chest but upon shutting her eyes her aim shifted and the bullet pierced her left arm. The injury is not serious, police say.

The attempted suicide took place at Mrs. Mills's home, 1125 East Villa street. According to the woman's brother, Arthur Shearer, who was in the house at the time and who took the weapon away before she could shoot a second time, domestic trouble was the cause for the shooting. Mrs. Mills, he said, is about to become a mother and she was removed to his home, 1405 East Walnut street. V. C. Mills, her husband, is a mechanic.

PRIESTS TRANSFERRED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Nov. 16.—Several changes in priests for different cities in the San Joaquin Valley have been made by Rev. John Bernard MacGinley, Catholic bishop of the diocese of Monterey and Fresno. Rev. John Galvin, in charge of St. Brigid's church here for the past three years, has been transferred to Bakersfield, where he will succeed Father O'Conner, who has been there several years also. Rev. Michael Stack of St. Anne's, Porterville, will succeed Father Galvin here, and Rev. William McLaughlin will remain as his assistant.

TRUCK DOES DAMAGE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Nov. 16.—Frank Cady, asserted to have been intoxicated, this morning drove a heavy truck through the veranda of a Rose avenue home. Arresting officers found a pint of liquor in the seat of the heavy vehicle. Police said the truck was badly smashed and considerable damage was done the porch. He is being held in the City Jail in lieu of $300. He will appear before Police Judge Rennie Monday afternoon.

RIVERSIDE SHOPLIFTER GANG, GIRLS

Three Little More Than Babies Accused of Long List of Robberies

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 16. — More than $100 worth of merchandise, assertedly stolen from downtown stores, was recovered by police last night following the apprehension of three little girls, all residents of the East Side, who are charged with habitually stealing articles from stores here. Because of the youthfulness of the girls the names were withheld. Two gave their ages as 12 years and the third as 13 years of age.

Caught in a Main-street department store, the youthful shoplifters admitted having taken merchandise from several local stores. Chief of Police Elmer S. Deiss found more than $100 in merchandise in the homes of the girls.

Dolls, vanity cases, beads, beauty compacts, fountain pens, women's silk underwear and stockings, bracelets, pencils and other articles were included in the stolen goods. Two suitcases were used in packing the merchandise.

The girls had numerous articles with them when arrested. These were packed into shopping bags which the girls carried. Several small articles which they had purchased were found also.

The girls were not detained but were taken to their homes. Juvenile authorities probably will be called upon, Chief Deiss declared last night.

NEW COUNTRY CLUB TO EXPEND HALF-MILLION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SANTA SUSANA, Nov. 16.—With the recent purchase of 2000 acres in Ventura county a mile east of here, one of the prettiest of golf courses is to be laid out and a country club erected. The club is being organized by J. Ward Cohen, who has offices in the Bank of Italy Building, Los Angeles. When completed the club and grounds will represent an investment of $500,000. Many prominent Los Angeles persons and firms hold membership in the project.

SORE ARMS MANY IN BAKERSFIELD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16. — What is believed to be a State record in vaccinations has been established by Dr. Joseph Smith and Dr. J. M. Kirby, who in three mornings have vaccinated 1500 persons in Bakersfield and vicinity.

All of the vaccinations were free of charge, saving the residents of the city approximately $3000 at the regulation charge, the doctors said.

Most of those vaccinated were school children, although teachers and public workers were also included.

URGE CHAMBER TO ACT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Nov. 16.—The Venice Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a communication from the Los Angeles body urging that representatives be sent from here to the State-wide meet in the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, the 19th inst. The local body will send delegates, it was stated this morning although as yet they have not been chosen. It was pointed out the leading question to be discussed will be the conservation of State resources.

SHIPS POMEGRANATES

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BRAWLEY, Nov. 16.—Chris Westgard of Brawley has shipped from Imperial Valley the first carload of pomegranates ever to be sent from here. The car was consigned to New York and the fruit is expected to sell for high prices as it will be the first of this kind to enter the eastern markets. Westgard has ten acres of pomegranate trees and expects to ship several carloads of fruit.

ROSE PAGEANT OUTLOOK ROSY

Promises to be Largest in Tournament's History

Fifty Cities Have Announced Entries of Floats

More General Use of Stars and Stripes Planned

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 16.—Pasadena's thirty-seventh annual Tournament of Roses pageant promises to be the largest in number of flower-decorated floats ever witnessed in this city, according to information given out today by Harry M. Ticknor, chairman of the parade committee. At this early date, fifty cities and organizations have notified the Tournament of Roses Association that they will enter floats in the New Year's Day celebration.

From the way entries are coming in, more than a month in advance, indications are, Mr. Ticknor says, that the 1925 parade will be the largest and most beautiful, even surpassing this year's parade which established a record for number of floats and beauty of their design. The 1924 New Year's parade was made up of 150 separate entries.

A number of Pasadena concerns, including the Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, City Dairy, Chamber of Commerce, Civic Association, Merchants' Association, Raymond Hotel, West Coast Langley Theater Circuit and others have already signed the entry blanks.

The Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce informed the Tournament officials that city will enter a beautiful float decorated with wisteria and other flowers, signifying "Sierra Madre, the Wisteria Town." The Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, one of the most consistent cities to enter the Pasadena pageant, announces that body is now planning the finest float it has entered and is bent upon capturing first honors in the civic division.

Word was received from Aimee Semple McPherson of the Angelus Temple in Los Angeles to the effect that several entries will represent that religious organization. A band of uniformed musicians will accompany the float, it was further set forth.

David J. O'Leary, adjutant of the Pasadena post of the American Legion, has secured eight Legion entries so far and expects twenty more posts to enter within the next few weeks.

Preparation of the parade is but one of the many features of the event Tournament officials are now working out. Negotiations are will under way in securing two representative football teams to compete in the annual East-West classic in Rose Bowl, following the parade.

A decoration committee headed by Arthur Raymond, owner of Hotel Raymond, is now making plans for the decoration of the city and of the streets on which the parade will pass. It has been planned to use more American flags this year than ever before, due to the interest the American Legion has taken in the event and their entry of an entire division.

NEW OFFICES FOR VAN NUYS FORCES

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Nov. 16.—Tomorrow morning workmen will begin to tear down a part of the old Golden State Cannery Building here to erect modern offices for the Van Nuys branch of the Public Service Department. Quarters also will be provided for a warehouse and supply depot for the department, including a place for supplies for the increased engineers' forces in Van Nuys. It is learned that when all alterations are finished the entire building may be used to house all of the public-service departments here.

KINGS WILL ERECT HOME FOR LEGION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Nov. 16.—The Supervisors of Kings county have just ordered the purchase of a site for the Legion home which the county will erect in this city, being 125 feet of the west side of the civic center block owned by the city of Hanford. The price paid is $24,000. There is sufficient land secured for the erection of a County Hall of Records later on. The Legion home will be erected adjacent to the Municipal Auditorium which the city of Hanford is erecting and which is now nearly half completed.

FIRST WALNUT PARK HOTEL THROWN OPEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WALNUT PARK, Nov. 16.—The first hotel to be opened in this community is the Walnut Park Hotel, the building having been opened for the first time yesterday evening. The structure was recently erected and occupies a prominent corner at Long Beach Boulevard and Florence avenue, and contains forty-two hotel rooms. It was erected for L. H. Sackett, who has secured a long-time lease on the location from the owner, William Bennett. There are several storerooms on the first floor of the building which are being leased.

ELKS' CIRCUS CLOSES

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 16. The second annual Elks' Charity Circus, which was opened a week ago last night, was brought to a close last night at midnight, and proved to be the most successful event of the kind ever given in Huntington Park. Many thousands of people attended the circus nightly and the banner crowds were those of Friday and Saturday night. Miss Marian Gregg was chosen as queen of the circus, and Miss Mabel Wahlen was a close second, while Miss Bernice Bannon was third.

GRAINS IN MISSION'S BRICKS

Scientist Breaks up Adobe Blocks; Finds What San Fernando Valley Ate Generations Ago

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, Nov. 13.—One of the most interesting experiments probably ever made, with San Fernando Mission as a starting point, and one that will endeavor to prove the kind of grains and cereals that were grown in San Fernando Valley about the time of the Revolutionary War, is being conducted by R. E. Storrie, representing the division of soil technology of the experiment station of the University of California.

Mr. Storrie is taking old adobe bricks from the mission and, breaking them up, is analyzing the straw put into the bricks by the mission padres who erected the mission near the close of the eighteenth century.

Other work of Mr. Storrie consists of making a crop survey of San Fernando Valley to determine the trend of development since water came into the valley via the Los Angeles Aqueduct. A crop survey was made ten years ago. The survey will have to do with the relationship of soil to the various crops and to determine if the right crops are being raised in the most advantageous localities.

"The most interesting part of the work I am now carrying on," Mr. Storrie said today, "is in working on the history of the development of crops in this section.

BRICKS ARE NOT ADOBE

"My first move was to start at the old mission, where I obtained several adobe bricks. These bricks, by the way, are not made of adobe, but of loam soil, and are held together by varieties of straw placed in them by the old Franciscan friars.

"Pulverizing some of these bricks which date back to the Revolutionary period, I have found various sort of horse and cattle hair, and the straw of many grains, some of which do not at the present time grow in this valley. One of the bricks contained several watermelon seeds of ancient lineage. They were small and gourd-like, showing that within the last century and a half watermelon growers have greatly developed the size and flavors of the fruit.

RARE BARLEY SPECIMEN

"San Fernando Valley is still a good spot to grow barley, and I judge it has always been a great barley section, for in one of the bricks I found several varieties of barley, one of a sort that I am unable to identify. This variety must be one that has passed out of use or it has been so greatly developed by modern propagation methods that these old grains bear no resemblance to their progeny of today."

Mr. Storrie stated he will make an effort to classify all the different cereals, seeds and straw found in the bricks in his final efforts to show just what was grown in this section at the time of the founding of the missions and also to demonstrate what was the sorts of food on which the very earliest of Californians lived.

TO GET OTHER BRICKS

It is understood Mr. Storrie will obtain bricks from the other missions in the State for the purpose of furthering his investigations. Bricks also will be obtained from the Sonoma Mission. This was the last built. A comparison will be made of the straws in these bricks with the bricks of the oldest of the missions in an endeavor to place the trend of grain-growing development in the State in the earlier parts of the nineteenth century.

San Fernando is Beset by Plague of Automobiles

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN FERNANDO, Nov. 16.—There is one automobile for every three persons in San Fernando, according to an estimate just completed here.

There are 1800 automobiles and trucks in the city. There are approximately 1300 homes within the city's limits, or more cars than there are garages, which, it is said, is not an unusual case in other towns. New automobile owners are increasing so fast here that the traffic problem is getting away from the city authorities.

Plans are now on foot to redraft new travel ordinances, which, in the end, may lead to roping automobile traffic from the business districts of the city.

DAIRY MEETING AT HANFORD TUESDAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Nov. 16.—One of the most important dairy meetings in the San Joaquin Valley this year will be held in this city next Tuesday, when representatives of all the cow-testing associations of the San Joaquin Valley will convene here with directors of county farm bureau dairying departments. The grade of cows and quality of milk production has been greatly improved the past few years in the big valley by the weeding out of poor milkers through the cow-testing associations. L. W. Fleharty, specialist in farm bureau management, and L. D. Gordon, specialist in dairying, both of the extension service of the State university, will be the principal speakers at Tuesday's conference.

SCHOOL WANTS PART OF HIGHWAY CLOSED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Nov. 16.—The board of governors of the McKinley Industrial "Home for Boys, situated between Lankershim and Van Nuys on Camarillo street, which is to be the western extension of Riverside Drive, has asked the City Council to vacate that street for about a half-mile, as the street at this point cuts the school property in two. The board states the street is not required for public purposes, and, if vacated, could be used by the school. Opponents of the petition assert that the closing of the road would block Riverside Drive from an extension westward as first planned.

GROWERS WILL STUDY PRUNING AT VAN NUYS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Nov. 16.—Beginning tomorrow and continuing for the week, Van Nuys will be visited by deciduous fruit and grape owners who will attend the school of instruction to be held at the High School. The school will be under auspices of the College of Agriculture, and among various courses of instruction will be classes in prunning by demonstrations and by lectures. Prof. W. H. Howard, dean of division of pomology; Prof. A. H. Henrickson, of the Mountain View Experiment Station and Assistant Farm Advisor V. E. Blanchard will conduct the demonstrations.

LANKERSHIM WILL DEDICATE HIGHWAY

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, Nov. 16.—Hollywood Way, the new paved highway one mile east of here, will be dedicated on the 28th inst. William Jennings Bryan has been asked to serve as chief speaker at the dedication. The new highway stretches from the little Cahuenga Pass Road north to the San Fernando Road, near Roscoe. It runs through the heart of Magnolia Park. The street and Lankershim Boulevard are the only streets running north and south across the valley, within a distance of eight miles. Traffic on the road is expected to be heavy.

WANT SCHOOL MOVED OFF DANGEROUS SITE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

UNIVERSAL CITY, Nov. 16.—Residents in the vicinity of Ventura Boulevard and Pacoima avenue are not satisfied with the location of their new school on Carpenter street, east of Laurel Canyon Road and south of the boulevard. An effort is being made to move the school to the other side of the boulevard because all the small pupils live on that side of the thoroughfare. Teachers maintain the lives of the children are endangered each time they attempt to cross the rapid-going traffic of Ventura Boulevard.

GOVERNORS LEAVE FOR INAUGURATION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

MEXICALI, Nov. 16.—Alejo Bay, Governor of the State of Sonora, who has been visiting Gov. Abelardo Rodriguez here several days, left today with Gov. Rodriguez for Mexico City. The officials will attend the inauguration of President-elect Calles, besides attending to official business at the capital.

PAYMENTS FOR LIMA BEAN MEN

San Fernando Growers to Get Another Cent

During Week $110,000 Will be Expended

Value of Yields Greatest in Valley's History

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

RESEDA, Nov. 16.—One cent a pound on estimated or actual re-cleaned weights will be paid to all members of the Van Nuys and Owensmouth Bean Growers' Association this week, it is stated by John H. Walters, manager of the association, with headquarters here.

This means a payment of about $110,000 to growers of baby lima beans and brings payments up to 7 cents a pound.

FURTHER PAYMENTS

A further payment of another cent will be made to growers before December 1 to meet their taxes. At the rate of 8 cents a pound and several more payments to come before the final clean-up of fall stocks, the present year will prove to be the bumper year in the history of bean growing in San Fernando Valley. The association is owned and controlled by the growers themselves and is operated under a principle that assures fair prices both to grower and consumer.

More than 32,000 100-pound bags of baby lima beans have been shipped this season by the various valley warehouses of the association.

THREE MARKET CROPS

Alex. Jeffery of Reseda is president of the Owensmouth branch of the association; Hugo Carlson of Owensmouth is secretary. William Petit is president of the Van Nuys branch. All three have charge of the marketing of the valley crop in conjunction with the salesforces of the California Lima Bean Growers' Association of Oxnard, in Ventura county.

The association is rated among the most efficient of the several strongly organized marketing associations in San Fernando Valley.

JOY RIDERS STILL IN ACTION AT HANFORD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Nov. 16.—Stealing autos for joy rides still continues in Hanford and vicinity, nothing being lost in most instances but the gasoline used in the pleasure trips. Two cars stolen from the business streets of this city have both been found intact, one at the sewer farm south of town and the other in Chinatown. A car which had been standing for several days and nights near the highway north of town was hauled into town by a deputy sheriff. It belonged to a man in Exeter, Tulare county.

RE-ELECT OFFICERS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SOUTH GATE, Nov. 16.—The Chamber of Commerce has re-elected all of its present officers to serve another year and, at the next regular meeting the latter part of the month, they will be installed. They are Samuel M. Dudley, president; T. F. Silvester, secretary, and G. H. Hurd, treasurer. The reports of the year show that there were forty-two members a year ago, and now there are 139.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

The are politely requested to submit samples carefully wrapped and tagged, with letter accompanying, stating what tests are desired. Make sample of small size. There is no necessity for big chunks. Correspondents offering matter for analysis with card, or scrap of paper, intended to show that the stuff is from Jim Jones, for instance, with no mark of identification on samples, will hereafter receive no attention. Analyses are made free of charge.

Quarts

FORT HAUCHA (Ariz.) Oct. 1. Question: Two samples inclosed for analyses. Would you kindly tell me if No. 1 contains quicksilver, or platinum. Thanking you.
A SUBSCRIBER.

Answer: Sample No. 1 is quartz mixed with limonite (hydrous yellow iron pyroxide) and a little hematite (iron peroxide.) It reacts, as a bare trace only for mercury, and probably in the form of calomel. No. 3 is chiefly quartz with traces of copper. Gold (by fire assay) might be found in similar rock.

Limonite

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 1.—Q.: Kindly give me the potential values of the inclosed sample of iron ore taken from a deposit in the State of California. Thanking you in advance. R.

A.: The specimen is of blackish color and is also known as brown hematite. In cleavage it is on the order of calcite, and probably is an altered product. For percentage values of iron a quantitative analysis should be made on similar samples.

Two Samples

SHARP (Nev.) Nov. 2.—Q.: The two samples sent you today were found in the Grant range, Nye county, Nevada, about eighteen miles north of Frieburg, and the specimens were taken from the same lead. The soft whitish one is from the hangingwall, the hard rock from footwall. Quartzite hangingwall and blue-lime footwall. The dark sample is from a large deposit. The whitish mineral occurs in small quantities. Will you please analyze the two for me, and give me the results. Greatly oblige. Y.

A.: The whitish mineral kalinite (hydrous aluminum-potassium sulphate;) it is the so-called "alum" of pharmacy, and of high value in the commercial industries.

The dark, grayish rock is greatly altered. It contains more or less hornblende and pyroxene with a low percentage of kalinite and it is somewhat doubtful if it would be a paying proposition to extract the alum from such rock.

Three Samples

LONE PINE, Nov. 3.—Q.: I am sending you three samples marked as follows. One, silver ore, one sample of Andalusite, and one powdered in envelope. I think that I am right about the andalusite sample as it is from an operating property, but what I do want to know is: What is the powder? and is it andalusite? Next what kind of silver is the metal on the corner of the sample, marked silver ore? I am not sure of it as I can get only 3 per cent lead from such ore. Could it be argentite, or what is it please? The andalusite is from Mono county, and the silver ore from the Panamint Range, Inyo county, California. Thank you.
A GIRL IN THE HILLS.

A.: The supposed to be silver ore appears to be a mixture of hematite, with low percentages of stibnite (antimony sulphade,) and zinc sulphide (blends) present. The other solid specimen is andalusite. If you will kindly forward a massive sample of the powdered mineral, it will be a pleasure to report thereon. Powdered specimens are not satisfactory to handle by this department of The Times.

Platinum Absent

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Q.: Will you please analyze the ore samples accompanying this letter? As to the metallic ore, it was found a few miles this side of Needles. I should like to know, whether or not it contains iridium and platinum, if yes, what is the ratio? If not, what are the ingredients of the ore? Regarding silica specimen. I should like to know the ingredients; is it free from iron oxide, and is it high grade or not? It was found in San Diego county, near the Mexican boundary line. M. D.

A.: The blackish-blue specimens contain microscopical pyroxene hornblende present, and the pyroxene is, in part, eoccolite. No member of the platinum group is present; microscopical pyrite, and microscopic muscovite found, both, in traces only. The silica is of fair grade only, it is contaminated slightly with hematite (especially so as coating.) Biotite and hornblende, each, in traces only.

Free Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4. — Q.: Sample No. 1 was run into at the 320-foot level, on our property, in drifting south. It looks to be quite a "shoot" in magnitude, and the ore is between four and five feet in thickness; it assays $20 per ton ore in gold, silver, lead and zinc. Can this ore be easily concentrated and the zinc separated, if so by what method? Does this ore carry cadmium. I would like to know if this ore is primary or secondary. I have always called it secondary. Sample No. 2 is from copper outcroppings. What other indications than for copper and gold are there? The vein is about twenty feet in width, and the outcropping twenty feet in height; it is a monster. The pay-streak in the vein will figure about three feet, and no doubt with depth the whole ledge may carry copper. Does sample No. 3 (honeycombed) carry any vanadium. J.

A.: Sample No. 1 is not much on lead content; it contains zinc sulphide and carbonate; lime carbonate present. Owing to the very low percentage of sulphides it is problematical indeed whether flotation or other concentration would pay wages for working it. Sample No. 2 consists of five specimens of altered ferruginous quartz, chloritic matter, zinc and copper in very low percentages. No. 3 is made up of the honeycombed sample and it carries no vanadium. Two other specimens in same wrapper as No. 3 are ferruginous quartz. Regarding "primary" and "secondary." We would rather be on the ground and study formations, than pass an opinion from the samples only.

Free Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—Q.: The three samples were found in the Santa Monica mountains. Please test them for minerals of importance. Will you tell me what kind of quartz No. 1 is. Is mineral of any kind found in such quartz. I believe No. 4 contains either gold or platinum. SUBSCRIBER.

A.: Sample No. 1 is Chalcedony; it is part of a geode, showing lime carbonate core, and rather doubtful gold bearing rock. No. 2 is a mixture of silica, lime silicate, iron oxides, and iron silicate. No. 3 is ferruginous quartz. No. 4 is quartzitic conglomerate, in part, with other massive quartz, traces of mica and microscopical pyrite present.

Nickel Absent

BLYTHE, Nov. 5.—Q.: Sample No. 1 is from a big deposit and I get a volatile element out of it which is white on charcoal and blue on the edges. I also send sample No. 2. No. 3 I take to be nickel arsenide. —O.

A.: No. 1 is a variety of marl (lime carbonate) magnesium and sodium sulphates present. No. 2 is a chip of limonite (yellow iron oxide) with botryoidal limonite in shot-like forms. Lead, zinc, and antimony traces only of each. No. 3 is milk-white crystallized lime carbonte (Calcite.)

Two Samples

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Q.: Sample No. 1—what value? I thought it had value for lime or cement. No. 2, any value? C.

Sandstone

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—Q.: Will you kindly state through your Monday's column the character of the stone, sample of which is enclosed, and whether suitable for building purposes, and for crushing as rock-sand for concrete work and rubble for road building.
J. M. M.

A.: The sample is a small-grained conglomerate in part; pyrite absent. Potash mica, hematite and limonite in traces only. It is not high grade mineral for the purposes indicated.

NEW MINERAL SHIPPED FOR RADIO EQUIPMENT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Nov. 16. — Crystals of pyrites of iron are a new Arizona mineral product of value, shipped east for use in the manufacture of radio equipment. Seven tons of the material have been ordered from Ed Hill and R. E. Culver, who are operating a copper mine above Poland Junction on upper Big Bug Creek. They receive 60 cents a pound.

BOOM IN STOCKS AFFECTS BONDS

Rails Reach Highest Level in Trading Year

Trend Led by High-Yielding Railroad Issues

Broadened Investment Share Up-Swing of Carriers

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Bullish sentiment in Wall street which found an impressive boom in the stock market last week was accentuated to-day by bond trading. Rising prices to the highest level of the year under the leadership of high-yielding railroad issues. The advance, however, was interrupted by profit-taking and a diversion of speculative interest to specialties coincident with a tightening of the time money market.

Many new high records were established by semispeculative railroad obligations which readily overcame realising sales and showed net gains of 1 to 5 points on the week. The up-swing in bonds followed in the wake of the rally in rail shares with growing belief that restoration of confidence in the railroad outlook would be reflected in better earnings and more constructive dividend and newer developments.

LOW BONDS BOUGHT

Broadened investment interest is the enormous demand for all securities, buying orders including such liens as New York Central, Atchison General 4s, Northern Pacific and Pennsylvania mortgages. The bond buying, however, was confined largely to the lower-priced issues. Early adjustment 5s led the way with a gain of almost 2 points on a remarkable turnover of more than $5,000,000 during the week.

Other conspicuous strong spots included Frisco, Seaboard, International, Great Northern, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Minneapolis and St. Louis, Chicago and Alton, Iowa Central and Norfolk and Southern liens. Several of the New Haven issues reached new high levels on reports of progress in the road's refunding plans.

NEW BONDS INCREASE

The lull in new financing, imposed partially by the shift of Wall street's interest to speculative market activities continued. New bond offerings aggregated $43,000,000, an increase of about $10,000,000 over the preceding week. As a result of the reduced volume of business the investment market was described as hungry for new issues. Among the offerings scheduled for next week is a $15,000,000 block of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation 6 per cent bonds and $11,500,000 Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company thirty-year 5s.

With negotiations almost concluded for the $100,000,000 French loan, an early offering in this market is awaited. The necessity of obtaining parliamentary approval may prevent the flotation this week, but the banking syndicate headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., is prepared to handle the issue as soon as it is sanctioned officially.

WELLS TEST NEW FIELDS

South End of San Joaquin Valley Dotted by Holes in Oil Quest; Success Still in Doubt

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16.—Extending in a great semicircle, though widely spaced apart, from the environs of Bakersfield to a point southeast of Maricopa, the rim of the southern end of the San Joaquin Valley is at present receiving a most thorough test for undiscovered oil deposits.

The line of the semicircle begins in the Poso Creek district, northeast of this city, where T. A. Piper of Oakland has for some time been endeavoring to get production on his leases, but so far without success.

Projected southward, the next test is that of the Commercial well on Section 26, 28-28. An attempt last Sunday to bring in this well was a failur on account of water trouble and it is believed the hole will have to be redrilled.

Crossing the river, almost due south but a little to the east the line crosses the high bluffs where the Pan-American and Kern River Oilfields Limited are sinking their deep test wells.

Seven or eight miles to the south again is the Leonard Jones derrick in the Weed Patch district, where the Shell Company is to drill. Further south and east is the Comanche Point lease well of the General Petroleum, nearing the 3000-foot level. It is said other large companies have combined with the G. P. to defray the expense of this operation.

Comanche Point marks the farthest south test so far on the east side of the valley. Southwest of there and on the other side of the valley lies the San Emidio ranch of the Kern County Land Company where the Standard Oil Company has put in a well-equipped outfit for a thorough test. Roads have been built and a fine camp erected there.

Some oil men profess to have little faith in the prospect of discovering new fields on the east side of the valley. They point out that of all the wells started this year in new territory only one, the Cauley No. 1 of the Marland Oil Company, has so far been turned into a producer. This, too, lies in practically proven territory—the west front extension of the Kern River field.

Significant, they say, is the apparent failure so far of the Union Oil Company to produce any encouraging results on its Rio Bravo wildcat, and of the Main Oil Company to bring in a well on its lease southwest of Wasco.

As for the Marland's Shields lease east of Lost Hills, that has definitely been abandoned. The three last-named are all on the floor of the valley, where, in the opinion of geologists, deep drilling would be necessary to tap commercial oil.

Company Gives Up Search for Buried Meteor

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Nov. 16.—Report has come from Meteor Mountain that the United States Smelting and Refining Company is dismantling its drilling equipment, for removal to Oatman, and that it will abandon its efforts to locate the meteor believed to have plunged into the earth at a point near the eastern edge of Coconino county.

A few months ago statement was made that the mass of iron finally had been found by the drills, but this appears to have been untrue. The company has been working for two years on the property, which is owned by the Barringer interests of Philadelphia. Exploration has been continued for about twenty-five years. The iron found has been of very high quality, with a large percentage of nickel.

ATLAS NO. 6 MAKES GOOD OIL SHOWING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Nov. 16.—The Atlas No. 6 well on Section 30, 12-23 in the Sunset field has made an excellent showing at 3365 feet and the drillers have backed up to 3356 feet and landed a water string of eight-and-five-eighths-inch casing.

HARBOR OIL RECORD FOR PAST WEEK

Port Shipments Totaled 1,645,468 Barrels, Mostly for Coast Points

Shipments of petroleum from Los Angeles Harbor last week totaled 1,645,468 barrels. This quantity of oil was taken out in twenty-five tanker loads, most of which went to Pacific Coast seaports. One shipment went to Chile, six went to the Atlantic seaboard and eighteen went into the Pacific Coast domestic trade channels. The shipments were as follows:

NOVEMBER 9

W. S. Miller, for Richmond, with 74,845 barrels of crude for Standard Oil Company.
Salina, for Portland, with 44,828 barrels of crude for Struthers & Barry.

NOVEMBER 9

NOVEMBER 14

D. G. Scofield, for Richmond, with 79,600 barrels of crude for Standard Oil Company.

COUNTY TO STAND SOLID IN TAX CASE

Kern Supervisors Decide to Back Legal Battle to Reverse Levy Ruling

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16.—That the Board of Supervisors will stand solidly behind the legal battle of the District Attorney in fighting the suit of oil companies to prevent taxation of Federal leased oil lands, was the burden of a motion passed.

The county lost its first tilt against the legal forces of the oil companies when Judge Jessie Olney of San Bernardino denied the demurrer of Kern county against the oil suit.

Oil companies leasing government oil lands originally filed suits against Kern county asking court order to prevent the county from taxing lands leased from the government, on the theory that the oil companies are merely instrumental in operating the oil lands.

Members of the Board of Supervisors in backing the county's legal fight to retain the right to tax these lands, hold that the county stands to lose a great source of revenue if the ultimate decision of the courts favors the lessees.

Dist.-Atty. H. E. Schmidt has already stated that he will carry the appeal to the highest courts before the county ceases to uphold the contention of the right to tax government leased holdings.

NEW WELL SHOWS OIL

Atlas Hole at 3360 Feet Gives Encouraging Indications

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Nov. 16.—Well No. 6 of the Atlas Oil Company on Section 30, 12-23, situated a few hundred feet from Caliyada No. 1 which came in this year at 1800 barrels, is down 3360 feet with an encouraging showing of oil and gas. Caliyada No. 2 on Section 24, 32-24, in the same group, is down 3600 feet with drilling going ahead steadily.

PRODUCTION IS NOTED BY PACIFIC OIL WELL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Nov. 16.—The Pacific Oil Company's No. 10 well on Section 29, 31-24 has been put on production at 800 barrels, it is announced. The new well was the first of two put down by the Pacific on the flats north of the North American lease in the western end of the Buena Vista Valley. The well was completed at 4200 feet. Wallace Canfield, superintendent, says the company at present has eight rotaries working.

Well in Mexico Produces 50,000 Barrels Per Day

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 16.—On the Tierra Blanca Hacienda at Tomapache in the State of Vera Cruz, the Tuxpam Petroleum Company has brought in an oil well which is flowing 50,000 barrels per day, according to an announcement from the Minister of Industry, Commerce and Labor.

The well, called Tierra Blanca No. 32, came in from a depth of 646 meters, indicating renewed activity in the oil fields thereabout. This well, together with the other good wells recently brought in there and in the Cacalilao district, is taken as an indication that there is slight foundation for the recent rumors to the effect that Mexican oil production is on the decline.

KINGS LEASING LIVELY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Nov. 16.—Leasing of land in southwestern Kings county for oil development is lively and the likelihood that the General Petroleum Corporation will bring in a well drilled recently to 5400 feet has caused a lot of location work, surveying, leasing and transferring of property.

The Marland Oil Company which has been leasing in considerable quantities yesterday filed in the office of the County Recorder a lease on a section belonging to the San Francisco-Fresno Company, on the eastern ridge of the Coast Range, just north of the Kern county line. The lease is on a royalty basis and the lessee agrees to drill to a depth of 5000 feet in the first well if necessary.

LEASE CHANGES HANDS

Fresno-Taft Company Acquires Hovey Hills Tract

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16.—The Fresno-Taft Oil Company has obtained from the Hovey Hills Oil Company the assignment of a lease to eighty acres in the Hovey Hills area.

This land, which was leased to the Hovey Hills concern by T. E. and Louise Klipstein, is described as the east half of the southwest quarter of Section 13, 31-22. The district lies west of Fellows and is being exploited by a number of companies.

New Leases at Weed Patch Are Put on Record

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16.—One hundred and twenty acres of potential oil land less than two miles from the Mountain View school in the Weed Patch district are included in oil leases secured by the Petroleum Midway Company, Ltd., and the General Petroleum Corporation, according to documents filed with the County Recorder.

The Petroleum Midway Company secured the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 28, 30-29, from Albert E. West and Linus J. Bennett. The lease expires in twenty years and contains a drilling agreement that operations will begin within three years. An oil royalty of one-eighth is specified also.

General Petroleum acquired a twenty-year lease on the south half of the southeast quarter of Section 30, 30-29. The drilling agreement in this lease calls for drilling to begin within a period of three years, with a one-eighth royalty.

Use One Power Plant to Pump Five Oil Wells

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TORRANCE, Nov. 16.—In an effort to reduce operating expense and realize bigger profits from pumping wells, three oil companies in this district have joined their interests and are using the same power to pump their properties.

It has been estimated by James Ring of the Ring Petroleum Company, which is one of the companies, that two-thirds of the operating cost will be saved by the business arrangement.

The Ring Petroleum Company with two wells, the Native Petroleum Company with two and Harry Armstrong with one well are all operating from one central pumping plant.

The aggregate daily production of the five wells affected is 420 barrels of crude which is being pumped as cheaply as individual powers formerly were operated. This system has been established in the Mid-Continent field, but has not come into general use in the western section.

More Concerns Taking Leases in Weed Patch

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16. — The procession of companies entering the Weed Patch field continues. The larger concerns have been continually adding to their acreage in the last few weeks. The General Petroleum Corporation has just leased an eighty-acre tract from the San Joaquin Development Company of this city, described as the south half of southeast quarter of Section 30, 30-29.

Eight wells are to be drilled there, with a test to 4000 feet, drilling to commence within three years. One-eighth oil royalty is stipulated in the lease.

The Petroleum Midway Company has acquired a forty-acre tract in the same district from Albert E. and Jane West and L. J. and Verra Bennett. This land is described as the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 24, 30-29. Conditions call for four wells, a test well to be sunk to a depth of 4000 feet within three years and a one-eighth oil royalty.

Interest to be payable without deduction for any Federal income tax up to 2% per annum which the Corporation or Trustee may be required to withhold. Pennsylvania four mill tax refundable.

THE CHASE NATIONAL BANK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE

For information regarding these Bonds, we refer to a letter dated November 14, 1924, of Mr. E. W. Sinclair, President of the Corporation, which he has briefly summarized as follows:

SECURITY: The First Lien Collateral Gold Bonds are to be secured by pledge of $110,000,000 face amount of First Mortgage 7% Bonds of subsidiary companies and by the capital stocks owned of an aggregate par value in excess of $80,000,000. The $110,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds to be pledged, comprise those of Sinclair Oil & Gas Company ($45,000,000,) Sinclair Refining Company, ($57,000,000,) and Sinclair Navigation Company ($8,000,000.)

STOCK PURCHASE WARRANTS: The Bonds will bear non-detachable stock purchase warrants entitling the holder of each $1000 Bond on presentation thereof to purchase common stock of the Corporation in amounts and at prices as follows:

50 shares at $20 per share if exercised on or before December 1, 1925; or 45 shares at $22.50 per share if exercised thereafter on or before December 1, 1926; or 40 shares at $25.00 per share if exercised thereafter on or before June 1, 1927.

Corresponding warrants are to be attached to $500 and $100 Bonds. In the event that the Bonds are called for redemption, the right to exercise the stock purchase warrants is to extend up to 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption, but in no event later than June 1, 1927.

ASSETS: The Consolidated Balance Sheet, as of August 31, 1924, after giving effect to the issue of these Three-Year Bonds and the issue of $6,000,000 Equipment Trust Notes guaranteed by this Corporation, shows consolidated total net assets (after deducting all liabilities except the First Lien Collateral Bonds) of approximately 3.70 times the face amount of First Lien Collateral Bonds, including this issue. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities as shown in said adjusted balance sheet is nearly 4 to 1.

EARNINGS: The consolidated net earnings available for interest and Federal taxes before reserves for depletion, depreciation, etc., as certified by Arthur Young & Company, Public Accountants, were:

Year ended Dec. 31, 1920— 35,580,415
Year ended Dec. 31, 1921— 10,785,313
Year ended Dec. 31, 1922— 30,943,794
Year ended Dec. 31, 1923— 13,436,504

These earnings averaged over 3½ times the combined annual interest on the First Lien Collateral Bonds, including this issue, and on $9,389,787 other debt outstanding as shown on the above mentioned balance sheet. Consolidated net earnings for the year ended December 31, 1924 (two months estimated) available for interest, reserves and surplus, it is believed, will exceed the $13,436,504 net earnings shown above for the year ended December 31, 1923.

EQUITY: The outstanding stock of the Corporation at current quotations represents an equity of almost $100,000,000 ranking junior to the First Lien Collateral Gold Bonds.

It is expected that application will be made to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange. The legal proceedings in connection with the issue are being passed upon by Messrs. Hornblower, Miller & Garrison and Messrs. Rushmore, Bisbee & Stern. Interim Receipts or Temporary Bonds will be deliverable in the first instance. All offerings are subject to approval of proceedings by counsel, and "when, as and if issued" and received by us.

Holders of record of common stock of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation on November 17, 1924, will be given first opportunity to subscribe for the Bonds on the basis of not exceeding $100 of Bonds for each 30 shares owned.

The subscription books will be opened at the office of Blair & Co., Inc., at 10 o'clock A.M. Wednesday, November 19, 1924, and may be closed in its discretion without notice. The right is reserved to reject any application and also to allot a smaller amount of Bonds than applied for.

Last-Minute News From Petroleum Fields and Marts of Trade

SIX NEW WELLS IN KERN FIELDS

Number is Two Less Than for Previous Week

Pan-American Begins Couple on Crampton Holding

Three Repair Jobs and Four Shutoff Tests Reported

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16.—Oilfield operations in Kern county during the past week included six new wells, four tests for water shutoff and three deepening or redrilling jobs. This is two less new wells than were started the previous week.

The Pan-American has begun the drilling of two new wells on its Crampton property in the Elk Hills, one on Section 6, 31-25 and the other on Section 1, 31-24. The Pacific Oil Company has also begun a new well in the Elk Hills, it being the No. 5 hole on Section 35, 30-24.

In the Midway field the Mocal Oil Company has spudded in its No. 13 well on Section 26, 31-22, while in the Sunset district the St. Anthony Oil Company has a crew of drillers at work on its first well on Section 10, 11-24. Also in the Sunset field the General Petroleum Corporation has begun its 70-A well on Section 12, 11-24.

Three repair jobs were reported begun in Kern county for the past week. They are: Standard Oil Company, No. 13, Section 31, 30-25, Elk Hills; East Puente Oil Company, No. 9, Section 11, 30-31, McKittrick; Del Rey Oil Company, No. 8, Section 8, 29-25.

Tests for water shutoff in the Midway field were: Midland Oil Fields Company, Ltd., No. 13, Section 24, 31-23, and the Standard Oil Company, No. 17, Section 16, 32-24. In the Sunset the tests were: Transport Oil Company, No. 2, Section 4, 11-23, and Havenstrite & Baker, No. 1, Section 17, 11-23.

Activities further north in the fields of San Joaquin Valley include the starting of a new hole by the Shannon Oil Company, its No. 2, Section 15, 32-27, in Tulare county and the redrilling of the Inca Oil Company's No. 20 well in the Coalinga field on Section 24, 20-14.

FISHING JOB DELAYS WISECARVER NO. 1

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16.—Because of a fishing job, completion of the Union Oil Company's Wisecarver No. 1 well, southwest of McKittrick, has been delayed. Heavy gas pressure has been reported in the well and there have been some blowouts.

DOMINGUEZ OUTLOOK GOOD

With Ten Wells Near Completion Field is Expected to Approach Torrance Yield During Week

With ten wells nearing completion, the Dominguez field is expected to closely approach the Torrance district in total yield during the current week. One well was placed on production at Dominguez last week. It was the Shell Company's Reyes No. 12, which is now doing 2000 barrel daily. This is the first Shell production in the southeast section, offsetting the Associated Oil Company's De Francis projects.

Shell's Reyes No. 18 showed 600 barrels daily on a production test, but was killed for more work before being regularly completed.

The ten wells which are expected to swell production figures soon are divided between the Associated, Shell, Marland and Union oil companies. The Associated De Francis No. 4 is swabbing for production test at present. The hole is 3935 feet deep, eight-inch casing having been carried to 3920 feet.

The Marland Oil Company's Dominguez No. 3 is in the oil sand at 4286 feet. Eight-inch casing was landed at 4095 feet and six-inch is now being run in. The well is four feet deeper than the No. 1, which was brought in several months ago.

WET CEMENT JOB

The Shell's Childs No. 2 again developed a wet cement job and recementing is under way. Three Reyes wells are near the production stage. They are No. 16, which is 3720 feet deep, and in which three-inch tubing is being run; No. 17, recemented at 4031 feet; and No. 15, reaming at 3855 feet. All are in the southeastern area, indicating the strong campaign which the Shell has put on to get its share of the good production being extracted from that part of the district by the United and Marland outfits.

Five Union Oil Company of California wells are close to completion. Callender No. 5, which is an offset to the General Petroleum Corporation's Gardena wells in the northwest corner, is cleaned out to bottom and is coring ahead. Depth is 4860 feet. Callender No. 7 is in the oil sand at 4064 feet. Cement was drilled out yesterday. The well is in the second line 600 feet north and the same distance west of Callender No. 6, which is one of the best wells in the field. Its production is approximately 2250 barrels daily. Locations for No. 8 and No. 9 have been made by the Union.

RELIABILITY SHOWN

The Union's two Carson wells are cemented in the oil sand. No. 2, drilled to 4313 feet, has developed persistent water trouble. No. 3, one location west of No. 1, on Victoria street, is down 4195 feet. Carson No. 1 is another illustration of the reliability of Dominguez wells. Placed on production six months ago at 3000 barrels, it is still producing close to 2000 barrels daily.

The Union's Hellman No. 8 is cemented in the oil sand at 3764 feet. The location is 600 feet west of the No. 7, which has been on production for several months. Hellman No. 9, No. 10, and No. 11 have been marked out by the Union.

The two outposts of the Dominguez field are drilling valiantly ahead but have found nothing encouraging. Birch No. 1, located a mile due west of the discovery rig, is in hard gray sand at 5296 feet. Two and one-half miles southeast is the Fresno Petroleum Company's Suracre No. 1. This project is drilling at 5205 feet. The last core showed all brown shale with no oil, it is said. The well was once abandoned at 4811 feet, but developments in the Marland and United holdings caused resumption of work.

FREE OF WILDCATS

Because of the Union's Gardena No. 1 world's record dry hole test to more than 7000 feet in the northwest, flanked by the failure of the General Petroleum's Austin and White wells, and the Standard's two unsuccessful tests south of the Marland producers, the Dominguez district has been free of outlying wildcats. Surprisingly few wells have been drilled in the district without success.

Fifty-one wells are in process of drilling in the field, with twenty-seven on production, yielding a total of 35,000 barrels daily. The Union and the Shell have each brought in twelve producers, with one each credited to the General Petroleum, Marland and United organizations. Drilling activity is split between the Shell, Union, Associated, Marland, United, Birch, Fresno Petroleum, General Petroleum and Henderson companies.

TWO WELLS AT RIDEOUT FIND SHALE

Associated and Mohawk Holes Now at Depth of 3730 and 3360 Feet

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WHITTIER, Nov. 16.—The Associated Oil Company well on the Gregg lease in Rideout Heights is drilling in shale at 3730 feet and the Mohawk Oil Company Denny Well No. 1 has hit shale and shell at 3360 feet with the log following closely that of the O'Donnell No. 6 well.

The Pan-American well on the Jesrum lease in the same district is testing a water shut-off at 3120 feet and the Taylor interests have cemented the California Royalties Company well at 3750 feet. A fishing job at 3100 feet is keeping the drilling crew busy at that depth.

The Petroleum Midway Company, which took over the leases held by James O'Donnell shortly after the discovery of the field, has two wells active. The Pellisier well No. 1 is idle at 4460 feet, while the Rideout-Hamburg No. 1 is fishing at 4620 feet. In neither well has there been unusual indication of oil production. The Seward Rideout well is drilling at 4650 feet. Drillers are not favorably impressed with the showings of the well so far. The Witte-Vining No. 1 is idle at 4690 feet and will not be drilled deeper until showings in surrounding wells justify it.

In the Old Whittier field the Ocean View Oil Company well No. 2 is pumping oil and water at 3500 feet. It is believed that the well will have to be drilled deeper if oil is secured.

The Standard Oil Company well No. 21 on the Home lease is drilling in sandy shale at 3400 feet.

In the North Whittier field where it was believed the Superior Oil Company had developed a well, the tests made at 2900 feet and at 3370 feet have failed to materialize although a sand was present during that interval. The well is being drilled deeper in an effort to secure production. The well is located in Turnbull Canyon.

Shortage Seen in Gasoline if Demand Holds

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TULSA (Okla.) Nov. 16.—If the present demand for gasoline continues throughout the winter months there is a possibility of a gasoline shortage next summer. Generally Mid-Continent refiners begin storing gasoline during October, November and December, but since the end of September they have been selling all of their production and prices have steadily advanced.

Sinclair Refining Company and Carson Petroleum Company are in the market for 64-66 grade, 375 end-point gasoline for export, and refiners in the three States are unwilling to sell at the offered price of 10 cents a gallon at the refinery because of the strong demand for gasoline from the Central Mississippi Valley States.

Some refiners venture the prediction that gasoline prices this winter may advance instead of decline as has been the rule in previous winters.

STILL A WILDCAT

Drilling in Kettleman Hills is Down to Brown Shale

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Nov. 16.—R. R. Shinn, superintendent for the General Petroleum Corporation, states that the company's wildcat well in Kettleman Hills known as Oschner No. 1 is drilling ahead in brown shale at 5300 feet with no unusual showings.

The General Petroleum well at Comanche Point, Mr. Shinn says, able trace of oil. It is expected that a deep test will have to be reached 2654 feet with no notice-

SAND IS FOUND IN TWO WELLS

Outlook in Rosecrans Field Considered Brighter

Openings Had Already Been Classed as Dry Holes

Several New Producers Are Expected Next Week

While no wells were placed on production last week, the outlook for the Rosecrans field is considered brighter because of recent happenings than at any time since the field was discovered.

The outstanding development of the week was the finding of a good oil sand in both the General Petroleum's Amestoy and the Union's Trust No. 1, both located at One Hundred and Thirty-fifth and Hoover streets.

These two, after having been looked upon as good chance propositions, failed to show any favorable formations until early last week. The Amestoy had reached 5985 feet and the Trust was down 5767 feet, and operators had already classed them both as dry holes, when the core barrels of both wells brought up a rich sand. The Amestoy is coring ahead at 6015 feet and the Trust doing the same at 5801 feet. The last core in the Amestoy, taken at 6009 feet, failed to cut oil, while the Trust sample, taken at 5793 feet, was rich.

EXPECT NEW PRODUCERS

From field indications the coming week should see several new producers added to the Rosecrans list. Special interest is attached to new producers because of the unexpected performance of the Union's Rosecrans No. 4, the last well to be placed on production. This hole, after starting off two weeks ago at 2600 barrels, is still doing 1100 barrels.

At least eleven wells are in the oil sand at Rosecrans and may be expected to go on production during the next week or ten days. The Associated's Wanka, Barnsdall's Rosecrans No. 2, Superior's Maxwell No. 3, Union's Chandler No. 1 and three Marland-Wiley wells are the near-completions in the southwest section. In the northwest or Athens sector, Howard Park No. 3, and No. 6, Barnsdall's O'Dea No. 1 and Miley No. 2 are favored ones.

The Wanka well is down 4138 feet, having sixty feet of oil sand. Three-inch tubing has been run for a production test. Barnsdall's Rosecrans No. 2 is down 4106 feet. The casing test was good and the well is being drilled into the sand. Superior's Maxwell No. 3 is bailing for a production test. Depth of the well is 4332 feet. The Chandler well is flowing mud, gas and oil. Tubing pressure is fifty pounds and casing pressure is 200 pounds. No estimate of production has been made. The well was formerly on production, but it yielded only 150 barrels daily. Its depth is 4045 feet.

Three E. J. Miley and Marland Oil wells may place this organization in the production columns within the week. Marland-Miley No. 1 is down 4404 feet, reaming to set ten-inch casing at about 3840 feet. Shale and oil sand is the formation. No. 2 was cemented at 4354 feet, but appears to be wet.

CLEANING OUT CEMENT

The Howard Park No. 3 well, 200 yards southeast of the discovery rig at One Hundred and Thirtieth and Figueroa street, is cleaning out cement. The hole is down 4944 feet. It should be th eneat producer in that section. No. 6 of the Howard Park group is cemented in the oil sand at 4665 feet. Cement will be drilled out tomorrow or Wednesday. The well is at One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, just east of Figueroa street. It offsets Miley No. 2, which is cemented at 4661 feet, but is reported to be wet. Barnsdall's O'Dea No. 1 is bailing to be put on production. Depth of the hole is 4781 feet. A production test of this well taken on Thursday resulted in a flow rate of 900 barrels per day of 59.5 degrees gravity oil.

An interesting development came yesterday when the Union found an oil sand in the Zins well at 4855 feet. The well is at Wilmington Road and Rosecrans avenue and is the most easterly project to catch the pay.

E. J. Miley's No. 1 Athens, which was cemented at 4947 feet, began drilling out cement last night. It is being closely watched because of its location one-half mile northwest of the discovery rig.

There are at present approximately seventy wells in process of drilling at Rosecrans. Because of the doubtful outlook of the field in the past few weeks, fourteen of this number are idle, suspended or have rigs up and have not started work. Daily production of the field is approximately 3100 barrels, coming from seven wells. Three are Union projects, including the Howard Park No 1, which is doing 600 barrels; Gray No. 1, doing 150 barrels, and Rosecrans No. 4, flowing 1100 barrels. The Associated, Barnsdall, Superior and Rankline companies each have one producer.

COPPER PRODUCTION SHOWS NO INCREASE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX (Aris.) Nov. 16.—Though the copper market has risen to 13 5-8 cents, Arizona producers show no signs of increased production. Credit for the slight increase is given to foreign demands. At call, Arizona is capable of nearly doubling her present copper output, though it is doubtful if a number of relatively inefficient reduction plants could be operated at profit at anything like the present gross return for the red metal.

MARLAND CAULEY TWO OIL WELL CEMENTED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 16.—The Marland Oil Company has completed the cementing of its Cauley No. 2 well on Section 16, 28-27, in the northwest end of the Kern River field. The plug was put in at a depth of 660 feet with fifteen-inch casing. It is anticipated drilling through of the cement will start this week. The No. 1 well of this company continues to hold up its good initial production and it is believed as good a showing will be found in No. 2.

Two Wells Near to Production in Huntington Area

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 16. No new completions marked field activity here during the week just passed, but at least two wells are making preparations for production. These are the Standard Oil Company's Bolsa No. 17 and the Petroleum Midway Company's Wilson No. 3.

The Standard is now conducting a campaign of exploration at extreme ends of the field by erecting rigs at the northeasterly and southeasterly limits. In the northeasterly corner the Bolsa No. 16 will be drilled, and the Thompson No. 5 will be drilled at the other extreme.

There are now 216 active wells in the field. Twenty-five of them are flowing and the remainder are pumpers. The field's output is about 39,000 barrels per day. The daily output one year ago this week was 75,000 barrels.

NEW WELL AT TAFT IS NEARING COMPLETION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Nov. 16.—Within the next few days the Taft Well Drilling Company expects to complete the No. 2 well of the Transport Oil Company. The well is at present being drilled through the cement after a successful water shutoff at 3944 feet with eight and one-fourth-inch casing.

Development of Heavy Grade Oil Field is Planned

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 16.—Oil operators in this district, where heavy petroleum of the consistency of asphaltum was discovered about one year ago, now are making plans for extensive development of the field.

The oil is so heavy that it will not flow from the hole and operators have only been able to recover it by first thawing it out with hot water pipes or steam. A movement is now on foot to institute a mining method.

Just how this is to be done has not yet been made known, but reports are to the effect that the plan is being carried forward with serious intent.

MINE IS DOUBLY RICH

Surface Machinery Installed at Silver Creek Bonanza

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Nov. 16.—J. J. McCarthy, president and manager of the Silver Creek Bonanza property, is installing surface equipment at the shaft head, near the north end of the Oatman district. The mine is an unusual one, in that it has both vein material of value and an overburden of rich placer ground. Bedrock exploration in the bed of Silver Creek is reported to have developed gravel sampling $20 in gold.

Near Mineral Park, close to the ancient turquoise mines, the Moonlight gold-silver group lately was bonded by John Gross to George W. Moore, a Lima, O., oil operator.

Whose Word Do You Take?

"TALK is cheap," said old Noah, "But it takes cash money to pay your fare on this here ark." And there's been a lot of cheap talk floating around ever since Adam's Day. You can find rumor-radians on every street corner.

Recently, these fellows have been broadcasting many gloomy prophesies—and many "I hear's" and "They say's" have eminated from no more authentic sources than the idle street-corner gossips. But don't let these tale bearers influence your good judgment—or warp your faith in the future. LOW PRODUCERS REOPENED

Increasing Respect for Hundred-Barrel Well Marks New Development in Torrance Field

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TORRANCE, Nov. 16.—The increasing respect with which operators now regard the 100-barrel well is the moving spirit of new development in the Torrance field, where approximately 270 wells remain to be drilled in proved territory, and where the closely drilled Lomita district, now marked by small producers and idle rigs, is due for considerable redevelopment.

The factor which points to renewed activity in Lomita is the success of the Pan-American and Petroleum Midway companies in bringing about a score of sick producers back to normal. These two companies several weeks ago took over an aggregate of about twenty wells, scattered throughout the Lomita district and redrilled them.

Practically all of these holes were sanded up and off production when they changed hands. All of them are now on sustained production and are yielding approximately ninety barrels a day apiece.

As a result of the success of the reclamation program of these two companies which, by virtue of improved and economical methods, are able to make the revived pumpers pay, operators predict that most of the wells in Lomita now owned by small independent companies will soon pass into the hands of larger concerns.

SIX WELLS TAKEN OVER

The Pan-American took over six wells. Every one of them was idle. Their owners, realizing that it cost as much to keep them on production as they yielded when pumping, gladly sold out. Now all six are producing steadily. Other small operators who have been awaiting results of the quest for a deep sand in the Torrance field before relinquishing their wells, are now reported to be ready to turn over their holdings to larger outfits.

Operators agree that there is still plenty of oil in the Lomita section, but believe that it can be profitably produced only by companies which can redevelop several old wells at a time, thus reducing the unit cost.

Every company in the field with undeveloped property in territory where no more than 100-barrel production may be expected is pushing development on its undrilled land.

In the northeastern part of the field, Petroleum Securities Company has seven producers, each making about 100 barrels a day, yet the company is now running ten strings of tools in the same territory and is erecting two new rigs on the Kleinmeyer B lease, just north of the General Petroleum Corporation's Poggi tract.

In the Redondo end of the field Shell, General Petroleum, Chanslor-Midway companies are drilling constantly, despite the fact that 100-barrel production of heavy oil is all that can be expected. The Shell Company spudded in Frenger No. 2 October 29 and today is landing casing at 3120 feet.

TWO WELLS COMPLETED

While only two wells were completed in the field last week, several are expected on production within the next few days.

The deep-test wells of the Jameson and Shell companies contributed no excitement during the week. Kettler No. 2 of the Shell, near the Santa Fe tracks and Redondo Road is now 5200 feet deep and drilling in a hard shale formation with no showings of oil. Jameson's Lora J., on East Palm street in Lomita is down 4500 feet. According to a field report this hole will be drilled to 4800 feet before another test is made. The company is not certain how to eliminate the water trouble which was revealed by the test made two weeks ago.

North of Torrance, the Francis No. 2, deep wildcat of the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company has reached the 6200-foot level with no promising showings.

Despite the termination of the water and power shortage, few operators here are changing from the gas engine to the electric type of rig, although many which had been using electricity were forced to change to gas when the power situation was acute last summer.

VICTOR MAKING GOOD PROGRESS WITH WELL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Nov. 16.—The Victor Oil Company is making good progress with its No. 12 well, which was spudded in last week on Section 35,32-23, in the Hovey Hills, near Taft. This well offsets the Bell-Evans Oil Company's No. 5 well, which was completed some days ago at a depth of 1758 feet. It is anticipated the Victor well will be completed within about thirty days as it took just forty-four days to finish the Bell-Evans hole.

OILFIELDS COMPANY'S WELL IS SHOWING GAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Nov. 16.—The American Oilfields Company well No. 12, on Section 24, 31-23, is showing increased production since it was brought in about a week ago. The well was completed at a depth of 3560 feet, with an initial production of about 600 barrels daily, which, it is believed, will be increased to 1000 barrels.

REFINERY TO BE FIRST IN NEW MEXICO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FARMINGTON (N. M.) Nov. 16. Location was made here yesterday for the site of the first oil refinery to be erected in New Mexico, according to a statement made by A. D. David, manager of refineries for the Mutual-Continental Oil Company.

The plant will be the first unit of a large refinery that will follow when better transportation facilities are provided. The first unit will have a capacity of 250 barrels per day and will supply all the territory covered by the narrow-gauge lines of te Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad.

The Mutual Continental Oil Company has purchased a half-interest in the lease on the Rattlesnake structure now being drilled by the Santa Fe Company. A survey gang was started on a pipe line from the Rattlesnake structure to Farmington last week. The five producing wells on that structure will supply the refinery.

Well No. 10 on the Hogback Dome was brought in this week by the Midwest Refining Company and is as good a producer as any of the other wells. It is located a little less than a quarter of a mile east of the No. 9. The new well, which has not been thoroughly tested, will run well over 1000 barrels per day, according to field reports.

OPERATORS PLAN TO USE ELECTRICITY

Extension of Lines to West Side Taft Fields Announced by Company

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TAFT, Nov. 16.—With lifting of restrictions on the use of electric power, O. A. Kommers, district manager for the San Joaquin Light and Power Company, said that work would immediately commence on installation of motors for a long list of companies in the west-side fields. The company, said Mr. Kommers, planned to be in a position to serve 3000 additional horsepower to the fields during the coming year.

Some of the companies which will immediately install motors for oil fields work are as follows:

Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company, 28, 20-50 motors for pumping; Interstate Oil Company, 4, 15-30 motors for pumping; Midland Oilfields Company, Ltd., 4, 15-30 motors for pumping; F. F. Richards, one 75-horsepower motor for drilling; D. C. Van Nostrand, one 75-horsepower motor for drilling; Balboa Oil Company, 2, 15-30 motors for pumping, also one 75-horsepower motor for line pump; Belridge Oil Company, one 5-horsepower motor for new compressor plant; Tamalpais Oil Company, one dehydrater; Ruby Oil Company, 3, 15-30 motors for pumping; Gilmore Oil Company, 12 1-2-horsepower for gas plant; Baash-Ross Tool Company, total of 50-horsepower for shop, and Reward Oil Company, at Reward, which will add 500-horsepower for pumping.

Standard Well on Culp Lease Still Uncertain

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Nov. 16. The northern section of this field has been closed almost conclusively by the failure of the Standard Oil Company's test well on the Culp community lease near Los Nietos which has been drilled to 5000 feet with little or no showing for oil. The chances for a connection between the Santa Fe Springs field and the Rideout Heights field are made uncertain by the failure of this hole.

Efforts are being continued by the Petroleum Midway Company to shut off the water in its Mattern No. 2-2 which made 2500 barrels of oil from the Bell sand for a period of twenty-four hours. The water shutoff has been cemented and it is believed that when the well is cleaned out it will develop a substantial flow of oil, free from water. The well is at 3890 feet. The Mattern No. 1-4 is idle at 4900 feet and the No. 3-8 is drilling at 3800 feet.

The General Petroleum Corporation is rigging Santa Fe No. 45-A and No. 59 is plugged at 3830 feet.

The Shell Company's No. 2 on the Slusher lease is down 4700 feet and is active, while the deep test on the Slusher lease is plugged at 6000 feet, having been drilled to 6100 feet. The C. H. N. No. 3 well is standing at 3770 feet and the Thompson No. 5 is idle at 3730 feet.

The Union Oil Company's Bell No. 14 is down 4700 feet, but is drilling at 3720 feet, while No. 23 is bailing at 4670 feet. The Alexander No. 9 well is in blue shale at 2000 feet and is drilling through the cement.

"My boss says he can't come, after all," said the plumber's boy. "But as it was a 'hurry-up' call, he sent me."

"But I never sent for anyone," said the mistress of the house, rather puzzled.

"Oh, then," the boy concluded, "it must have been the folks as was here before you moved in."—[Exchange.

Globe-Belter Experiences Exceptional Weaher

Will Load Tons of Freight for World Ports

James Coffroth, president of the Tia Juana Jockey Club, and ninety-one other cabin passengers from New York and ports around the world will arrive at the port this morning aboard the Dollar liner President Monroe, on the first leg of her third circumnavigation of the globe.

The big globe-belter experienced splendid weather during the entirety of the 26,000-mile cruise, according to a radiogram from Capt. Adolph Ahman, although she dodged three destructive typhoons in the Orient. Other passengers of note include Barney Gerard, New York theatrical producer, and Mrs. Gerard; Mrs. Wade Ransom of Venice, Italy; Judge W. H. Snell of the Superior Court of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Scott Boice, prominent in New England society.

Outbound tomorrow night, the President Monroe will take from Los Angeles thirty-six passengers and 2500 tons of California freight for the Orient and world ports.

BRITISH LINER DUE SOON ON MAIDEN TRIP

Another around-the-world liner, the British motorship Silverlarch, of the K.K.K.-Roosevelt Line, will arrive here on the 19th inst., on her way to the Orient. The Silverlarch, just completed in England is on her maiden voyage and is the fourth to enter the globe trade of five new motorships being built by the Roosevelt Steamship Company of New York. The five Diesel-driven craft maintain a joint express freight service around the world, with five new Japanese steamers of the "K" Line, Los Angeles Harbor being the only Pacific Coast port of call.

FIRST CRUDE CARGO HERE FOR ASSOCIATED

The first shipment of crude oil to Los Angeles Harbor came in yesterday morning aboard the Associated Oil tanker William F. Herrin, being diverted here from the Associated refinery at Avon on account of the recent destructive fire at that plant, in which the steamer Alden Anderson burned and sank. Other crude cargoes will be received here regularly by Associated Oil steamers until facilities are restored at Avon, it was announced.

Establishment of a new freight service between Pacific Coast ports and the west coast of South America was announced at the port yesterday by Capt. Hans Hansteen, general manager of several steadering concerns at the various coast ports have combined their capital to form the line, that will establish the first call of the Norwegian steamer Pacifico, due southbound this month.

Two offshore freighters called yesterday for bunkers; the Japanese tramp San Francisco Maru, grain-laden from Portland for the United Kingdom, and the Italian motorship Citta, with a general cargo from New Orleans for Yokohama. Both vessels sailed late yesterday.

Inaugurating the new intercoastal freight line of the California Stevedore, Inc., the steamer Rosagna is due today with 3000 tons of freight from Atlantic ports. She will be followed next month, according to S. N. Torrey, general manager, by the steamers Jurigny and the West Katan, a former United States Shipping Board vessel.

Other arrivals today will include the British tank steamer Coveria, on her initial visit to this port and discharging 10,000 tons of crude oil for Anglo-Saxon Petroleum Company; the Mexican passenger liner Washington, from San Francisco and putting in for bunkers, and the tanker Lita, in ballast from Antwerp.

Two other steamers are due in offshore trade this week. On Monday, the new British motorship Vivienor will arrive from Shields, Eng., with 6060 tons of coke and pig iron for Meyer, Wilson & Co., while on Friday the tank steamer Scout, unit of the Vacuum Oil fleet, is due from Philadelphia to load out for the return voyage. The Vivienor, on her maiden voyage, will be followed shortly by a sistership, the Westmoor, recently launched at Newcastle. Both she and her sister craft are scheduled to load grain at a British Columbia port for the return to the United Kingdom.

Contracts for the installation of eighteen Diesel engines on United States Shipping Board steamers have been awarded to private concerns, according to advices from Washington yesterday. With the exception of two, single-acting 2500-horsepower engines, to be built at San Francisco by the Pacific Diesel Engine Company, all contracts have been awarded to east coast concerns, according to the dispatches. The contracts represent an outlay of approximately $4,250,000, it was said.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Eight large freighters arrived here today from all points, including Danish motorship Peru from Antwerp; the Wave Mars from New York; the Alaska Maru from Shanghai; the West Malvern from Buenos Aires, and the Frank Lynch from Mobile. The craft represented an aggregate of more than 52,000 tons.

The freighter Maliki is due here tomorrow morning from Hawaiian Islands via Los Angeles. She will sail Friday for a return trip for the same points.

SEATTLE, Nov. 16.—The steamship Sudbury of the United American Lines docked here this morning. After discharging 1000 tons of general merchandise from the Atlantic Coast the vessel will load flour and general cargo, including 25,000 cases of canned salmon, for the return voyage.

The Admiral Oriental Line steamship President Jefferson started this morning for Manila via Japanese and China ports. She carried a full cargo of freight, a big consignment of flour and 50 passengers.

The new passenger liner Rensselie, built at the Todd plant in Tacoma, will shift to Seattle tomorrow and will take her trial trip in Puget Sound tomorrow afternoon or Saturday. She will commence loading cargo for New York Tuesday or Wednesday and will complete at Tacoma, leaving for New York at the same time. She is owned will be operated by the Southern Pacific between New York, Havana and New Orleans.

The steamer Harrison, loading copper, flour and lumber at Tacoma, the Harrison direct line steamship Matador will shift to Seattle tomorrow to load a large consignment of flour for United Kingdom ports.

The steamship Electrician, arriving with large shipments of North European cargo, will arrive here and the steamship Director will follow a few days later, according to local agents of the Harrison Direct Line here.

The Japanese steamer Alabama Maru arrived here this morning from the Orient. The vessel brought a cargo of raw silk and several hundred cases of Japanese merchandise consigned to eastern silk mills, in addition she brought 1000 mail and 1000 tons of general merchandise for discharging here and more than 2000 tons of freight for discharging at Tacoma, for which place she will shift tonight or tomorrow.

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 16.—Numbered with passengers who left here today aboard the Japanese steamer Malta Maru were twenty-two Chinese. They are being transported back to Hongkong as a consequence of having refused to go ashore when the Swedish steamer Aspen, where they were signed on in the Orient, entered into three months ago at

ANNUAL CHURCH MEET

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDLANDS, Nov. 16.—The annual meeting of the First Baptist Church was held last night and the budget committee reported a budget of $12,000 for the coming year. Rev. Selden Cummings was named supply pastor. A. Gregory was elected moderator and F. E. Sanford, clerk. The report showed that the church has gained largely in membership and now has a total roster of more than 500.

Seventy-five women have been ordained as ministers in the Congregational Church of the United States and of this number nearly one-third are in sole charge of churches.

Wu Enters Conference With Yangtze Leaders

Chang is Urging Support of Tuan as Executive

BY JOHN POWELL

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, by the Chicago Tribune]

SHANGHAI, No. 16.—Gen. Wu Pei Fu, former leader of Chihli forces, arrived in Nanking this morning with 4000 troops, constituting the remnants of his former army of 500,000 men which he mobilized against Gen. Chang Tso Lin of Manchuria less than two months ago.

Immediately after his arrival at the Kiangsu capital, Gen. Wu went into conference with Gen. Chi Haieh Yuan of Kiangsu and representatives of the eight Yangtze provinces, Kiangsu, Hupei, Chekiang, Shensi, Fukien, Kiangsi, Anhwei and Honan, and the Admiralty. Just prior to the arrival of Gen. Wu the eight provinces issued a declaration of independence from Peking, stating that since the central government has ceased to function and until a permanent government is established, all Presidential mandates will be disregarded and all Peking appointees in the Yangtze Valley will be ignored.

Whether Gen. Wu will agree to this declaration is not yet known, but all the Peking appointees in the Shanghai area have been duplicated by the Yangtze provinces and two sets of officials are now trying to function here and to obtain recognition from the foreign Consular officials.

CHANG APPARENTLY HAS FENG SUBJUGATED

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PEKING, Nov. 16.—Although treachery is possible, of which there are some signs, Gen. Chang Tso Lin apparently has completed the subjugation of Gen. Feng Yu Hsiang, two of whose right-hand men have resigned from their posts in the emergency government.

Gen. Chang, Gen. Feng and others today united in a telegram to the Yangtze generals, inviting them to support Tuan Chi Jui as provisional executive, with a program of reorganization including a constitution and parliament followed by financial reorganization, all with a large measure of provincial autonomy. The nature of the Yangtze generals' replies, coupled with the actions of the Nanking conference, will determine the future moves.

WHAT IS A COLUMBARIUM?

California Mausoleum Company Has Established One at Hollywood Cemetery.

In its beautiful Mausoleum at Hollywood the California Mausoleum Company has erected a Columbarium, of plate glass and marble, in the niches of which exquisitely executed bronze urns are placed holding the ashes of those whose bodies have been cremated.

Many persons now prefer cremation to ground burial, and some even to crypt entombment. Fitting and permanent disposition of the ashes of a loved one who has passed away is often a problem. To scatter such ashes to the four winds seems heartless to some; and where to keep them, safe and undisturbed, and permanently and reverently cared for, is a difficulty.

The Columbarium provides a perfect solution to this problem. The ashes are placed in artistic bronze urns—in which there is a wide variety of choice as to design. These urns are then put in marble-lined niches, faced with beveled plate glass and solid bronze frames. Here is a permanent resting place; the ashes need never be disturbed. The Columbarium is in the Mausoleum, forms a part of it, and receives the perpetual care which the Mausoleum system of procedure supplies. The owner of a niche has many of the advantages of the owner of a crypt in the Mausoleum—a magnificent marble corridor, in this enduring stately building, which can be visited at any time.

A booklet treating of the Columbarium by word and picture has been issued, which is free for the asking. Phone MAin 1534, or address the Offices of the Company, 206 Harris Bldg., 110 West 11th St.—[Advertisement.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR R. GUERRERO

Del Departamento Español de "The Times"

NUMERO 298

El tercer párrafo del artículo de Miguel de Zárraga, que hemos venido comentando, principia así:

'Ahora le tocó el turno a Francia. Fracasado Carpentier, dejó el 'ring' por el 'turf' y nos mandó a 'Epinard', su famoso caballo de carreras.' En este último período hay anfibología, pues lo primero que se viene a la mente del lector es que Carpentier fue quien dejó el "ring" y que el caballo "Epinard" le pertenece. Hasta el período siguiente no caemos en la cuenta de que es Francia la que dejó el "ring" y envió a "Epinard", y esto nos lo revela el complemento tario acusativo "la", que figura en la frase que viene a continuación: "La derrota del inglés 'Papyrus' no 'la' arredró, y puso a 'Epinard', etc."

La anfibología que señalo desaparecería si el articulista hubiese escrito: "Fracasado Carpentier, dejó su patria el 'ring' por el 'turf', etc.", o "dejó la república gala el 'ring' por el 'turf', etc."

Una cuatro líneas más adelante comete Zárraga el solecismo tan común entre escritores desaliñados, y sobre todo entre covachuelistas, de emplear la forma en "se" del pretérito de subjuntivo, en vez del futuro hipotético en "re". Dice el escritor a quien censuro: "La derrota del inglés 'Papyrus' no la arredró, y puso a 'Epinard' en el hipódromo de Belmont, dispuesto a conseguir la victoria sobre todos los contrincantes americanos que se la 'disputasen'".

La gramática, fundada en el uso de los grandes escritores, exige que en esta última oración, que es de futuro hipotético, se diga: "... dispuesto a conseguir la victoria sobre todos los contrincantes americanos que se la 'disputaren'". También puede emplearse el presente de subjuntivo, que, según he dicho repetidas ocasiones, hace oficio de futuro, y decir: "... sobre todos los contrincantes americanos que se la disputen'".

Hablando del vicio a que aludo, dice lo siguiente el señor Cuervo en sus inestimables "Apuntaciones Críticas": "¿Qué decidirá esta Asamblea? Si ella 'obedeciese' al entusiasmo que hoy domina la Nación, no hay duda que 'decretará' la república." Esta frase, tomada de un periódico, es incorrecta hasta lo sumo: tratándose de una cosa futura se ha dicho "obedeciese" que es pretérito, en lugar de "obedeciere", que sería lo propio en este caso. Los siguientes ejemplos muestran la construcción castiza de frases semejantes a la precitada: "Si otra cosa 'dijeres', 'mentirás' en ello" (Cervantes, "Quij.", pte. I, cap. XXIII); "Si te 'midieres' con la naturaleza, nunca 'serás' pobre; si con la opinión de los hombres, nunca serás rico: porque la naturaleza se contenta con poco; la opinión no tiene fin, y si la 'sigues', cuanto más 'tuvieres', más 'desearás'" (Ribadeneira, "Tratado de la tribulación", lib. I, cap. XVIII); "Si los hijos del ciudadano así distinguido 'siguieren' su ejemplo, 'convertirán' en nobleza hereditaria la nobleza vitalicia; y si no la 'supieren' conservar, ¿qué 'importará' que la pierdan?" (Jovellanos, "Ley Agraria, amortización", 2).

Cuando la forma en "re", agrega el señor Cuervo, va con "si", puede cambiarse por el presente de indicativo: en vez de "si te midieres" podría haberse dicho con toda propiedad, "si te mides". Recíprocamente, en lugar de "si le sigues", pudo haberse dicho "si la siguieres". Cuando la hipótesis no es anunciada por el condicional "si", dice el señor Bello, siempre es posible la sustitución del subjuntivo común al hipotético: "En lo que 'tocare' a defender mi persona, no tendré mucha cuenta con esas leyes, pues las divinas y humanas permiten que cada uno se defienda de quien 'quisiere' agraviarle" (Cervantes). Pudo decirse "tocare" y "quisiera" en lugar de "tocare" y "quisiere".

Con la mayor extensión que me fue posible traté el año próximo pasado en estas Pláticas el punto gramatical a que me he referido en la Plática inmediata anterior. Añadiré tan sólo la siguiente observación del señor Cuervo, que ya he transcrito en otra ocasión: "Puede decirse que en España va a toda prisa desvaneciéndose la noción de las diferencias tradicionales que distinguen las inflexiones subjuntivas en "se", "re", "ra"; y que, para la mayor parte estas formas son allí meras variantes de libre elección, como en ciertos casos lo han sido la en "se" y la en "ra". Para patentizarlo nos valdremos principalmente de un medio tan claro como concluyente, que consiste en contraponer a la forma auténtica de textos clásicos la que les dan impresores, editores o citadores modernos."

Previas numerosas citas clásicas que le sirven de base, sienta el señor Cuervo estas conclusiones: La forma en "se" lo invade todo, ahogando casi completamente la en "re" y mermando mucho el empleo de la en "ra" o "la". La forma en "ra" es muy común en el lenguaje oficial en lugar de "re". La forma en "re", que va haciéndose menos común, arrinconada por las otras, aparece tal cual vez en lugar de las en "se" o "ra".

Recuerdo que en una de mis pasadas Pláticas copié buena parte de una Real Orden promulgada a principios del gobierno del Directorio en España, e hice ver que casi no había en ella un solo párrafo donde no se hubiera empleado malamente, una o más veces, el pretérito de subjuntivo en "se" por la forma hipotética en "re".

Para que se vea cuán arbitrariamente se revuelven y mezclan todas estas inflexiones, transcribo los pasajes siguientes citados por el señor Cuervo, poniendo entre paréntesis, a continuación de las formas erradas, las correctas que debieron haberse empleado: "Si la embarcación naufragada 'estuviese' (estuviere) sin gente, inventariará los papeles y libros que 'encontrase' (encontrare) y pondrá en seguro el cargamento del buque; si no 'hubiera' (hubiere) papeles que indicaren el dueño del cargamento y buque, se hará la publicación . . ." ("Diccionario de legislación" de Escriche); "El capitán, ensordecido por la ira . . . no oyó claramente el tiro, ni aunque le oyera lo 'hubiese' (hubiera o habría) ya detenido" ("Revista contemporánea", 30 de Junio de 1882, pág. 619); "APOSTAR: Pactar entre sí los que disputan que aquel que estuviere equivocado o no 'tuviera' (tuviere) razón perderá la cantidad de dinero que se determine . . ." ("Diccionario de la Academia", 12a y 13a ediciones). En la décimocuarta ya está corregido este error.

Desde el lunes diecisiete del corriente mes, y por todo el período de mi ausencia, va a encargarse de redactar las Noticias Mundiales en español el señor Prof. H. Dueñes, quien publicará asimismo, a partir del lunes primero de Diciembre, las dos lecciones semanales de castellano. Las correspondientes a los lunes 17 y 24 del presente han sido arregladas por mí, y las dejo escritas antes de marcharme.

How Shoes Affect Your Health

By C. H. Pontius

Have you headaches? Or do you suffer from leg and back pains?

Many people are actually ill after walking a short distance. They blame their condition on poor health, never realizing that the reason for their aching, throbbing feet is improperly constructed shoes that they are wearing.

Hundreds of foot sufferers have found quick relief from pain by consulting the foot specialists at the Ground Gripper Shoe Stores. These men have made a lifetime study of foot faults and they can usually recommend some way to relieve your foot troubles at once. Usually we find that ailments arising from the feet can be relieved by properly fitted Ground Gripper Shoes. These shoes are designed to fit the foot as Nature made it—leaving plenty of room for every toe—leaving the arch naturally erect—placing the heel comfortably and squarely. There is no nervous strain in Ground Gripper Shoes and these features frequently of feet a general toning up of the whole human system.

You are invited by C. H. Pontius proprietor of the Ground Gripper Shoe Stores, to get a free foot examination at either store. In Los Angeles on the mezzanine of the Seventh and Hill Bldg. 714 So. Hill St. In Long Beach, 4 Pine Ave.

THREE TRAFFIC VICTIMS DEAD

Two Held When Pedestrian Perhaps Fatally Hurt

Man, Boy and Baby Die From Accident Injuries

Auto Driver Charged With Failure to Stop

Three persons, a man, a boy and a baby, died yesterday as the result of traffic accidents, and a fourth, a man, was believed dying after his injuries. In the latter of the three arrests were made, the driver being charged with failing to stop and render aid and two witnesses held for investigation. In some of the other cases was the driver held.

George E. Johnson of 1435 East Fifty-ninth Place stopped to change a tire at Wilshire Boulevard and Kingsley Drive late Saturday night. Soon after he entered the car he was killed, according to police records, by a car driven by C. A. Wilson of 148 Milton avenue, and his skull was fractured. He died this morning at Angelus Hospital. The body was sent to the Pierce & Moore undertaking parlors, 500 Court street.

HURT BY TRUCK

William Howard Kelley, 10 years of age, of 214 South Washington street, Hawthorne, died at Angelus Hospital yesterday of injuries received Saturday when he was run over by a truck on Hawthorne Road. Kelley, the police say, was riding a bicycle and clinging to the side of a truck driven by G. W. Chevin of 217 East Twenty-fifth street. He fell and fell under the truck, the rear wheels passing over his body. The body was taken in charge by the Hawthorne Undertaking Company.

Ernesto Bentito, 3 years of age, of 1227 East Chicago avenue, was run over by a truck loaded with bricks while playing in front of his home Saturday, and died yesterday. The truck was driven, police said, by Charles Hoy of 4663 Fayette street, Boyle Heights.

ARREST THREE

Officers L. Marshall of Indio, crossing Manchester Boulevard near Vermont avenue, was struck down by an automobile containing three negroes which failed to stop, according to the police. After Marshall had been attended at Receiving Hospital by Dr. Dorn, he was sent to the Central Receiving Hospital. His condition is said to be critical.

Officers of the University police arrested Ernest Ervin, a negro, of 1227 East Washington Boulevard, as they declared was the driver of the car and Z. Embrau, 943 East Adams, and Thomas Nesbitt, 1227 East Twenty-fifth street, said to have been the passengers.

GAMBLERS' FIGHT ENDS IN MURDER

Two Jailed After Finding of Mexican's Body; Was Stabbed Seven Times

Following a quarrel ended fatally in Pacoima Pina, Mexican laborer, whose body was found with seven knife wounds early yesterday morning, Jesse Ortacio Hernandez was lodged in the County Jail charged with murder and Toribio Pina held on suspicion of murder, after being questioned by Sheriff Eugene Biggs and Deputies Sweeley and Lee of the Sheriff's office.

According to Ademo, a party of Mexicans were gambling late Saturday night in a small shed in the rear of the home at 251 North Maryellina street, Maryellina Park. He said that early yesterday morning, while the players at their game were engaged, he was awakened by screaming, followed by shots. Going to the shed, he found Pina lying in a pool of blood. It was then that the guilt would be placed on Ortacio Hernandez, who was held on suspicion of murder and Toribio on suspicion of being accessory after the fact. Both are being questioned by Chief Deputies Sweeley and Lee at the Sheriff's office.

SEA CRASH SHIPS SAFE AT BAY CITY

Immense Holes Gaped Sides of Two Vessels After Wreck in Fog

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Battered victims of one of the most harrowing but luckiest gry nights at sea, the steamer Santa Cecilia and the Washington were safely docked at San Francisco today, great gaping holes in each of them.

The 100 men of the two crews offered heartfelt prayers of thanks. If there had been a bit of fog or a heavy sea Saturday night both ships might have foundered and sunk, sailormen said today, as they viewed the wrecks.

Both ships were discharging their cargo today, preparatory to going into dry dock for repairs. Blame for the near disaster has not yet been fixed.

The Santa Cecilia, flying the Norton-Lilly Company flag, is bound from Baltimore to San Francisco with general cargo and the worst damaged and sunk within a few feet of foundering as she was being towed across the bar of the Golden Gate.

After the tide had floated the sinking ship off the Pillar Point reefs, the red stack tugs Sea Lion and Sea Salvor met her at the Golden Gate. Her bow low in the water, the tugs dared not tow her in by her head. Hawsers were fastened to her stern, and the Sea Lion brought her in stern first, a maritime feat in itself.

Damage to the Washington is estimated by the agents at $60,000. Both she and the Santa Cecilia are discharging their cargoes preparatory to going into dry dock for repairs.

The Embarcadero was thronged today with spectators to view the two ships.

J. P. MORGAN'S WIDOW IS SLOWLY SINKING

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

HIGHLAND FALLS (N. Y.), Nov. 16.—Mrs. Frances F. Morgan, widow of J. Pierpont Morgan the elder) ill in her home here, is slowly sinking today and is not expected to live through the day, according to those at the bedside. It was said that she still was conscious.

GOLDEN WEDDING TO BE OBSERVED

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. James

Southern California's claim to more golden wedding celebrations per capita than any other spot in the universe, same being due to the climate, of course, will be strengthened today when Mr. and Mrs. J. D. James, 5933 Carlton Way, will round out a half century of wedded life.

They came to Hollywood from Silver Lake, Iowa, in 1915. The climate was the lure, as Mrs. James's health was failing. It proved a wise move, for she is in perfect health today, although 70 years of age. Mr. James is 77.

They were married on November 17, 1874, in Mineral Point, Wis., and moved to Silver Lake in 1881. The happy event next Monday will be celebrated with a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Haines, Mrs. Haines being a sister of Mrs. James.

KIRBY HEARING TODAY

Extradition Proceedings to Go on Before Commissioner Long

A hearing on extradition proceedings seeking to remove Josiah Kirby, former president of the Cleveland Discount Company under indictment in the Ohio city, is scheduled to be held before United States Commissioner Long today. Kirby was arrested here, the indictment charging misuse of the mails in the promotion of the discount company, which is now defunct. He is fighting extradition, and the case has been postponed several times already.

Hard-Boiled Advice About Community Chest

Real Reason for Giving is Poor, Sick, Helpless

Don't Take Your Grouch at Solicitor Out on Them

BY HARRY CARR

These are a few hard-boiled words about the Community Chest.

I think in the fury of the campaign, we are losing sight of what it is all about.

The suffering sick voices of those who need the money are being lost in the sound of the small purses accusing the big purses of slacking; and in the clarion calls upon civic pride.

For my part, I am not tossing on any beds of agony and pain for fear Los Angeles may fall behind Cleveland, O. If it were not for the sick children in desperate need, then Los Angeles could fall so far behind Cleveland, O., that you would have to lean down from the bottom step and fish for it with a hook and line.

Civic pride hasn't anything to do with my feelings in the matter.

But there are other considerations that do.

Before the Community Chest was thought of there was one charity that touched my heart as no other human appeal has ever done. The reason was not that it was any more worthy than the others; only I happened to see a number of these pitiful children one day at one of the studios. And never, after that, was I able to get them out of mind or off my conscience.

After that I gave them all that I possibly could of money and help.

In plain words, the only reason I gave my small mite to them and neglected the others was the accident of happening to see them face to face.

WHAT CHEST DOES

Out of just such incidents has the Community Chest come about.

It gives a just and necessary part of the money to those whose need is just as piteous and heartrending—but who didn't have the luck to be seen.

No doubt there are many others in the same state of mind. That is to say, if it were possible, we would probably continue to give to the particular charities that have chanced to appeal to us personally.

But one fact stands there stark and terrible. The only way we can protect those forlorn, helpless, haunting children now is through the general fund.

If we continue to give as generously as before, they are going to receive the same help as before. If we sulk on the job because we no longer have the selfish satisfaction—and the melodramatic thrill; we may as well be frank about it—of giving our contributions personally, then our own particular charity is going to meet tragedy and suffering along with the rest of them.

The case is a particularly desperate one in this, that the Community Chest is a pledge that there will be no further demands for money throughout the year. If we shut up the old pocketbook now, it will bring sure and certain tragedy to our particular heartstring pullers, as well as all the others.

BEEF AND GROUCH

Here and there, throughout the city, I hear this man and that express hostility toward the Community Chest.

Perhaps a solicitor hasn't been

CHEST ARMY DETERMINED

Campaigners Resume Efforts; Confident City Will Not Fail in Duty to Sick and Disabled

Fired with determination that Los Angeles shall not fail in its self-appointed task of caring for its sick and disabled, its unfortunate and its unfit, the 12,000 workers of the Community Chest army are this morning turning to their volunteer task once more. Only four days remain in which to carry the charity fund over the $2,522,000 goal set as the minimum to meet the needs of the 125 participating agencies, and less than half of that amount has been raised.

The first week of the campaign did not yield the results expected, leaders of the movement freely state. An apathy, hard to understand, has hampered solicitors in their work of securing funds.

While other large cities have reported going over the top in their community charity appeals, Los Angeles, the most talked of city in America, stands in grave danger of recording a failure in its humanitarian effort, Judge B. F. Bledsoe, campaign chairman, states.

BLEDSOE STATEMENT

"We cannot conceive of this happening," the judge declared. "If this ever present need of the poor and needy is not met in this manner, then it must be met in some other fashion. After years of study, based upon results attained by other cities under the Community Chest plan, Los Angeles has seen fit to adopt this method. Upon the outcome of our efforts depends the fair name of our city. More important than that, however, is the fact that upon our effort depends the welfare of crippled and undernourished children, of destitute widowed mothers, of suffering needy fellow-human beings. We must in some manner bring home to Los Angeles citizens the imperative needs, which this fund they are contributing to meets."

With many of the geographic divisions reporting more than their divisional quotas raised last week, campaign leaders are this week turning their eyes toward the establishments division. It is from this group that much of amount still to be raised must

KLAN ROW IN COURT TODAY

Anti-Price Faction Intimates That Violence and Skeletons of Order Will be Aired

Backed by an imposing array of sensational affidavits and witnesses whose testimony is expected to rip open the internal affairs of the Ku Klux Klan in California, the two factions in the ranks of the order now fighting for the control of the organization will appear in Judge Shaw's court at 10 a.m. today in injunction proceedings against G. W. Price and his associates several days ago.

Although the most inside details of the recent Klan violence in California in the past few years are expected to be brought out by the former supporters of the Price organization, several sensational skeletons will be dragged from their closets were they will be met by men connected with the anti-Price faction.

Dan Cohen, attorney for Mr. Price, as Imperial Representative of the Klan, the highest office in this State under the Grand Dragon of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and the legal adviser to the order controlled by Price at stake, according to members of the faction that has split Klan ranks several times, the matter was taken before the Superior Court when Judge Guy C. Shaw, acting as secretary, asked the lieutenants be removed from position of the Klan and from the use of their office, and for the injunction issued by the charges preferred by Representative Price is a man of bad reputation, that he "carries four loaded guns" and that he and his associates are men accustomed to the use of violence in the conduct of their affairs. These charges were denied by Price in his answer and demurrer, filed last Friday. Mr. Price declared that the injunction proceedings were actuated by malice and that he and his associates are the only and original Klansmen.

On the other hand, Price cohorts say they are prepared to produce a few affidavits themselves. Just how far the battle will be allowed to progress depends on the outcome of a conference to be held prior to the court appearance of the petitioners and the rulings of the court.

The anti-Price faction contends that it is the only legal Klan in California because it obtained incorporation papers in the State of Nevada and has been registered as a legal corporation in this State. The organization directed by Price never incorporated in this State.

Builders Plan to Hold Parley Here Next Year

The National Association of Builders' Exchanges will hold its national convention in Los Angeles February 23 to 26, 1925, according to word received by Charles A. Cooke, manager of the convention department of the Chamber of Commerce, from members of the association in Reading Pa.

It was also learned that a party of twenty-five or more would come to the convention here in special cars from Reading.

Interest is to be created in the proposed trip at the annual show of the Reading Builders' and Contractors' Association to be held in Reading in the near future.

KATZ BURIED TO OLD CHANT

Gentile Sweetheart is Mourner at Grave; Father Croons Kaddish Over Murdered Son

To the ancient death chants of the centuries-old Hebrew burial ritual, the body of Harry L. Katz, murdered musician, gem and jewel broker and art connoisseur, yesterday was laid in its last resting place. In broken tones and halting voice Isaac Katz, the aged father, chanted in Hebrew the ceremonial Kaddish and the body of his son was yielded up for Earth to claim its dust and the soul was commended to God who gave it. The Jewish mother, supported by the stalwart arms of two of her remaining sons, wailed convulsively at the foot of the grave.

On the outskirts of the group a fair-haired Gentile woman sobbed while she leaned on the arm of an escort and at times buried her face in her hands to cover her grief and evade peering glances. She was Dorothy Carroll, the last sweetheart of the murdered man.

FEW AT FUNERAL

There was no profusion of flowers at the funeral. Rather there was a scarcity of them. Less than 100 persons, including numbers of curious ones, were in attendance. There were few women. The shadow of the tragedy which ended Katz's career hung heavily over the ceremony.

The first service took place in the undertaking rooms of W. C. Draper Company, 1430 South Main street, with Louis Glasband, superintendent of the Jewish Burial Society, in personal charge. A number of idlers and two motorcycle policemen dotted the street and side walk in front of the place.

The father, mother and others of the immediate family wailed, at times almost hysterically, in a room adjoining the chapel holding the great silver-colored casket and its few floral decorations. They entered the chapel room when Rabbi S. M. Neches of Temple Beth Israel began the ritualistic service. In accordance with a Hebrew custom men in the rooms did not remove their hats.

WARNING BY RABBI

A part of the service was in English, beginning with the reading of "The Lord is My Shepherd, I Shall Not Want," and the remainder of the Twenty-third Psalm. The Rabbi admonished parents to see not only that their children got a good business and educational start in life, but that there was put into their hearts deeply the fear of God.

"Where there is not in the heart fear of the Lord," said Rabbi Neches, "all your laws and all your theories will not protect you. When we do not carefully enough instruct our children in the laws of God here is the natural consequence."

The service ended with God's blessing called for the grief-stricken parents and with the chanting of the El Molei Rachamim, which signifies the earthly end of existence.

ORTHODOX RITES

From the undertaking rooms the body, followed by the cortege, was taken to Talmud Torah, the synagogue at Breed and Brooklyn streets, where there was further chanting and where more friends,

CUTS CARDS TOO LATE TO CHEAT LAW

Asserted Moonshiner is Quoted as Saying Fate Told Him to Quit

H. J. Howell cut the cards to decide if he would cease asserted bootlegging activities, he is reported to have told George Contreras, chief county dry agent, but he was too late. Howell, according to Contreras, said that he and another man decided to depend upon fate as to whether or not they would dismantle their still, located in the foothills near Sierra Madre. They stopped on the road, Howell is reported as saying, and cut the cards. The fates decided they should stop and they hurried to their place to carry out the edict.

While Howell is said to have been engaged in dismantling a still, Contreras and his cohorts were waiting in the room. They swooped down upon the man whom fate had been too late to help and arrested him. He was taken to the County Jail to await a hearing in Justice Court.

PARADE TO INAUGURATE NEW LIGHTS

Lincoln Heights Fete for North Broadway System; City Officials to Speak

Inauguration of the ornamental street lighting system on North Broadway from the North Broadway bridge to Lincoln Park avenue and on Lincoln Park avenue to Mission Road will be marked by a community celebration Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Mayor Cryer has been asked to throw the switch to set off the system. The celebration will be accompanied by a fireworks display and an industrial pageant. The parade will march from North Spring street and Broadway to Lincoln Park where a program of speeches by city officials will be presented. Community dancing will close the evening's entertainment.

A number of attractive and descriptive floats will be entered in the parade. All of the schools of the community, and several fraternal organizations will participate in the celebration.

The affair is under the auspices of the Lincoln Heights Commercial and Industrial Association.

OIL DEFENSE TO RESUME PLEA TODAY

Both Sides Agree to Complete Arguments by Tomorrow Evening

Arguments in the Doheny oil case will be resumed in the United States District Court today at 9:30 a.m. Attorneys for the plaintiff and defense have agreed to complete arguments by tomorrow evening.

Frank J. Hogan, defense counsel, will continue this forenoon the argument, which he began Thursday morning. Walter K. Tuller and Frederick R. Kellogg also defense counsel, will follow Hogan in the order named, it was said in their offices.

Owen J. Roberts, chief government counsel, will argue in rebuttal and the case then will go to Judge McCormick for decision.

The United States is plaintiff and the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company and Pan-American Petroleum Company are defendants in the case. The government is seeking cancellation of Pearl Harbor (Hawaii) naval oil base construction contracts and the Elk Hills (Cal.) naval oil reserve leases held by the companies, of which Edward L. Doheny is head. Fraud, bribery and conspiracy involving Albert B. Fall, Secretary of the Interior at the time, are asserted in the complaint.

NAVY WORKS REVOLUTION IN AVIATION

Catapult on Battleship Launches Plane by Use of Explosive

The arrival of the battleship Mississippi at Los Angeles Harbor on December 9 from the Puget Sound Navy Yard will herald one of the greatest advances yet made in naval aviation. Mounted on top of the Mississippi's No. 3 turret will be a new-type catapult designed to launch a Martin observation monoplane, recently adopted by the Navy Department, and weighing 5500 pounds.

The outstanding feature of the new catapult, however, lies in the fact that the launching impulse is rendered by a slow-burning smokeless powder rather than by the compressed-air system now in use throughout the Navy. The Martin monoplane that it will launch is more than twice the size of the two-seater biplanes now in general use by the dreadnaughts and scout cruisers.

The adoption and use of the new device is regarded as revolutionary, in that it is the first catapult to be mounted on a turret and the first whose impulse is generated by an explosive. It has been designed and developed entirely by the Navy Department.

Preliminary tests of the device are said to have been completely successful from every angle. Plans for the installation of similar catapults on the turrets of the new units of the battleship force are said to have been completed, pending the performance of the catapult in launching the heavy monoplane in a seaway.

HEAVY DEBT CLEARED BY NEW CHURCH

Hollywood Presbyterians Hold Dedication Service in $500,000 Edifice

Members and friends of the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood contributed $245,000 to wipe out the standing debt of the church amounting to $231,000 at the dedication services of the new half-million-dollar edifice yesterday.

Hollywood's newest place of worship, modeled after the great Cathedrals abroad, is one of the most beautiful church buildings in America, George L. Snively of Illinois, in charge of dedication services yesterday, said. During church services conducted by Dr. Stewart P. MacLennan, the pastor, yesterday morning, seventy-five new members were taken into the church. C. C. Chapman of Fullerton assisted in the dedication services. Dr. Duncan MacLennan of Hutchinson, Kan., a brother of the pastor, occupied the pulpit at services last night.

PAVING IS RECOMMENDED

The permanent paving of the south roadway of North Sherman Way, from the Van Nuys District to Canoga avenue in the Owensmouth District, has been recommended by City Engineer Van Norman, following a petition for the improvement filed by owners of 61 per cent of the frontage on the streets. The city is resurfacing the north roadway of North Sherman Way and this work is nearly completed.

PARKING LIMIT FIXED

The City Council has established a two-hour parking limit in the Hollywood District, bounded by Yucca, Vine street, Selma avenue and Highland avenue.

Wounded Patrolmen Said to be Recovering

Edmondo Gordon, 21 years of age, was rearrested last night by Detective Lieutenant Carr on suspicion of robbery, following asserted statements by Charles Hebert, who is charged with shooting Patrolmen Clyde Mills and M. B. Swan, that Gordon took part with Hebert and with Neil McDonald in several crimes. The police discovered yesterday, they said, that Hebert was released recently from an eastern reform school and was responsible for a dozen hold-ups in this city. Hebert said Gordon accompanied him and McDonald from San Francisco.

Neil McDonald

Gordon had been arrested on suspicion the night of the shooting of the two policemen, and taken before Police Judge Richardson Saturday on a vagrancy charge. As the evidence against him was slim, the court suspended sentence of 180 days, and he was released. But Hebert yesterday made an additional statement implicating him, the police declared.

Hebert, who is 17 years of age, is said to have confessed the shooting, declaring he got nervous because he thought one of the officers he had held up was reaching for his weapon. McDonald, who is 22, is said to have been a partner of Hebert's in several hold-ups and the theft of an automobile. The officers were examining this car Thursday night when Hebert surprised them and demanded that they throw up their hands and turn their backs. Then he shot them.

At Angelus Hospital, where Patrolman Mills was taken, and at White Memorial Hospital which houses Patrolman Swan, it was said both men were doing well and had excellent chances of recovery. Mills was shot through the left lung and Swan through the left side of the abdomen.

Charles Hebert

Hebert is declared to have made his statement to Detective Lieutenants Condaffer, Hickey, Taylor and Trosper. He told them, they said, he was afraid of being shot by one of the officers and also wanted to avoid arrest for possession of liquor and possible identification as a robber and automobile thief. He admitted yesterday, the officers said, several oil-station hold-ups, several burglaries, and two automobile thefts.

His arrest was the result of the robbery of L. W. Lehr of 1218½ Gower street, near his home. Hebert was found in the vicinity by Officers Norgaard, Hatcher, Blagg and Baad of the Hollywood division and identified by Lehr. A pistol was found in his pocket, similar to that used in shooting the officers, and newspaper clippings of the shooting affair.

Hebert said he, McDonald, and Gordon left San Francisco on the 8th inst., in a stolen automobile, arriving in Los Angeles on the 10th inst. They began their series of crimes, leading to the shooting by Hebert of the two officers after they had found a bottle of liquor in his car. The shooting was at San Pedro and Market streets.

Hebert is charged with assault with intent to murder, robbery, grand larceny and burglary. McDonald faces charges of robbery and grand larceny. Gordon was held on suspicion of robbery.

PSYCHIC DATA SUMMARIZED

Exact Nature of Charges to be Brought Against Spiritualists Being Decided

Beginning the second week of an investigation of pseudospiritist activities in Los Angeles and vicinity, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Shelley will this morning start the final summarization of evidence, testimonial and documentary, which is expected to be presented immediately to the county grand jury.

With, this summarization, the exact nature of the charges upon which the grand jury will direct its attention, is also to be definitely determined.

MORE ARRESTS LIKELY

Meanwhile, City Prosecutor Friedlander is investigating energetically numerous complaints against exponents of black art and other colored arts and artifices which have been brought to his office by asserted victims during the past eight days. That new warrants are to be issued as a result of these complaints was believed last night to be a practical certainty.

At San Diego, Dist.-Atty. Kemp-ley will appear also before his grand jury for authority to delve into a situation in his county, which is averred to be similar to that which was recently climaxed with the arrest of ten officers and directors of the National Independent Spiritualist Association of Los Angeles.

QUIZ IS DISCUSSED

Investigators from San Francisco who have been poring over documentary evidence seized here last night returned to their home city with an expressed determination to start a similar campaign there.

Genuine spiritualists and students of the occult sciences in meetings at their churches yesterday all took cognizance of the existing investigation. Perhaps the best example of their attitude was in a discourse by the Rev. Myrtle J. Hoagland in her temple of occult thought at 3916 Budlong avenue.

Mullen & Bluett Program Has Unique Feature

'Cello Quartet Numbers Are Also Exceptional

Soprano and Pianist Render Interesting Solos

BY CLAIRE FORBES CRANE

One of the greatest assets of any organization catering to the capricious tastes of the public is the ability to either anticipate its requirements or to display wares that will meet with instantaneous approval. Proving, alas, that we are pre-eminently a vain family, the leaders of fashion like Mullen & Bluett have learned to be past masters in the art of presenting unique creations.

This psychology surrounds whatever event is stamped with their name and was never more apparent than on the occasion of their second program over KHJ last night. We are so proud of our immediate studio family that we know Mullen & Bluett will pardon us if we compliment them on their selection of G. Allison Phelps, radio philosopher, as their program arranger, for he has the same eager vision that forever runs ahead of present accomplishment.

INTERESTING QUARTET

Mr. Phelps introduced a most interesting and unique musical organization to Radioland—the Philharmonic 'Cello Quartet, composed of Franz Lusschen, leader; Philip Musgrave, F. S. Gutterson and Nicholas Ochi Albi. This was the initial appearance of the quartet before any microphone. The startling thing about it is the marvelous tone quality which is attained by allowing the same instrument to be used both melodically and harmonically. The result over the air is comparable to an organ. The quartet met with an enthusiastic reception, and is a great addition to our artist circle. Franz Lusschen, the founder of the quartet, who is a gifted performer, gave several charming solos, accompanied by Homer Simmons.

Irene Authier, soprano, was also a newcomer whom Mullen and Bluett presented last evening. Miss Authier has a smooth lyric voice and interprets with good taste and discrimination. She is particularly to be complimented on her splendid diction. Her numbers consisted of attractive English ballads, Gounod's "Ave Maria," and several folk songs.

PIANIST REAPPEARANCE

Homer Simmons, pianist, who created such a pleasing impression on his former appearance, made us feel that our enthusiasm had been thoroughly justified. Besides his clever accompaniments, Mr. Simmons gave a group of solos with clean technique and sincere emotion.

The evening was rounded out by an address from the "radio philosopher" entitled "Pumpkin Pies and Whipped Cream." One of the great secrets of G. Allison Phelps's popularity is the fact that he is able to drive home truths clothed in the garb of every-day similes. Yesterday he compared our work in life to pie-making, the care with which the ingredients should be chosen and mixed and how, if we had the right spirit of sportsmanship, we would always serve our pastry with a dash of whipped cream which had not been demanded of us!

tactful. In some cases, without doubt, the drive has aroused hostile memories of the tactics used in some of the Liberty Loan drives.

But, brethren, you can't get even with some saphead who bullied and browbeat you in 1917 by making children and penniless old folks, the sick and the needy suffer for money now.

No matter how tactless some solicitor may have been, you are not wreaking any revenge upon anybody except the friendless, the starving, the sick and those whose burden of sorrow is greater than they can bear.

Those who complain that they resent the effort to force them to pay over their own money should remember that there are a lot of little people lying sick and in pain in little hospital beds whose manners are not overbearing; and whose little, racked, pitiful bodies have no hope except through your contributions.

Lastly, in my own hard-boiled heart, there is a great deal of superstition driving me on to pay.

I believe from the bottom of my heart that your luck will only last; your strength will remain only in the exact proportion to what you do for the luckless. If your strength is not used to protect the weak it will wither and die.

I am not in the least agitated about the shining example of Cleveland, O., but I know if, with the memory of those sick, feverish, wistful eyes appealing to me, I do not pay in money; then I will pay in some other way and the price will be fearful and hard.

SOUTHLAND TOURIST RECORD IS FORECAST

One of the greatest seasons in the history of Los Angeles for winter visitors was forecast yesterday by Motley H. ONE KATZ CASE CLEW LEFT

Failure of Result in This Instance Will Add Killing to Long List of Unsolved Murders

One unexploded clew in the Katz murder mystery investigation is all that remains to the police and the District Attorney's office before the case, which began when Harry I. Katz was shot down in the doorway of his bachelor quarters in the Ambassador Apartments last Monday night, is filed away with the already long list of unsolved murders on the local police records.

The clew according to Harold Davis, head of the District Attorney's homicide squad, and Asst. Capt. James Bean, of the police homicide squad, has to do with a young man, a relative of a man already figuring in the case. Today efforts will be made to locate the young man and if he is found he will be questioned at the District Attorney's office.

According to information given out by Capt. Bean and investigators from the District Attorney's office the man sought for had some business dealings with Katz a few days before he was slain. The diamond broker is said to have shown him a double handful of diamonds and to have offered him some at a very reasonable price. The young man, the police say, did not buy any of the gems but stated that he would return later.

Both Capt. Bean and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Davis yesterday refused to disclose the name of the young man for whom they were searching, but stated that they will know today if he is in the city. According to the information now on hand he had been in Los Angeles for only a few days when he met Katz and the diamond broker was slain the next day. When Katz's room was searched following his murder only one or two gems were discovered and, when his safety deposit boxes in various downtown banks were opened the large stock of jewels he is thought to have had was not found.

Yesterday Capt. Bean admitted that the investigation conducted by Detective Finn in Santa Ana and Riverside Saturday afternoon and evening had been of no direct value to the case and that while Katz did have a number of business friends in Santa Ana and had taken part in several deals in that city they proved to have no connection with the investigation into his murder.

A number of other clews still in the possession of the police and members of the District Attorney's investigators were all checked down Saturday and yesterday and resulted in no further information to the police. Yesterday Capt. Bean and Detective Paul Stevens were the only members of the police homicide squad working on the mystery and at the close of the day they had nothing to report.

Early yesterday morning Capt. Bean again checked over all the papers and letters found in the murdered man's rooms after the shooting. Every scrap of paper was gone over by the police in the hope that something would be discovered that had at first been overlooked that might throw some light on the mysterious slaying. Nothing was discovered.

Since the investigation was first put under way last Monday evening scores of clews have been checked down by Capt. Bean's squad of officers, assisted by investigators from the District Attorney's office under the personal direction of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Davis. Everything believed to have any connection of any kind was investigated and hundreds of tips telephoned to the authorities were looked into.

In summing up the case late yesterday afternoon, Capt. Bean declared that so far it has been impossible to work out any definite theory in connection with the murder. Katz, according to Capt. Bean, had business dealings with dozens of men and women. In many of his deals his customers were not satisfied. In others everyone concerned seemed to be pleased. The slain gem broker also was in the habit of carrying thousands of dollars' worth of jewelry with him and may have been slain with robbery as the motive. A number of women have also entered into the investigation and the killing, according to the police, may have resulted from his relations with some of them.

"We have done almost everything that we can in this case," stated Capt. Bean yesterday. "We have worked day and night and checked up on every angle possible. We intend tomorrow to investigate the last definite clew in our possession and then will simply have to wait for something new to turn up. If no information is given us by the public then the killing of Harry I. Ktaz will probably go down as another unsolved murder."

Katz, the police records show, was shot down at 5.50 p.m. last Monday when he answered a knock at his apartment door. The murderer fired only one shot and then fled. No one saw the slayer enter the apartment-house and no one saw him flee. Several persons in the establishment heard the shot and also heard someone rush out of the place.

After the shooting Katz staggered down the front stairway of the apartment-house to the ground floor and then fell dead at the feet of a number of roomers who rushed into the hallway. He did not speak before he died.

KATZ BURIED TO OLD CHANTS

Thence the procession went to Mt. Zion Cemetery where burial rites ended the services.

From beginning to end the ceremony was strictly orthodox with but one exception. In accordance with an ancient Jewish law the body of a man who dies at the hands of unknown assailants is buried on the outskirts of the cemetery. Through some oversight, it was said, the grave was prepared among those of persons who had died from ordinary causes.

The ceremony at the side of the grave included the slashing of a part of the clothing of the father, mother, two brothers and sister of the dead man, in accordance with the ancient custom.

BORN IN RUSSIA

Katz was 37 years of age. He was born in Pinsk, Russia. The city now is a part of Poland. Twenty years ago he came to America and eleven years ago he came to Los Angeles.

Connoisseur of jewels, rare violins, art and women and lover of music and himself a musician of rare ability, he lived a life that was a far cry from his beginning in a lowly Russian home. One week ago he was shot dead at the door of his luxuriously furnished apartment by an unidentified person with an unknown motive.

Scores of detectives here and elsewhere are attempting to unravel the mystery of the killing and to find out what became of some of the gems of fabulous worth Katz is said to have possessed.

Pallbearers at the funeral were A. Abelson, J. Shapiro, A. Smith, S. Rubin, B. Platt, I. Altman and J. Joel.

She pointed out Jackson's methods by stating that two of the ministers of her church had later been ordained by him in the association.

The general public, she declared, can aid in the campaign by investigating carefully the claims of all who assert to be mediums. If all of these claims are investigated, she said, the activities of fraudulent mediums and psychics will be ended. About 200 persons were present.

CHEST WORKERS RESUME EFFORT

come if the goal is to be reached. Clinton E. Miller, general of the division expresses confidence that the test will be met.

UP TO BUSINESS MEN

Declaring that business men in the past have clamored for adoption of the Community Chest method of financing charitable and relief work in Los Angeles, George M. Babcock, chairman of the chest budget committee states that it is now up to those business men to support the plan for which they asked. The innumerable tags, drives, and solicitations carried on by individual charitable organizations in the past seriously interfered with business, these men declared. When to give and when not to give was a distinct problem, they claimed.

These objections have been overcome by the Community Chest plan, and yet many of the same business men have not yet contributed, Mr. Babcock states.

Strange contrasts are reported by workers in the chest cause. The proprietor of an apparently prosperous furniture business refused to contribute, one woman solicitor reports. Just two doors away a young laboring man stated that his wife was going to undergo an operation and money wasn't coming easily. He wanted to contribute, however. Would $1 look too cheap?

The Atlanta Klansmen are represented by Attorney William T. Kendrick. The injunction petition of Mr. Hays and his associates was filed by Attorney James Westervelt.

Bandits Escape With Diamonds as Bullets Fly

Two bandits held up L. R. Pardee, proprietor of a drug store at 1350 West Washington street, last night, and escaped with $300 and two diamond rings valued at $2500, although Pardee fired several shots at them.

Pardee was alone in the store when the pair entered. Both produced guns and commanded him to open the cash register, from which they extracted the money and rings. After they had left the store, Pardee obtained a gun. None of the shots he fired at the bandits is believed to have taken effect. The robbers are believed to have escaped in a motor car.

Gas Companies Plan Pensions for Employees

A pension system for employees has been adopted by the Southern California Gas Company and the Midway Gas Company, it was announced yesterday by A. B. Macbeth, vice-president and general manager. It will provide for an insurance policy carrying a pension upon the attainment of the age of 65 years; benefits in cas of total disability, insurance payable to dependents in case of death and a cash value which is to be paid to employees in proportion to the service and salary received upon their leaving the service. The maximum pension possible under the plan will be $2100 a year and the minimum for those who have served thirty years or longer, will be $840 a year.

ORTHODOX CHURCH URGED TO ADOPT DIVINE HEALING

Herbert Booth Smith Asserts Bible Source of Necessary Therapeutic Knowledge

...ding that the Bible teaches divine healing, Dr. Her... ...Smith, pastor of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church, ...ress to the KHJ audience from The Times broadcasting ...n yesterday, said that the Christian churches of today ...k and apply those principles which he admitted are ...ffectively by various cults and teachers. Preaching on ...ion "Should Healing Be Brought Back Into the ..." Dr. Smith spoke in part as follows:

...church sought to come clos... ...people's everyday lives and ...ss than she has done here... ...I think I can illustrate this ...by a case from life. There ...a Christian man a few years ...who had been reared in a ...rictive and orthodox church. ...had been told that to be good ...to good was the sum of one's ...ney faith and works. He got ...about as the average church ...ber does until one day he woke ...had himself a failure. He ...lost both money and health ...there seemed no chance of his ...getting either. He was marooned ...a little cabin in the hills, fight... ...to fight for health alone. By ...he stumbled onto 'New ...ught.' It promised him health ...success—a victorious life in... ...of a vanquished one. That ...got what he wanted. For ...he worked at the new solu... ...which New Thought offered ...is he says, he had health, ...ength and vitality of body and ...

SAYS MEN SHOULD COPY GOD'S MERCY

Rev. W. G. Ruehle, pastor of Highland Park Lutheran Church, preached yesterday on "Forgiveness." He said in part:

"To err is human; to forgive, divine.' Nowhere has this truth been set forth more strikingly than in the parable of Christ, known as the parable of the 'wicked servant.' Any member of the human family whom God would take account of would be found indebted to God to the amount of 10,000 talents in thoughts, words and deeds, offending against His perfect law. Sins are talents, items of enormous denominations. Their number is myriad, too great to be counted. Although the sins of one are greater and more numerous than the sins of another, the difference in wickedness is insignificant when considering that all sins, great and small, are an offense against the Lord of Lords. And yet, God is as ready and willing to forgive the offenses of man as man is full of sin. No descendent of Adam ever cried unto God in vain for mercy. Forgiveness is the sinner's greatest need. So likewise, it is the sinner's greatest deed. A Christian, having had his great debt of sin canceled and forgiven, becomes a 'wicked servant' if he insists on payment in full from his fellowman who offends him."

DEFINES HIGHEST FORM OF ETHICS

Rabbi E. F. Magnin spoke at the Temple B'nai B'rith last Friday on the subject "Doing Good." He said in part:

"The highest form of ethics is to do good for the joy of doing it and for the benefit derived by the recipient thereof. Yet there is a benefit that always comes from doing the right. The old utilitarian axiom that 'Honesty is the best policy' is decidedly true in the long run. And so with all we do and say and think. We get what we pay for in this world. Smiles beget smiles, friendship begets friendship, love begets love. Who are the people who are respected and admired in the community? They are the cheerful, happy souls, who are ever ready to give, whether it be money, time or service to every worth-while cause. While I do not espouse the old belief that doing good will necessarily bring material returns in this world, there seems to be a germ of truth in this conception. In many cases at least, people who do things for the benefit of others have brought around them many an admirer, who has rendered valiant service in their behalf. But, I believe for the most part, that we receive not material dividends, but the love and respect and good will of people and the joy and delight of a good conscience and a happy mind, which are worth more than mere money and cannot be purchased with gold."

SAYS CHRIST WAS AN EVOLUTIONIST

Rev. S. J. Brownson, formerly a Presbyterian minister, addressed members of the Besant Theosophical Lodge yesterday on "Christ and Evolution." He said in part:

"The Bible and many authentic sources prove that Christ was an evolutionist. Man and everything else in development conform to this great law of nature. In applying this law to the action of the mind and the development of all of its faculties, in response to the principle of adjustment of environment, you will find it solves life's deepest age-long problems in a way that appeals to the reason with far more compelling force than the appeal to faith ever did. Religion is then seen to rest on a scientific basis. The conflict between religion and science is the result of man's ignorance."

"THE HOLY SPIRIT" IS SERMON TOPIC

Rev. S. J. Lindsay preached at the Church of God yesterday on "The Holy Spirit." He said in part:

"God has ever used vehicles as the means of conveying His spirit to men. He spake to Moses through the burning brush to the Israelites through the cloud and the pillar of fire; to the prophets by visions; to Abraham by angels; in acknowledgment of His Son at His baptism by the dove, and on the day of Pentecost by tongues of fire but to us He has spoken by Jesus Christ. The Word is the means by which the spirit reaches us now."

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

There is absolutely no truth in the report being circulated around Los Angeles that the Hall of Records is to be torn down because it is behind the Times.

THE "VERBOTEN" BRIDGE

There are some reformers who don't give a hang who owns the earth so long as they are given a job of building a fence 'round it.

MECHANICAL

May we never see the day when the 100-per-cent American can be symbolized as a well-oiled cog wheel in a massive machine.

DISCIPLINE

When we refuse to discipline ourselves life does the job for us, and it does it with a whip of scorpions. Life will discipline you by taking from you all you want. It will break your heart and it will break your will in the bargain.

PICTURE CHANGES

The picture of the patriarch with tobacco-stained beard and whisker is no longer hung on the line. That distinction is now reserved for ultra-modern maidens blowing clouds of cigarette smoke from dainty nostrils.

AVAUNT!

More hardships for unhappy Russia. The Commissioner of Health rules against kissing, no matter what the occasion or provocation. Even handshaking is forbidden for the same reason, it is unhygienic.

The rule against kissing will go hard with the peasants, who salute one another by kissing on the lips and three times on each cheek.

Evidently the Health Commissioner intends to insure his term against humdrum and monotony.

A GOOD START

The city of Berlin will in the future endow every newborn babe with a savings bank and three gold marks.

The three marks combine into the old German thaler of tradition, without which no self-respecting German servant girl considers the acceptance of a new situation binding.

However, as a gift from the city, the Berlinese are in doubt whether it is intended to encourage parenthood or to inculcate thrift.

VENICE CANALS

Again commercialism threatens to destroy a touch of romance in the Southland. A project is up to fill in the canals of Venice and turn them into modern boulevards. Our Venice was named for the famous resort on the Adriatic and the canals were almost a necessity to justify the appropriating of so historical a name. It is to be feared that a Venice sans canals and waterways will appear somewhat incongruous to those critics who love a jest at the expense of California. If the project is ever carried out it would appear logical to also change the name.

FARMS AND POLITICS

The price of wheat advanced when it was known that there was partial failure of the foreign crop. The price of corn increased when part of our own corn belt was smitten. These conditions have brought something of prosperity to many American farmers, but ex-Gov. Frank O. Lowden says that the success of agriculture and the prosperity of the home farmer must not be dependent upon crop failures at home and abroad.

The problems of the farm would be partially disposed of by intelligent diversification of crops and combination marketing. The farmer who raises nothing but wheat on his acres is wearing out his land and risking his season on a single venture. When a county has a farm supervisor or a commission of land and crop experts to gather information, record results and study markets, that district generally has something to show for its work. It is through co-operative marketing and community understanding that the farmer can best assure himself of a financial return for his labor and investment. His own income should not be conditioned upon failure in some other section.

The bargaining power of numbers may be encountered in nearly all American industries, but farmers have never co-operated to an extent to indicate their economic strength. The mission in which Col. Lowden is an acknowledged leader is to bring commercial co-operation into the field of agriculture.

The trouble is that the farmer has been dabbling in politics instead of business. He has been looking to the politician rather than to his own kind for relief. He doesn't need new laws, he needs a fresh outlook. The farmers of America should adopt, as far as they can, the principles which prevail in modern business and the manufacturing industries. It is, of course, difficult to carry organization into the ranks of the farmers, but it can be done and is already under way. Our own co-operative associations in the citrus, the walnut, the raisin and other crop industries are substantial examples of what can be accomplished in this direction.

VETOING THE GENERAL STRIKE

Zeal of an order seldom to be noted in the history of such affairs must have inspired the local union-labor leaders who evolved the world-beating idea of a general strike of the building trades of Los Angeles and applied to the American Federation of Labor for the privilege of putting it into effect. Coupled with this noble ardor were such rare discernment and discrimination as distinguished the valorous deeds of the Mad Mullah and the Pied Piper of Hamelin.

Such leaders are the bane of communities. It is inconceivable that among the sober-minded artisans whom they thought they had enlisted for the strike were any that really were in favor of it or who thought it might be won, although not a few permitted themselves to be talked into it. Considering the steady employment which they have been and are now enjoying in an enormous and swiftly-growing urban center in which building activity is greater than in that of any other American city except New York, together with the ample wages they were receiving for daily work of comparatively short hours.

The federation as well as the members of the Building Trades Council of Los Angeles would have been peculiarly injudicious and indiscreet had the idea been carried out. Chastened by an unbroken series of disastrous defeats in the Los Angeles sector, Gompers and his associates very naturally shrank from another test of strength between organized labor and independent labor in Southern California. They probably feared that such an attack would result in driving the last remnants of union labor from the Los Angeles citadel of industrial freedom.

Some local union-labor agitators were willing to make the test, provided some one else would put up the money. A number of these agitators have reaped a rich harvest in the past in dispersing the funds contributed by labor-union employees all over the country. But the outside has grown weary of castin its dollars into the Los Angeles pit; and Gompers and his associates decided that it would be the part of wisdom to let Los Angeles severely alone.

In coming to this city for employment skilled laborers have not been disappointed. They have received an abundance of steady lucrative work under unsurpassed climatic conditions in which neither the rigors of winter nor the humid heat of summer, which they left behind in the country from which most of them came, have hampered their activities.

All these facts make the efforts of those who have been seeking to organize them against their employers and the community seem peculiarly intolerable. Those who have gone forth to subdue the earth and to build the city in the spirit which has actuated them from the beginning of this splendid era of structural advancement are not to be stopped by such petty forces. The barrier to their progress would have been swept aside within a fortnight and it would have been pertinently suggested that the workers who did not like the ways of Los Angeles in dealing with such a disaffected element might return to the land of snows or enlist in the army of agricultural laborers.

An enormous amount of money and effort have been spent in the past few years to unionize labor in Los Angeles, but thus far the work has been a total failure. An appropriation of $500,000 is said to have been made for that purpose at the federation's convention in Portland a year ago, this amount to be spent for one year's propaganda. The expenditure of this money has not resulted in the securing of a union-labor strength sufficient to command the situation, which condition doubtless was a potent factor in the refusal of the national body to sanction the proposed general strike.

Hundreds of thousands of skilled workmen have come here during the last twenty years for the express purpose of escaping the industrial servitude of eastern and middle-western labor-union ridden communities. They have come as the pilgrims came to Plymouth Rock. They have enjoyed the blessings of industrial freedom and they know the tyranny of labor-union rule.

These men have contributed their labor to build the Los Angeles of the present day. It is a monument to their independence and their industry. And the sordid union-labor bosses have found to their discomfiture that these independent workmen are neither to be bullied nor to be bribed; that they are not to be tricked into offering their hands a second time to the shackles that they once tore from their wrists.

Such is the independent spirit of Los Angeles, the spirit that has resisted every attempt at unionization in the past and that Gompers and his associates do not care again to encounter.

DROUGHTS HERE AND THERE

In their vain attempts to check the tide of migration from their region of cyclones and zero weather to sunny Southern California and thus to prevent further depopulation of home districts from which thousands have been drawn to this more favored clime, some of the mid-western journals, in their weird attacks upon this section of the Golden State in recent months, have had a great deal to say about our "devastating droughts" and "terrific and widespreading forest fires." The impressive picture of whole communities on their knees imploring the Deity to relieve the awful situation was presented periodically. The anvil chorus worked overtime and always with a crescendo effect.

One was supposed to infer from these highly colored sketches of our pitiable plight that such things as droughts and forest fires never occurred back there and that the Middle West was a mighty good section to remain in, which California distinctly was not.

But what is this? Is the Weather Bureau pipe-dreaming or does it really mean to say that, while California has been enjoying a season of refreshing and extensive rains during the past few weeks, nearly all the country east of the Mississippi has been visited by drought, that the pastures are short and dry, that there have been many and widespread forest fires in New York, New Jersey, Michigan, Kentucky and West Virginia, while Southern Indiana has been a veritable furnace, thousands of acres of timber being wiped out in spite of the desperate efforts of armies of fire-fighters who have worked day and night to check the progress of the red scourge? The damage done by the conflagration in Indiana has amounted to millions, while in Kentucky it is closely estimated at $500,000. Running brush and forest fires have menaced several towns and the people have been praying to Divine Providence to send rain to extinguish the threatening flames.

A profound sympathy for the sufferers is the only emotion stirring in the breasts of true Californians on reading the accounts of these catastrophes. If our people were to try to make any sort of capital out of their misfortune we might justly be accused of having no greater mental stature than that of our mid-western critics, who, in their narrow, sectional way, have endeavored to have it appear, by implication at least, that we have a monopoly of droughts, forest fires and earthquakes, though, as a matter of fact, to find a habitable land that is wholly immune from them one would have to search elsewhere than upon this ever-changing planet. But, while refraining from retaliatory comment, we may be permitted to express the hope that the next time some little Iowa journalist is tempted to stress an untoward condition in another region and to take it as a text for a stay-at-home-and-be-happy preachment he will not select California as his object lesson.

MIND TRAINING

Everyone who has observed life of people here in the United States over a period of years can recall games, songs, catchwords and fashions that swept the country like wildfire, becoming immensely popular in an astonishingly short time, but soon losing their hold on the people's fancy. The passion for cross-word puzzles now manifesting itself is a rather unique craze in that it meets with the commendation of persons who are usually not in sympathy with fads. The reason for their approving attitude is that solution of these fascinating puzzles creates thirst for knowledge, broadens the mind and stimulates the imagination.

Never before in all probability were men and women, boys and girls, consulting the dictionary and the encyclopedia for elusive words to the extent that they now are. They are learning about birds, beasts, chemicals, battles, treaties, eminent men of the past and present—everything, in fact, that has a name that can be worked into a puzzle. They are enriching their vocabularies and improving their orthography.

There are things which might improve the mind more, but as a diversion the cross-word puzzle takes a new position in mental gymnastics. One of the great beauties of cross-word puzzles is that they cost nothing and there is an infinite variety to them.

THE NEXT BATTLE

For the next few weeks the followers of La Follette will be at pains to show that his campaign is the greatest independent political movement of the century. They will promise ultimate dethronement of the Republicans or a complete taking over of Democracy.

As a matter of fact, the La Follette movement was merely a gesture of protest sponsored by alien minds. It was the cumulative voice of the discontented. As an appeal for sympathy it would not survive even kindly investigation. It was based upon spidery politics.

Senator La Follette is 70 years of age and is far from being in robust health. By reason of his egotism and histrionic powers he has become the storm center of the negatives. In a land of drys he is thought to represent the wets. In a country of pilgrim ancestry he is the king-pin of the aliens. In a land of big business he is the apostle of the raiders. At some angle or other his chameleon politics has brought to him the leadership of the forces of discord. He is the prophet of the radicals.

But the mass which he is thus permitted to lead can never be welded into a cohesive political party. There are dozens of subleaders under the chief who would not trust one another with baby's bank. With La Follette out of the picture they would disintegrate into the minor groupings from which they came. No other man now in public life would be able to hold them together. They would not be responsive to a Hiram Johnson and no public man of real capacity would care to assume the task of binding them into a single organization. The task would be too hopeless and the material too incoherent.

When the activities of La Follette cease there will be a still further disintegration of the forces which he is now able to command.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

The Next Election

Germany is next on the list with a national election. The issue is monarchism versus republicanism if we are to believe the Nationalist newspapers. These journals have begun a seven-week campaign with shouts of Teutonism, patriotism, traitors to the fatherland, Jews and a national religion. The orchestra seems to be only tuning up, the full din and crash will only be heard toward the wind-up of the battle. Before that hour many irresponsible statements will be flung into the wind, many flamboyant and threatening speeches made. Of course, the loud shouting does not mean a great deal. As an old Flemish proverb runs: It is "a great deal of bleating, but little wool." The outcome of the contest seems to favor a victory for the combined People's party, the Center and the Nationalists. The Fascisti are expected to lose heavily and the Nationalists feel that they may as well bring these disillusioned folk into their own net, just as the Socialists are busy drawing the "bordermen" of the Communists into theirs. In the meantime there can be no doubt that some of the wild and fantastic mottoes and slogans of the Junkers will filter through into the foreign press, a matter that will do the fatherland little good.

Loyal Canada

The English newspapers are immensely pleased with the reception given the Prince of Wales when he passed through French Canada. Excerpts from editorials in the French Canadian press are cited as proof of the loyalty of the French citizens of Canada to the British Empire. The French Canadians gave ample proof of their loyalty during the war. They fought bravely in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, "the shock troops of the British army in France." At the battles of Givenchy, Passchendaele, Ypres, the Somme, they won great distinction. At Vimy Ridge this writer saw them go over the top singing their quaint shanty songs, "Alouette, gentil alouette." They reached their objective before the others The French race in Canada has produced some of the greatest statesmen Canada has had, among whom Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the great Liberal chieftain; Sir Lomer Govin, Tascheran, Lucien Cannon and that marvelously eloquent and versatile leader of the Nationalist group, Henri Bourassa, editor of Le Devoir.

Tongue Twisters

More than 3000 Greeks have been arrested in Constantinople and face deportation to Hellenic territory. The round-up has been in progress during the past few weeks and is part of the program of exchanging populations provided by the Lausanne Treaty. The Greeks living in Constantinople were said to be excluded under the treaty and a protest has been lodged with the Council of the League of Nations. Naturally many of the Greeks speak Turkish so fluently that they can hardly be detected if they wear a fez. 'Tis said, however, that such "evaders" are subjected to a little method of identification that "never fails." They must repeat a set of Turkish words in quick succession. It seems that it is impossible for a Greek to pronounce certain words and the result is, of course, arrest.

ANIMAL ELECTRICITY

BY RANSOME SUTTON

Along the Orinoco the natives say: "Whoever goes down never comes up," and wise travelers always respect the sayings of natives. But the natives themselves sometimes take chances, as happened while I was camped on a branch of the Orinoco. The native, a Waurau Indian, knew better than to try to swim across the branch, but he had been hunting all day and was anxious to get back to his tribe that night, so he took a chance. A half-hour later his head was seen bobbing up and down on the darkling water and we knew he was dead. We also knew he had not drowned, for drowning men cry out, whereas this man had uttered no sound loud enough to be heard a stone's throw away.

Two Indians went out in a dugout, looped a grapevine around the victim's neck and were paddling ashore when a great eel's tail flipped into view. The boatmen found it easy to spear the eel, for its mouth was clinging to the dead man's flesh and it proved to be almost unbelievably uncanny. It was eight feet long and weighed (by guess) about fifty pounds. There was no body—simply a snake-like head and six feet of tail. Along both sides of the long tail, forming lateral ridges, lay the organs which had caused the Waurau's death—huge electric generators. These organs looked like muscular tendons, about five feet long, the front end being charged with negative and the tail end with positive electricity. The eel had bent round the helpless swimmer and discharged a series of shocks which literally shot through his body, instantly paralyzing him. Then, whether he were living or dead, it proceeded to feast, and was still feasting, when speared.

I have since learned that the force of the shock (electricians call it the electromotive force) amounts to as much as 450 volts, which is almost as fatal to life as the voltage used in the electric chair at Sing Sing. Henry Fairfield Osborn says the current consists of a series of shocks discharged at a rate of 3000 per second.

CALIFORNIA POPPY

BY DAVID STARR JORDAN

It is strange that investigators of genetics and heredity have not given more attention to the plant which is the glory of California meadows, the Copa d'Oro, or California poppy, Eschscholtzia californica of Chamisso. It is easily raised from the seed, readily affected by external conditions and subject to marked variations which could be confirmed or intensified by selective breeding. Many of its natural variants have been dignified by description as new species, although only two forms, the smooth annual (Eschscholtzia peninsularis) and the rough, hairy dwarf, also annual (E. hypecoides) are regarded as entitled to technical separation from californica.

So great is the variability of our poppy that the late Dr. Greene separated the ordinary perennial form into thirty-two different "species," while of the eight or nine other forms, annuals, closely related to the golden poppy, but tangibly distinct from it and from one another he defines seventy-three species with some outlying varieties. To this incredible list Fedde, a German botanist, adds several more. There is, in fact, no limit if we regard every peculiar-looking plant as the type of a new species, without evidence as to the origin and permanence of its variation. Such a condition, as observed by Darwin among the barnacles, is "attractive to us as speculatists, however odious to us as systematists.

The name species should, however, be applied only to definable forms existing in nature and which, running the gauntlet of life, have endured and perpetuated their kind.

The flowers of Eschscholtzia californica are normally of a deep, rich orange, the four petals with entire edges and each an inch and a half long. Near the seashore the flowers are smaller, of a more or less clear lemon yellow, orange at base or not. This is apparently "ontogenetic" variation, that is, a change due to environment and not perpetuated in heredity. Such variants are not entitled to a systematic name, because likely to disappear with a changed environment, for the poppy is not only inherently variable, but responds directly to all changes of soil and season.

Toward the end of the rainless summer the upright flower stalks wither and flowers successively smaller spring from near the rootstock. These are of a clear lemon yellow, sometimes more or less orange at the base, the orange fading as the flowers shrink away.

Just now, looking as I write, over a field of golden blossoms from my window, I see numerous variations, some of them perhaps to be called mutations, as they are quite striking and, occurring in patches, must be more or less enduring. In several spots the flowers are of a light creamy yellow, the petals holding their place, when plucked, longer than in the orange form. Another group has large flowers of a citron color. Occasionally the rim of a flower is darker or paler than the center. On some plants the petals are more or less ragged on the margin. Frequently they are five in number, often six, sometimes eight. The number of pistils is not fixed and the broad rim of the base of the flower, both traits normally characterizing the true Eschscholtzia californica, the smooth perennial, are often as elusive as the other traits.

The color especially lends itself to modification by selection. Luther Burbank once found a plant with a crimson streak like a red thread at the base of each petal. Saving the seed, he obtained ... through selection alone, ... with the flowers all crim... lings of this form ... again, having pinkish ... most white.

Eschscholtzia has one advantage over the evening primrose (Oenothera) for experimental purposes. It is a natural species recurring by the million in its habitat. It is, therefore, not a garden variety nor a suspected hybrid. Oenothera lamarckiana, thus far the subject of most mutation experiments, though cultivated in Europe, is American in origin and not wholly a hybrid. No one, I believe, has yet ever found the form in question growing wild anywhere.

In any event, accurate studies of the variation in Eschscholtzia should be interesting and rewarding.

HOW IT STARTED

BY JEAN NEWTON

"Frontispiece"

The first frontispiece was the front of a church. The word comes to us from the Latin "frontispicium" composed of two parts meaning "front" and "to see," which meant literally the front view. It is the part which first meets the eye. It is still used in the field of architecture, to signify the principal portion of the front of a building, as it did in the day when our language was in the making and architecture was centered chiefly with the building of churches—when it signified specifically the front of a church.

It is easily comprehensible with the translation into English of the Latin word meaning the part which first meets the eye that should have come to be applied to the first page of a book and later to the illustration facing that page, which is the common usage of the word today.

Brother, have you ever looked
In the silence of the night,
To celestial music floating
Downward from the worlds of light?

When the lamps of God are burning

That angelic thoughts go flying
Through your heaven-lighted mind?

When the angel of the morning

To behold a new-born day?

Will you tell me, gentle brother,
Of the feelings that arise
In your heart when you are musing
Looking at the sunset skies?

Do you love the wondrous Maker
Whom you cannot see nor hear,
But who guides your footsteps daily
And who makes the night so dear?

Do you weep with joy at finding
Does the red stream of gladness
When you hear the blackbird sing?

Do the scented breezes blowing
Over southern seas of balm
Fill you with a tender longing
For the land that once you [illegible]?

Do you realize the power

SOCIETY

DE JUANA NEAL LEVY

A new departure of the salvage department of the Children's Hospital is being taken care of by Mrs. Walter Brode and Mrs. Rufus Ellis, who are now collecting dolls and toys. Mrs. Brode is repairing the dollies with new heads, legs or whatever is necessary to make them look like new, and many of the dollies are being dressed with lovely wardrobes, which will delight the souls of little new mammas. Mrs. Horton is directing the toys and this interesting work is being supervised by Mrs. Budd Frankenfield, general manager of the Children's Hospital salvage department, and the dolls and toys will be placed on sale at the salesrooms, 713 Grand avenue. Every year a similar sale is held beginning December 1, and those in poor circumstances—regular customers of the department—avail themselves of the opportunity to purchase the dolls and toys at a very small cost. Members of the salvage department are also used to help provide new playthings for the Children's Hospital, but if toys and dolls are sent to the salvage rooms within the next few days Mrs. Brode and Mrs. Ellis will assume the responsibility of putting them in first-class condition for the Christmas season.

Visiting in North

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Letts, Jr., are now enjoying a delightful visit in the north, where they are guests of Mr. Letts's mother, Mrs. Charles C. Quinn, at the Palace Hotel for the week-end, and attended the football game. Other guests who motored north for the week-end included Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wellborn, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allen Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Leeds, Miss Muriel Brown, Miss Caroline Trask and Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Reeves.

Luncheon Party

Mrs. Frederic Woodman entertained with a charmingly arranged luncheon party at the Los Angeles Country Club, Wednesday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Nye White Jackson, who has recently returned from an extended trip through the East. The guests included Mrs. Goodman, Mrs. John Fredericks, Mrs. Joseph B. Lynch, Mrs. James G. Osgood, Mrs. Alonzo C. Potter, Mrs. Homer Laughlin, Mrs. Earl W. Huntley, Mrs. George I. Burrall, Mrs. Elizabeth Nash, Mrs. Lilian Smith, Mrs. Harold C. Langdon, Mrs. Orie Reed, Mrs. Cornwell, Mrs. W. S. Hook, Mrs. Frank Reese, Mrs. Robert Walker Hyter, Mrs. Lucien Broadway Monnette, Mrs. Kirkwood, Mrs. Ellis Kirtley, Mrs. Fred J. Harrison, Mrs. George W. Kline, Mrs. Rivers Morrell, Mrs. Wilbur, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Allen Grant, Mrs. Edwin P. Kibler, Mrs. I. Goodman and Mrs. Ralph Hunt.

Daughter

One of the delightfully planned affairs of recent date was the evening dance with which Mr. and Mrs. Wyndham Martyn entertained at their new home in Florida street, Santa Monica, honoring their daughter and compliment, Mr. and Mrs. Osgood Pell Jr., who returned recently from their honeymoon. The Armistice Day motif was carried out in the decorations, the house being filled with streamers of red, white and blue, with the flags of the Allied nations massed about the rooms. Patriotic music also was decorative, while deep red roses and ferns. Those enjoying the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leech, Mrs. Ida Cleveland, Miss Cynthia Gibbs, Miss Sterrs, Miss Katherine Hunt, Miss Alderney Hallam, Miss Adrienne Leonard, Mrs. Edwin Gillespie, Miss Undine Hodgkinson, Miss Stella Weary, Miss Catherine Lanbord, Miss May Porter, Capt. Jack Norton, Gordon Scott, Bernard Evans, Charles Clark, Rupert Robinson, Jerry Powell, John Thompson, Hector McNeil, Joe Stubbington, Capt. Jerry Woods, Kenneth Moore, M.lo Armitage, Dick Hodges, William Brody and Donald Hallam.

Artists' Exhibition

The internationally famous artist, Tade Styka is giving a private view of a number of his best portraits this afternoon from 2 to 5 in the galleries of Cannell-Chaffin, 720 West Seventh street. M. Tade Styka was born in Poland, and educated in Paris, son of the famous historic painter, Jan Styka and brother of Adam Styka, well-known on the continent for his paintings of oriental subjects. He exhibited in the Paris Salon at 13 years of age, and received a medal from the Paris Salon at 14. Patronesses for the exhibition, which will continue throughout the week are Mrs. Allan C. Balch, Mrs. Ernest Albert Bryant, Mrs. Granville Macgowan, Mrs. Hugh Livingstone Macneil, Mrs. Bertrand Smith, Mrs. George J. Denis, Mrs. Lucien Napoleon Brunswig, Mrs. Herman J. Burkhard, Mrs. Dean Mason and Mrs. William Preston Harrison.

Wedding at Home

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Smith of 968 Walnut avenue, Inglewood, announce the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Doris May Smith, to Chester A. Palmer of Shafter, the ceremony taking place the 10th inst., Rev. Turney of First Christian Church officiating. Miss Clara E. Smith, sister of the bride, assisted as maid of honor and Kermit Palmer served his brother as best man. The bride was given away by her father and wore white crepe de chine over satin and carried sweet peas and bride's roses. Miss Smith wore a gown of Harding blue georgette over pink satin and carried pink sweet peas and ferns. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Marjorie Burke played several numbers and also played the wedding march. Four little tots, C. Edwin McInnes, C. Emery Pinchard, Marian Raymond and Marrietta Pinchard stretched the white satin ribbons, which formed the aisle for the bridal party. Seventy-five guests witnessed the ceremony and enjoyed the wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will make their home in Shafter after their return from their wedding trip. Among the guests was the great grandfather of Mr. Palmer, Thomas Tregonina of Los Angeles.

Luncheon Guests

Among the interesting features of the week will be the Aline Barret Greenwood lectures at the Ambassador, which will take place Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Many delightfully planned luncheons will follow the program among the hostesses being Mrs. Charles Ballagh, who will entertain twenty-five guests, the little group being assembled in compliment to Miss Greenwood, they all having attended a course of her lectures several years ago in Imperial Valley, but now making their homes in Los Angeles, and having luncheon together once a month. Mrs. J. Warren Tatum also will be hostess to a group of ten friends, luncheon being arranged in the Orange Tea Room after the lecture.

Church Wedding

An informal wedding was that of last Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Angels, Garvanza, when Miss Ashley Chalfant McClelland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David S. McClelland, plighted her troth to Edwin B. Gibbs, relatives and intimate friends witnessing the ceremony. Mrs. George D. Korber was her sister's only attendant while William M. Gibbs served his brother as best man. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs left for a motor trip to San Francisco and after their return will be at home to their friends at 4269 South Normandie avenue.

CHEF WYMAN'S Suggestions for TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast

Baked Apple With Raisins
Breakfast Sausages
Toast Marmalade
Milk Coffee

Luncheon

Baked Beef Hash
Mashed Potatoes
Molded Tomato Salad,
Thousand Island Dressing
Cranberry Pie
Milk Tea

Dinner

Puree of Lima Beans
Celery
Veal Steak, Vienna
Fresh String Beans
Fried Sweet Potatoes
Cucumber, Lettuce and Nut Salad
Baked Pineapple Pudding

BAKED BEEF HASH

Run two pounds of lean tender beef through the fine knife of the meat grinder and mix with half a cup of finely chopped beef suet, two finely chopped onions, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, a seasoning of salt and pepper, half a cup of bread crumbs, and one cupful of beef stock. Pack lightly in a buttered earthenware baking dish, cover with bread crumbs, sprinkle with a teaspoonful of lemon juice and bake in a moderate oven until well done. Serve in a border of mashed potatoes.

MOLDED TOMATO SALAD

Soak for five minutes two tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatine in one cupful of canned tomato juice. Add one cup of boiling water and stir until the gelatine is dissolved. Cool until the mixture starts to thicken; stir in one cupful of chopped tomato pulp, half a teaspoonful of paprika, half a teaspoonful of salt, half a cupful of chopped, tender celery, two tablespoonfuls of chopped green pepper, two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped gherkins, and half a teaspoonful of sugar. Pour into a wet, shallow mold and set in the ice box to harden. Cut in small diamond shaped pieces and serve on shredded lettuce with Thousand Island dressing.

PUREE OF LIMA BEANS

Place in a saucepan four cupfuls of fresh lima beans, one small onion, one whole clove, one slice of carrot, six sprigs of parsley, one tablespoonful of butter, and enough salted water to cover. Bring slowly to a boil and simmer until the lima beans are soft. Rub all through a sieve into a clean saucepan, add two cupfuls of hot milk and the slightly beaten yolks of two eggs. Stir and cook until the eggs are cooked, do not boil. Season with salt and pepper, stir in two teaspoonfuls of butter and serve with croutons.

VEAL STEAK

Have the butcher cut a steak one inch thick from the center of a leg of veal, place in a frying pan, season with salt and half a teaspoonful of paprika and fry a nice brown all over. Add to the steak half a cupful of finely chopped salt pork, one finely chopped young onion, and six sarelles. Cover the pan and let simmer five minutes. Add one cup of sour cream and simmer ten minutes. Lift out the steak to a hot platter, strain the sauce over and place around the edge of the platter cooked string beans.

PINEAPPLE PUDDING

Mix one and a half cupfuls of bread crumbs with one and a half cupfuls of sugar, and one and a half cupfuls of shredded pineapple; let stand five minutes and add five tablespoonfuls of sifted flour sifted with one-third of a teaspoonful of salt, and one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder; mix well, add one tablespoonful of lemon juice, and five well beaten eggs. Beat ten minutes, pour into a buttered baking dish, set in a pan of hot water and bake until firm in the center in a moderate oven. Serve with hard sauce.

The Woman and Her Job

by Katherine Hutton

(Questions concerning the problems of women will be answered in this column if addressed to Mrs. Watrous at The Times.)

ONE MORNING

You wouldn't suppose that if you went out on your front lawn to dig up dandelions you'd find a story, now would you? I was just desperate for one, too. It's like that. Sometimes you've just lots of copy, and then comes a drought. You look and look; you go round and see folks; you listen to groups talking, all the time hoping you'll get a story. And then . . . You go to dig dandelions and there it is!

Maybe it wasn't the dandelions after all. I think it was Buster. He's my fox terrier who believes every lady will rub a doggie's ears. His faith is beautiful. And he's so engaging and friendly he's never disappointed.

So my story came wandering along the street in the sunshine. She was hatless, and very smartly dressed. Buster rushed over to greet her as she started up my neighbor's steps. She knew dogs, and stopped to rub his ears.

I called him home and continued with the dandelions . . . there are just thousands of them. She talked at my neighbor's door for a few minutes, then she came down the walk and crossed the lawn.

"I answered an advertisement your neighbor had in the paper," she announced. "You don't know any one who wants a girl to take care of children, do you?"

I told her I did not. Then we talked awhile and she told me she had been a bookkeeper and stenographer and had come here three weeks ago believing a change of climate would improve her health. She'd been working very hard and had gotten so nervous the figures jumped before her eyes. She had been so happy to get work at once. She had found a position with a hospital, but soon the figures began jumping again. The doctor had examined her and told her to quit office work for a while . . . they had promised to hold her position for her. He had suggested that she turn to housework. Just like a man.

Housework! Dear, dear, she had not a chance in the world.

Her eyes were as black as a sloe . . . and you know I have not the faintest idea what a "sloe" is. Anyhow, her eyes were soft and dark with long curling lashes . . . enhanced with beading! Her teeth were even and white, and her full shapely lips were redder than anything I can think of this minute. Bobbed brown curls . . . not steamed, not baked, but the very real thing rested gently against cheek and brow. She was one rippilingly pretty girl!

We talked about a number of things, and seeing her foredoomed to failure in her quest . . . no sane woman would have established her in her kitchen, I suggested other lines of work that would bring her out in the sunshine. For the girl who seeks health the job that takes her from door to door is the best choice. And presently she went her way with a friendly word of farewell to Buster who liked her mightily.

As she strolled away two Community Chest representatives called on my neighbor, then stopped to chat with me. Once more Buster's abiding faith in the ladies was rewarded. While one rubbed his ears, the other told me how housewives opened the door a scant half inch to announce acridly: "My husband's taking care of that downtown" and slammed it before there was opportunity for further remark. There were others, she said, who informed her tartly: "We are hounded to death on this street by women appealing for charity. Why don't you go to the Salvation Army?" and before the query could be answered, that door shut.

And they continued on their way.

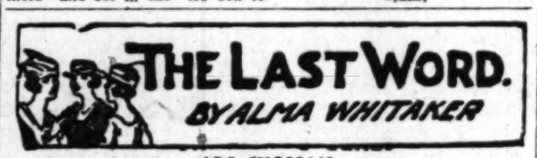
It did not seem to be dandelion morning. So I went 'round to the back yard. And by and by my neighbor tripped out and I asked if she had secured a maid yet.

"Not yet," she said. "There was a young woman here just now—big brown eyes, curling hair, beaded lashes and plucked eyebrows. A real beauty. Seemed a nice girl, too—but she could not cook. Anyhow I wouldn't have taken her if she could. I think too much of my happy home to take a risk like that!" And she laughed and ran back into the house.

"Neither would I," I called after her. "No sane woman would."

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Dear Miss Whittier: The normal school requirement for a teacher's certificate in California is two and a half years, not three. There are colleges of first-class rating where you can get your degree in three years by doing summer sessions. There is a Self-help College in Illinois, and if you will write the State Board of Education at Springfield, that State, they will give you full details.



THE LAST WORD. BY ALMA WHITAKER

ALL WOMAN

I decided to give myself the pleasure of meeting the mother of twenty-two living children. The city was proud of her, the State was proud of her, the Chamber of Commerce was very specially proud of her, Napoleon would have adored her and, obviously, she is a queen among women.

It was rather a distressing neighborhood. But after I had squeezed in behind a couple of negro hot-dog restaurants, and stepped carefully over a sleeping negro on her front porch, she made me welcome.

There were only nine or ten lambkins at home when I called—the 3 1-2-months-old daughter in a basket, the 14-months-old one on her lap, the 3-year-old twins and the 5-year-old twins were playing coach and horses with the chairs. A 7-year-old was cutting out pictures, a larger boy was asleep on the floor and a big girl was peeling potatoes.

"Have a seat. Bobby let the lady have one of your horses," she said politely.

"As woman to woman?" I said, "how on earth do you do it?"

"Well, I guess it's the Lord's will," she beamed. "We always seem to get along somehow. People are pretty good—all but landlords. That's our trouble, you know. That's why we can't live in no better place than this. We've only been here a week—pretty awful, aint it? But I guess we are pretty lucky to get this—we can only afford to pay $36 a month. My husband's a janitor—and he ain't too strong neither."

"Not strong," I murmured, incredulously. "And what about yourself?"

"Oh, I am real healthy—except I get well nigh paralyzed for a couple of months before each baby. But of course, that ain't being exactly sick. And the Lord be praised the children are all healthy—don't even have colic." She was proud of that.

"Then you are religious," I said—groping for reasons.

"Well, I can't say I am at that. Can't never go to church, you see. But I send all the kids to Sunday-school, it don't do 'em no harm and it help keeps them off the streets."

"How on earth do you feed them on a janitor's wages? I suppose you nurse them as long as possible."

"No, I ain't had no milk since the last seven. Bottle babies, nigh all of them. It's been harder since milk went up."

"Any of the children married?"

"Yes, the oldest boy and two girls. The boy has five children of his own—but the girls won't have none. They is back home through quarreling with their husbands about it. Grass widows, I guess they are. But I ain't bawling 'em out for it, I guess it ain't for me to say. You see, they like shows and trips and things and they know I have only been to one show in my life, and seen the beach just once—even if it is only twenty miles. You can't run around when you got babies."

Well, I spent a couple of hours there—and learned that this amazing woman often went out to do housework—to help get clothes for the babies. (No dignity of a career about that.) And she would not tell me her age—giggled and evaded just like the rest of us. She hasn't a gray hair on her head—lanky brown untidy hair, but large lovely brown eyes and an utterly placid disposition. Of course she is sloppy—she couldn't be anything else. But the children are dear normal children and quite amazingly clean under the circumstances. They sleep four and five in a bed. And she assured me, if only landlords liked them they would be happy.

Wonderful, wonderful woman. All woman.

CITY PLANNERS WILL TALK OVER PROGRAM

MEMBERS OF ASSOCIATION TO MEET; REPORTS WILL BE MADE

A meeting of the City Planning Association, the first of the 1924-25 program, will be conducted on Tuesday night at the City Club, 833 South Spring street. Reports of the various committees of the organization will be made at this meeting and a discussion of the 1925 program conducted. The major points on this program are a union passenger terminal to serve as a portal to the city, a park and boulevard system throughout the city and the metropolitan district, a new library, municipal auditorium and a city College, all suitably located and housed, and a network of traffic highways, giving adequate access to the center of the city.

HERRICK BIDS FOR LIMELIGHT AGAIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Nov. 16.—Manuel Herrick, Oklahoma's eccentric ex-Congressman, is going to run for the United States Senate against Senator John W. Harreld in 1926.

Herrick made his formal announcement at Washington after he had won a 1-cent verdict in his breach of promise suit against Miss Ethelyn Chrane, who was his stenographer during his term in the House.

The day before Herrick won his judgment, acting as his own attorney, Miss Chrane won a $7500 verdict against him in a suit she brought for damages based on his conduct toward her after she changed her mind about marrying him.

INSURANCE UPON PORT EQUIPMENT IS PLACED

The Board of Harbor Commissioners has placed marine insurance on the city's tugs and other floating equipment at the port, valued at $248,780, with Rule & Sons, Inc. The insurance covers loss of the equipment by fire, sinking or other causes. The premium was 3 per cent on the equipment when it was in use in the harbor and 4 per cent when outside of the harbor.

NEW LIGHT POSTS URGED

The Grand Avenue Improvement Association has urged the City Council to order the installation of ornamental lighting posts on Grand avenue, from Pico street to Thirty-eighth street. A 72 per cent property owners' petition asking for the improvement has been filed.

ORNAMENTAL POSTS ASKED

Property owners have requested the City Council to order the installation of ornamental lighting posts on Wilcox avenue from Santa Monica Boulevard to Melrose avenue.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ART YOU BEING POISONED?

Are you suffering from despondency and the blues? Is your whole family so irritable that you are almost impossible to live with? Are you suffering from headaches, nausea, extreme weariness, intense drowsiness, with perhaps numbness in your feet and hands, followed by pain in the arms and legs and heart, difficulty in breathing, uncomfortable heart action?

Most likely you have been thinking that colds, "rheumatism," dietary indiscretions, overexertion and other ordinary things are to blame. In reality it may be they are but contributary factors. Look to your gas fittings, to your furnaces, especially the hot air furnaces, to your gas heaters, to your coal stoves and ranges. It is possible that you are suffering from chonic carbon monoxide poisoning!

There are many deaths yearly from acute gas poisoning. Whole families have been exterminated. Publicity has been given to these fatal acute cases, but not so much is known of the dangers of chronic gas poisoning. In recent years, however, this danger is being recognized, and the Department of Commerce of the United States Bureau of Standards is organizing, with the representatives of several gas companies, a campaign against the menace of carbon monoxide gas as the chief cause of much unaccountable ill health (Luden.)

McGurn, in an article on chronic gas poisonings, states that "grave danger always exists when coal or illuminating gas is inhaled in sufficient quantities to be detected by the normal sense of smell." It may be a serious mistake to think that coal gas cannot be present unless it can be smelled. The United Sates Bureau of Mines has shown that three out of every five types of gas tubing in common use are dangerous and unreliable, while two out of four types of gas tubing connections are equally unsatisfactory, leaks being frequent.

In the rest of this paper, I am going to quote from Dr. Georgine Luden's article on chronic monoxide poisoning in Modern Medicine, February and March, 1921. Dr. Luden has personally experienced this poisoning, and she is now, and for some years past, has been making an exhaustive scientific study of the subject.

"Apart from defective gas fittings, tiny rifts in furnace pots, and the prolonged inhalation of small amounts of auto-exhaust gas, consideration must be given to two sources of carbon monoxide production of which the danger is not realized by the average householder, namely, the iron 'breeching' connecting furnace and flue and the ordinary lime-mortar used in the old houses to make the flues airtight. The iron breeching is corroded by the combustion fumes and becomes porous like old India rubber. Ordinary lime-mortar is also disintegrated by heat and combustion fumes; its use has been condemned by the building code of the National Board of Fire Underwriters (1918,) on account of 'fire hazard,' but it may be found in many old houses. It is obvious that fire hazard implies the escape of fumes.

"The cause of carbon monoxide production in my house is worth considering because it may easily be duplicated in many American homes. Two furnaces, both situated in the basement, were connected with the same flue. The larger furnace—hot water system—controlled the central heating; the smaller one furnished the hot water supply. During the damp, chilly days of September, 1919, the big furnace was fired in daytime only with old wood of which we wanted to dispose; the small furnace, heated with coal, burned night and day. All flues cooled off at night. The additional loss of heat caused by the 'going out' of the big furnace failed to be compensated by the warmth of the small furnace. A down draught, produced by the cold, heavier air at the top of the flue, forced the combustion gases into the house. Similar conditions obtain when fires are lighted for the first time in autumn and the flues are cold; they may be produced in any single flue intended to carry off the smoke furnished by two fires of unequal intensity, for the less warm column of air above the smaller fire fails to warm parts of the flue sufficiently and a down draught results. This is not realized by the majority of people and is sometimes overlooked even by architects and engineers."

My dear followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

CANADA'S HARVESTS EXCEED ESTIMATES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WINNIPEG, Nov. 16.—Pessimists who were inclined to paint doleful pictures of Canada's harvest will have to revise their estimates, according to the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Official figures in a bulletin just issued place the wheat crop at 300,000,000 bushels with a value of $425,000,000 to producers. The value of oats, rye, barley, flax and other grains, the bulletin estimates, will be $247,000,000, bringing the total value of Canada's entire grain crop to $672,000,000.

This total has been exceeded only once in the history of the Dominion. That was in 1920, when wheat was bringing $2.50 a bushel and oats a proportionate amount. In 1914 the value of Canada's combined grain crops was only $238,530,000.

DO YOU CARE?

If there are little children with crooked bodies and legs and arms who need assistance and a chance in the world; do you care? If you knew of a case in your neighborhood that you could help, would you care? Surely you would.

The COMMUNITY CHEST is to care for them. Not as charity, but as justice and right and in the spirit of real Christianity. As loving, friendly, kindly and Christian people, the way to prove that you care is to give--to give what you can --to give freely and with a grateful heart that you are so situated that you can.

Have you given all you can? If not, show that you care by giving generously, in the name of all needy children, in the name of all the poor and hungry and disabled, in the name of age that can no longer battle with life, in the name of those who are struggling with illness and need and in the name of all those of Los Angeles who are in need of YOUR help.

One hundred twenty-five charities are covered in this Community Chest. Give once and you have given for this year.

OFFICER SCHOOL PLANS DRAFTED

To be Told by Col. Leitch at Meeting Friday

National Guard and Reserve Men to be Included

Army and Navy Air Chiefs to Address Session

Plans for the establishment in Los Angeles of the first school for reserve officers and National Guard officers on the Pacific Coast, a move of first importance in the training of the national defense army, will be made public next Friday evening at the City Club, 833 South Spring street, by Col. Joseph D. Leitch in an address before the Los Angeles sector of the Association of the Army of the United States.

It will be a formal presentation to all the reserve officers of Southern California of one of the distinguished officers of the war, Col. Leitch having served as a major-general, being awarded the D.S.C., and having been chief of staff to the American Expeditionary Forces in Siberia.

Developments in the air service of both the Army and Navy will be featured in the meeting in addresses by Lieut.-Col. Frank P. Lahm, chief air service officer, Ninth Corps Area, and Capt. Thomas P. Craven, U.S.N., commandant of the naval air station at San Diego.

FIRST MEETING

This will mark the first meeting of the Los Angeles Sector at the City Club.

Col. Leitch has issued the following statement:

"A course in military instruction for National Guard and reserve officers to consist of lectures, conferences, solution of tactical problems pertaining to combined arms, including each branch instruction as local facilities permit, has been inaugurated in Los Angeles, the course continuing to May, 1925.

"The course of instruction will be conducted by regular officers of the Army stationed in Los Angeles, chosen as far as practicable for their special knowledge of the subject matter at hand. There can be no denying that this instruction will be of the greatest value to all officers of the Army, whether Regular, National Guard or Reserve Corps—and that these officers who take advantage of such training will be placed in an advantage in time of an emergency over their fellow-officers who failed to avail themselves of such instruction.

"The Army is continually striving for improvement. How to keep abreast of the development of his army has been a question that has puzzled most reserve officers. Accordingly, this course of instruction will be of incalculable value in meeting this long-felt want.

URGED TO ATTEND

"It is desired that all National Guard and reserve officers residing in this vicinity familiarize themselves with this course of instruction. Accordingly, they all are urged to attend the meeting of Los Angeles Sector of the Association of the Army of the United States at the City Club, 833 South Spring street, Los Angeles, at 6 p.m., 21st inst., where the character and scope of the course, and its significance, will be fully explained.

"In addition to the foregoing the program of the sector contains lectures by such distinguished Army and Navy officers as Lieut.-Col. Frank P. Lahm, chief air service officer, Ninth Corps Area, who will deliver an illustrated lecture on 'Recent Activities of the Army Air Service,' and Capt. Thomas P. Craven, U.S.N., commandant of the United States Naval Air Station, San Diego, who will speak on 'The Present Naval Air Program.'

"Both Col. Lahm and Capt. Craven are pioneers in their respective air services, the former being the first American officer to be awarded the Gordon-Bennett international trophy, and to the latter is due to a large extent the present high state of efficiency of naval air service on the Pacific Coast."

CROSS WORD CRIMINAL CURE

Prisoners, Busy on Puzzles, Have No Time to Devise New Skullduggery or Even for Jail Angels

Jail angels interested in reforming prisoners may now divert their efforts to some other enterprise such as, more and better balm in Gilead or domestic science lessons for cannibals. A cure for criminality has been found. To wit: the cross-word puzzle.

Bend an attentive ear to the incident that arose when the May Company, at Eighth and Broadway, offered fifty cross-word puzzle books as prizes to the first fifty persons sending in a correct solution to a puzzle printed in The Times. Then you will admit that keeping jail frequenters interested in cross-word puzzles will leave them no time for skullduggery.

Here's a letter received by the May Company from the "Secretary's Office, Tank No. 5, County Jail:"

"Gentlemen:

"The gentlemen members of the above tank (there are no others) beg to submit their solution of your cross-word puzzle from today's Times. Should we qualify for a prize (which, incidentally, would be the means of our passing many otherwise flagging hours) we regret that circumstances over which we, unfortunately, have no control, will prohibit a personal application therefor, but we would suggest that the cost of mailing same would be a most profitable investment on your part.

"GLEN V. SEARS, secretary."

"P.S. Regarding item No. 27 (horizontal) 'a popular brand of women's hosiery sold exclusively by the May Co.,' we were able to find but one member of the tank with experience in 'women's hosiery,' and as this was confined to the theft of 300 pairs from another establishment than your own, his assistance was of a decidedly negligible quality. No. 27, therefor, is doubtful."

TESTS PLANNED FOR FEDERAL POSITIONS

The United States Civil Service Commission announces the following open competitive examinations: Scientific illustrator (lettered colorist at Washington, D. C.) (male-female.) $1400 per annum; associate petroleum engineer (male-female.) $3000 per annum; main finger print classifier (male-female.) $1800 per annum; assistant finger print classifier (male-female.) $1200 per annum; assistant lithographer (draftsman.) (male-female.) $1500 per annum; girls' athletic director (Indian service.) (male-female.) $1200-$1500 per annum; special agent, intelligence unit (male-female.) $1500-$2700 per annum; steel plate engraver at Washington, D. C. (male-female.) $7.48 per diem; streetcar conductor at Los Angeles (male.) $1060 per annum.

CHAMBER FORMS NEW INDUSTRIAL BANDS

BUREAU OF MUSIC IS ALSO PLANNING CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT

The organizing of three new bands as part of the bureau of industrial music department of the Chamber of Commerce, evidences the fact that the bureau is constantly growing, according to Miss Antoinette Ruth Sabel, manager of the department.

The new bands are those of the Simons Brick Company, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company and the Crescent Creamery Company.

Another matter of importance is the reorganizing of the Los Angeles Choral Society. This chorus meets every Tuesday night in Chamber of Commerce auditorium and is open to the public so that anyone who wishes to join and receive a musical education may do so.

Due to the multiplicity of duties in connection with Miss Sabel's work as executive secretary of the Los Angeles music federation and director of the bureau of industrial music, she has appointed William Tyroller as assistant director of the Los Angeles Choral Society.

The department is planning to give Rossini's "Stabat Mater" within the next few months and those wishing to enter the chorus are invited to the rehearsal next Tuesday night, the 18th inst., according to Miss Sabel.

PLAN PUSHED TO PROTECT PUBLIC

Meeting Called in Move on Unreliable Contractor

Ordinances Against Existing Abuses to be Discussed

License and Bond Provisions Under Consideration

In furtherance of the effort being made by the State Department of Labor to obtain legislation that will protect the general public against irresponsible contractors, the department announced Saturday that a meeting has been called for December 1, next to discuss the project.

Notices were sent to City Attorney Stephens, Don N. Yancey, representing the United Bonded Contractors' Association; R. B. Germain, of the Master Painters' and Decorators' Association; W. J. Buzzell, president of the Central Labor Council of Los Angeles, and John H. Simpson, president of the Pasadena Contractors' Association.

It is the purpose of the meeting to prepare ordinances or State laws that will stamp out the existing evil and conditions which make it possible for fly-by-night contractors to defraud mechanics and laborers of their wages, and to cloud title to properties with unfounded mechanic liens.

PROTECTION AIM

Attorney Lowy of the Labor Department, who suggested the legislation, said that it is proposed to enact municipal ordinances that will require all contractors to be licensed and bonded. Preliminary drafts of such regulations as already drawn up call for examinations to be given contractors before licenses are issued. The requirement of a bond would protect against nonpayment of wages and materials and unfounded mechanic lien claims, he explained.

"Such legislation would not only be a protection to the public," according to the attorney, "but also to the contractors themselves. Considerable interest has been shown by many of the associations toward the enactment of such ordinances. The city of Pasadena and the Federation of Women's Clubs also expressed keen interest in the project."

NUMEROUS CALLS

Attorney Lowy said that the Labor Department has been called on in an increasing number of cases to secure overdue wages of workers who either have been refused their money or who have been unable to collect wages from irresponsible contractors. Investigation of these cases, he said, have shown that in the majority of cases the contractors have undertaken contracts on a "shoestring" which they were unable to complete or took the work to secure a first payment and then disappeared.

CONTINUE TRIAL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BAKERSFIELD, No. 16.—Trial of R. D. Morris of Taft, charged with having shot and wounded C. C. Hess, was continued over the week-end in order to allow calendar proceedings and the hearing of Fred Riney's application for probation in Department Two of the Superior Court.

GOLDEN WEDDING LIKE AN OLD PICTURE

Fiftieth Anniversary Participants

FLOWING skirts and trailing taffetas, crimson vests and ruffled shirts of fifty years ago made very real the golden wedding of Newton Hogan and his wife, Josephine, which was celebrated at the home of their son and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Copp, 933 Orlando street, at 6 o'clock last Saturday night.

A mock wedding ceremony was performed by Bishop J. H. Allen, of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of Pasadena, an old friend of the Hogan family. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan were married in Brunswick, Mo., November 15, 1874, and came to Los Angeles more than thirty years ago.

Members of the family and the guests were dressed in the fashion of half a century ago, and the wedding party seemed to have stepped out of an old picture. Satins and laces, Berthas and fischus, Victorian curls, balloon sleeves and sweeping trains gave the scene a quaint and charming effect that lent itself happily to the snowy hair of the bride and the "critiques of time" traced on the cheeks of the groom.

Those who attended the "bride and groom" were Chester L. Hogan, assistant cashier in the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, their eldest son; Miss Alice Hogan and Mrs. Joseph T. Copp, their two daughters. There was also Master Newton Copp and Miss Virginia Hogan, and Bishop Allen.

After the ceremony the bride and groom sat down to a wedding supper with the members of the family and guests. Those in the party were Mrs. Thomas B. Stowell, Mrs. Charles Spencer, Miss Mabel Mears, Mrs. S. Switzer and Mrs. J. F. Gross. The rooms and the table were decorated with golden flowers, and a golden wedding cake bearing the date of the wedding.

TAX RULING BARS CLUBS ON REFUND

Members Only Can Make Claims to Recover Sums Country Bodies Paid

Country clubs are not taxpayers under the admission and due tax clause of the Revenue Act, and cannot maintain an action for the recovery of taxes imposed on members, the member paying the tax on the membership certificate being the proper party plaintiff, under a Federal interpretation received yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

A number of Southern California country clubs which, through a misinterpretation of the law, have collected tax on transfers of memberships running into thousands of dollars, now find themselves in a quandary as to how to recover the money they paid the government through error.

Instead of a country club filing a claim for the refund, each member who paid the tax must file an individual claim, the revenue officials state. As the claims cover a number of years and the members of the club have changed their residence, it would be an almost impossible task to round them up and have them prepare claims, and as a consequence, the government is expected to be ahead thousands of dollars.

Under the law the duty of collecting the tax on memberships and dues from members is imposed upon the country clubs.

A REAL LIDY

A London cabby who was haled into court for using violent language to a lady protested that the woman was "no lidy."

"Indeed," said the magistrate, "I wonder if you know a lady when you see one."

"Of course I do," answered the cabby indignantly. "Why, only the other day I saw one; she gave me a pound note for a shillin' fare an' walked away. 'Ere mum,' I says, 'what abaht yer change?' Don't be a blinkin' old fool,' says she; 'keep it an' get drunk enough to kiss yer mother-in-law.' Now, yer honor," he ended triumphantly, "that's what I calls a real lidy."—Boston Transcript.

PLAYDOM

"SNOB" AFFORDS HIM A NEW RANGE OF OPPORTUNITY

By Edwin Schallert

The presence of Jack Gilbert in a picture is evidently good insurance nowadays for much joy and gladness in the vicinity of the box office. At any rate, it is probably correct to ascribe the large audiences which attended the presentation of "The Snob" Saturday and Sunday partly to his appearance in this feature, which gives him the widest range he has had recently in characterization.

"The Snob" is on view at Loew's State Theater and it is really a character study rather than a story. What there is of plot centers around the title role played by Gilbert, and whether you like the type he portrays as a type or not, he manages to make it sufficiently irresponsible to be appealing.

Monta Bell, who directed "Broadway After Dark," also made this feature, and although it isn't a film that by the very nature of things would seem destined for an overwhelming popularity, there is just enough of comedy running through it to engage the casual entertainment seeker. The rest, inclining somewhat to the ironical, lifts it above the average class of amusement, and will doubtless attract audiences that seek something out of the ordinary.

The central figure in the picture is just what the title might imply. In fact, he is quite obviously the Snob. Born of poor parentage, he assumes that he has gained a certain amount of prestige when he becomes a teacher in a private school. He seeks out those whom he thinks have wealth and class, and in so doing manages to shirk most of his real responsibilities. He is not a type therefore who is unfamiliar, even though his character is, for the sake of the humor, somewhat exaggerated.

Norma Shearer attains a place almost coequals with that of Gilbert at times in this picture by the finely graded acting that she does as the wife. It is, I believe, her best portrayal, for during her screen experience, and the scenes where she drudges at the home of her husband's parents, and those which disclose the home life of the Snob and herself together are rather unforgettable in their quality of delicate refinement.

Analyzing some of Gilbert's scenes, I do not feel that he manifested at all times the dashing certainty of expressiveness in this play that he did in one or two of his other recent pictures, say, like "His Hour," that I have seen, but that is in part because this role is different. He does attain a cleverness in his characterization and a lightness that will make the boob eccentricities of The Snob thoroughly pleasureable. It is, indeed, a creditable attainment for him.

Praise also belongs in large measure to Hedda Hopper for some very excellent acting in a role which she invests with unusual humanness and poise. Phyllis Haver does a highly commendable interpretation of a frivolous young siren. Conrad Nagel succeeds very satisfactorily as the man devoted to the wife. The incidental characters are very amusing, like those played by Margaret Seddon, Aileen Manning and an actor unnamed on the program who does the hick character Yi. Hazel Kennedy is also a little wonder as the youngster. Nellie Bly Baker is good in the brief bit she plays.

The Fanchon and Marco revue is quite pictorial. There are good musical numbers in this act, and also by Lipschultz and the orchestra.

NEW STRONG MAN HERO SHOWS UP

Introducing a new Maciste!

That is the way "The Beloved Brute" might well be billed, for from the reception accorded him in the title role yesterday at the Mission Theater it would seem that Victor McLaglen, who makes his debut in the production, is destined for a hit as a strong-man hero, and as there hasn't been one in the spotlight for quite a while he'll probably be welcome. The only unfortunate thing is that I understand that because of his physique they've started to turn him into a villain lately. Which, unfortunately, is the fate of most good men and quite a few good actors in the cinema.

"The Beloved Brute" is one of the less pretentious undertakings of J. Stuart Blackton. It was adapted from Kenneth Perkins's story by Marian Constance, and to my way of thinking is a mighty good feature of its kind. It is making a whirlwind of a hit with the men in the audience, who haven't enjoyed as much good fighting in a long time.

McLaglen furnishes a lot of real he-man punch in all of his scraps and there is a wrestling match with husky Bill Russell and a grand free-for-all to heighten the interest.

The striking things about "The Beloved Brute" is its blending of real virility with a good humorous line of cleverness. There is one scene where the dance-hall dancers are expecting the arrival of the brute that is a knockout. Everybody is keyed up in anticipation of his appearance because they know he will probably clean up the place. Just at the moment when they think he is at the door, in walks a poor, meek, mild-mannered individual with an effect that practically stops the show.

The ending is not so strong, because it is of the more conventional race-to-the-finish sort, with the suspense stretched out a trifle beyond necessity and endurance. As long as the action was held up I don't see why the audience wasn't permitted to see the clash between the Sheriff's faction and the lynchers. They might as well because they expected this anyway, and the manner in which the film is now cut makes one feel that he has missed something.

At the same time, there is enough good stuff all through "The Beloved Brute" to cause it to be a popular attraction for those who like vigorous outdoor drama.

The playing is very acceptable. McLaglen may not be a very facile actor or anything like that, but his personality is good, and he gives a portrayal of very fair clearness. I believe he has not had any considerable amount of film experience yet, anyway.

It is good too to see Mary Alden in a well-drawn character, even if her opportunity is limited. R. D. McLean of Mission Play fame is also in this picture.

Bill Russell's part is fairly large and he does it acceptably. The fight with McLaglen, which he wins, by the way, is good trouping.

HOLLYWOOD THRILLS AS CAMERAS GRIND

This fact was evidenced recently in the production of "Three Women" at the Warner Brothers studio. Ernst Lubitsch, the European director, suggested that they shoot the scenes at night in order to avoid the gaping, inquisitive crowds that would gather in the daylight, but although they started at midnight, and worked until 5 in the morning, the company was by no means alone. A steadily increasing audience watched the camera grind scene after scene with Pauline Frederick, May McAvoy, Marie Prevost and Lew Cody.

LAUGHING SHOW

Every so often the Orpheum converts itself into a laughery, and there is not a serious moment in its show. Usually it is when Olsen and Johnson come along. This week is such an occasion; and they "come along" with their own act and the afterpiece wherein they enlist the help of everyone in the show.

THREE PICTURES THIS WEEK

"Potash and Perlmutter in Hollywood" will be featured at the new Rampart Theater tomorrow and Wednesday, to be followed by "Racing Luck" on Thursday night, and by Norma Talmadge in "Secrets" on Friday and Saturday.

DIX STRUGGLES WITH PLOT

BY WHITNEY WILLIAMS

"Manhattan," Richard Dix's first starring vehicle now showing at the Metropolitan, is no whit different from the average run of plays featuring a new star. It is to be fervently hoped that in the future Dix will be given plays possessing more originality and plot, for his present picture has been screened by a silent and long-suffering public on no less than 'steen hundred distinct and separate occasions, the only difference being that other players were cast for the parts in the past. Of all the unadulterated hokum, with a profusion of ancient, time-worn, worn-out gags, "Manhattan," as a picture, wins the prize.

If only Dix would commit some horrible crime or rob a child's penny bank—anything to be different from the slick-haired hero who loves the fairies and his nursery-rhymes—there might be grounds for forgiveness. Instead he is the Fifth-avenue heir, whose life is as empty as his silver flask after a night with "the boys," yearns for romance and adventure, locates them, of course, in the most conventional place—the toughest part of the roughest section of New York's East Side—falls in love with a burglar's sister down there, gets in bad with the "boss" of the district—this time not political, thank the stars—defies him gently in the nice, boyish fashion of heroes, fights him in the climactic sequence and cleans up the gang—marries the girl. It beautifully follows the lines set to the screen scores and scores of times before.

As a whole, however, the picture is not quite as bad as one might be led to suppose. Dix, with his personality, shows surprising talent, and the fight at the finish, though quite evidently the grand finale of a gripping bit of melodrama, will long be remembered for its realism. There is little hokum in this, and the scrap put up by the star and George Seigmann, the boss, is a real he-man affair. Dix is quite adequate in the part given him as the seeker after romance and his popularity should be but enhanced.

Dix is supported by Jacqueline Logan, who betrays an unexpected lack of ability to fit her character as an East Side girl. George Seigmann, and Gregory Kelly, Kelly, as the browbeaten-looking foil for the smiling, handsome, athletic Richard, does the best work of anyone in the entire production. At times he reminds one immensely of George Hackathorne in his best moments, and if he keeps up the standard he sets in this picture should soon become one of our best screen players. Seigmann, of course, is always good and plays his role most convincingly.

Equaling the picture in interest to many is the fashion show the theater is presenting in conjunction with the picture. Billed as a revue of the last word in style creations, it quite lives up to its name and for nearly thirty minutes a gorgeous array of latest modes in furs and fashions parades for the benefit of the audience. Margaret Edwards, "the perfect girl," is also presented in a dance number.

Creatore, conducting the overture from the "Poet and Peasant," by Suppe, is the orchestral rendition.

"ROARING RAILS" SERIAL MATERIAL

Melodrama, seeping through forest fire and danger, runs the gantlet of public opinion at the Forum this week, with the presentation of Hunt Stromberg's latest Harry Carey feature, "Roaring Rails."

Carey, first in the role of a railroad engineer and later as a member of a railroad construction gang, seems to live the character of Bill Benson. That much may always be said for Carey—his characterizations are true to life and lack nothing in their realism.

There is nothing unusual, no odd twists of plot or treatment, about the picture until the last reel and a half. Then, events begin to transpire and increase in fury until the close.

The story is about a railroad engineer who is discharged for his lack of caution in noticing signals. The part is essentially sympathetic and at no time does Carey lose the support of the audience. A little boy, whom Carey adopted and brought home from France, is the innocent cause of the neglect of duty. So the two take to the road and reach a construction camp in the Northwest, where Carey obtains work.

Frankie Darro is the child. Either Tom Forman, who directed the picture, is a master in handling children or else the boy is a born actor, for his performance is flawless, as goes the work of young juveniles in the neighborhood of 5 years of age.

The old story of rival railroad organizations attempting to build though a certain district forms the basis of the plot. And, of course, there is the agent of one company attempting to prevent the work of building progress.

The murder of the construction engineer by this agent and the assuming of the murder by Carey—in return for the future welfare of his boy by the agent—starts the exciting events and from this point real, old-time melodrama exists. The jail-break, the ride for life, the forest fire, the triumphant finish of the railroad in time to save the option, and the ultimate clearing up of Carey's name and his marriage to the little waitress who sticks to him through thick and thin, are but a few of the adventures the cast is obliged to go through.

Edith Roberts is very pretty as the witness and Frank Hagney and Wallace MacDonald tremendously dastardly as the villains. One could cheerfully soak them in boiling oil without a qualm. The rest of the cast, including Duke R. Lee, Charles Belcher and Fountaine La Rue, are all adequate in their roles.

An unusual feature of the program for the week is the appearance of Captain Lawrence, military trumpeter, who sounds the bugle calls of the various countries of the world. Miss Georgia Stark, coloratura soprano, renders two number, "Kiss Waltz" and "Comin' Through the Rye." Julius K. Johnson at the organ and the usual short subjects complete the offering of the week.

"MARRIED FLIRTS" CONTAINS NOVELTY

OLD SITUATIONS HAVE NEW MEANING IN PICTURE AT CALIFORNIA

BY KENNETH TAYLOR

Sauce for the goose is sometimes pretty hard stuff for the gander to swallow. And when, figuratively speaking, the goose tries the sauce and likes it, and then a littler later the goose becomes the gander and is forced to take it without liking it, there is promise of an interesting photoplay. That's the way things work out in "Married Flirts," showing at the California Theater this week.

Many times during the course of the picture one looks for a trite situation and finds novelty. The story is from Louis Joseph Vance's novel, "Mrs. Paramor," and features Pauline Frederick. It relates of a married woman who allows her career as a novelist to interfere with her wedded life to such an extent that for a while things are in a hopeless mess. A certain young lady, unattached, sets out to find a husband. Not finding any free young men, she proceeds to vamp the novelist's husband. But later, when she has a hubby of her own and the novelist tries those same familiar tactics—ah, that's different again.

A basic theme such as this is more or less familiar. The situations that have been hung upon it in the past have been stereotyped. Usually the solution is the same. "Married Flirts" breaks away from the customary tendency frequently, so that what you often expect to happen doesn't, but the reverse does. For instance, the novelist has been monopolizing the other lady's husband as a sort of revenge. When the time comes to break up the illicit romance she somehow avoids the usual explanation that he'll have to forgive her; she was just studying him for a character in her new book. Nothing like that in this photoplay. Nearly all of the characters act like human beings nearly all of the time.

Conrad Nagel gives a surprisingly fine performance as Perley Rex, the young husband who doesn't know what he wants. Nagel is in the habit of giving fine performances, but he is so often the same that one gets into the habit of thinking of the actor instead of the character he is portraying. "Married Flirts" provides him with something of a new opportunity. He is heroic only occasionally, and villainous only now and then. The rest of the time he's just 100 per cent human, campaigning for what he thinks he wants and almost getting it.

The featured role brings Pauline Frederick in one of her all-too infrequent appearances. She is so much the artist that a role does not necessarily have to have anything in particular to make it predominant. Here, for instance, there is little out of the ordinary, yet Miss Frederick stands out in bold relief. You may forget all the others, in fact, but she will linger in your memory—as will Nagel.

The cast, as a matter of fact, is capable all around. Mae Busch does a fine piece of work as the young husband's wife, and Huntly Gordon as the novelist's husband. Patterson Dial, Paul Nicholson and Alice Hollister are other featured players. An interesting sequence shows a dinner party given in honor of a group of actors, and Mae Murray, Norma Shearer, Bob Leonard, John Gilbert and several others appear in it.

A Spat family cartoon, "Hot Stuff," and the usual unusual Elinor concert are other attractions on the program.

MARY PHILBIN IN "ROSE OF PARIS"

That subtle European flavor which first made its appearance in photoplay technique a year or so ago is breaking out again. You'll find it in "Rose of Paris" (the title doesn't mean a thing,) which Irving Cummings directed, and which is now on view at the Cameo Theater.

Mary Philbin is the star, doing some of the best work she has offered since "Merry Go Round." A new Mary it is, practically, for she plays in a much lighter vein, and she conveys much more feeling, and she has developed into much more of a beauty.

"Rose of Paris" is from a French novel, "Mitsi," which had quite a vogue last season. It isn't much, as plots go; screened novels seldom are, but it offers this one character of the little girl raised in a convent, and then thrust forth into the world practically alone. Love comes, of course, but things do look serious for a while.

One of the brightest characterizations in the picture is that contributed by Rose Dione as the cafe keeper. She has great talent for this type of part and for others, also, judging from her work here.

The added attractions include a Century comedy that is funny in places and which boasts a young leading lady, Wanda Wiley, who shows promise of success in more serious efforts.

SILLS AND NAZIMOVA PLAYING AT ALHAMBRA

Nazimova, the Russian actress, and Milton Sills, ever to be remembered for his work in "The Sea Hawk," have the two leading roles in "Madonna of the Streets," now showing at the Alhambra Theater.

Sills plays the role of an Englishman, who, in order to atone for an evil he has done, founds a mission for unfortunate women in the heart of Limehouse, London's picturesque underworld.

Nazimova has the role of a woman who sets out to collect a debt that is due her and who finds her true soul instead.

"Madonna of the Streets" pulses with all the glamour of life as it exists today in what is probably the most notorious of all underworlds.

TWO STARS APPEAR

Charlie Murray and Bert Woodruff, veteran actors of the screen and before the time of the screen well known and popular stage performers, will appear together in person at the Criterion Theater tonight where Harold Bell Wright's tale of Arizona, "The Mine With the Iron Door," is in its second week. Murray essays the role of Bob Hill and Woodruff portrays his old partner, Thad Grove, in this picturization of Harold Bell Wright's novel.

STOCK ESCROW DECISION GIVEN

State's Impounding of Shares of Promoters Affected

Venture Oil Assets Declared More Than Subscriptions

Important Bearing is Seen on Commission's Powers

Holding the Corporation Commissioner has no legal right to impound promotion stock of a corporation in escrow when the assets of the corporation are equal to or more in value than the price paid by purchasers of subscribed stock, Judge Shaw of Superior Court has delivered an opinion stating he will issue a writ of mandamus commanding the State Corporation Commissioner to release 200,000 shares of promotion stock of the Venture Oil Company.

The opinion was handed down in connection with a suit brought by the oil company against Corporation Commissioner Daugherty, and which Judge Shaw has had under submission for several weeks. The decision is regarded as having a highly important bearing on the conduct of the Corporation Commissioner in his interpretation of the Corporate Securities Act and his legal capacity to control sales and release of promotion stock in California corporations.

The Corporation Commissioner issued a permit to the Venture Oil Company in 1920 authorizing it to issue 500,000 shares of stock of the par value of $1 each, of which 200,000 shares were to be issued promoters of the company in consideration for their transfer to the company oil leases in the Huntington Beach field. The permit provided the remaining 300,000 shares were to be sold to the public at 50 cents a share. The 200,000 shares of promotion stock were to be held in escrow pending further order of the Corporation Commissioners, the permit provided.

In denying a recent application of the company to release the impounded stock, the commissioner was said to have made the contention the assets of the company did not equal the value of the company's stock at par. Judge Shaw stated in his opinion the evidence showed the company's net assets to be worth $251,000, $1000 more than the total value of the company's stock at 50 cents per share, the price at which it was originally sold to the public.

THREAT TO SLAY WIFE IS CHARGED

Asserted Effort to Force Divorce Suit Withdrawal Must be Explained

Walter L. Pfeister today will appear before Justice Ballard to explain charges brought against him by his wife of threatening to kill her and her small daughter if divorce proceedings against him were not dropped.

The complaint was issued at the request of Eva M. Pfeister, 3424 Thorpe street. She stated that her husband threatened to "wipe out the whole family" if the divorce suit she had brought was not dropped. Mrs. Pfeister said she was not afraid for her own sake but, fearing that Virginia, aged 7, might come to some harm, asked that her husband be restrained.

The hearing today will determine the measures necessary for the safety of the wife and child. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ey will ask that the husband be put under a heavy bond to preserve the peace.

SECRETARY, STUDIO MANAGER WILL WED

[Woodbury Photo]
Rose Levee

Cupid has made another appearance in filmland! His dart has pierced the hearts of Rose Levee, pretty secretary at United Studios and sister of M. C. Levee, president of that organization, and Jack Mintz, studio manager for Grand-Asher Film Corporation, Hollywood.

The romance has been in progress for several years, although few of Miss Levee's friends knew an engagement was forthcoming so soon. Not until she appeared at the studio this week with a bright solitaire did suspicion rise to inquiry.

According to the couple, they will not be married for some months—not until after the holiday season, at least. Mintz has been associated with the motion-picture industry for many years, starting some twelve years ago under the old Mack Sennett banner. His bride-to-be has been secretary to Pete Smith, publicity representative, for the last two years and has made her offices with Smith on the United lot. Both the young people are widely known and have countless friends in the film colony. Miss Levee is now enjoying a long-needed vacation and made the announcement of her engagement to Mintz the day she departed from her desk at the studios for the Sierras.

Transit Service Additions Will be Made Today

Additions to street car service to be made today will bring the maximum number of cars operated by the Los Angeles Railway in the afternoon rush period to 588, which is an increase of fifty-one over those in service last Tuesday, when the power conservation restrictions were lifted, according to G. J. Kuhrts, general manager of the yellow car system.

Two-car train operation has been resumed on lines "M" and "S," and has been introduced on line "R." Twenty-eight cars will be added to various lines today, seventeen being required on line "V," because the turn-back at First and Vermont will be discontinued and all cars will run through to the University of California, Southern Branch.

Four afternoon trains will be added to line "M," and line "S" will have four more morning trains and three more afternoon trains.

Forty-five men have been employed by the street railway since last Tuesday.

SPEED LAWS TO BE ENFORCED

Traffic Inspector Counsels Motorists to Observe Zone Limits

Motorists will save themselves a lot of trouble by remembering what are the fifteen-mile and twenty-mile an hour zones, Capt. Cleveland Heath, police traffic inspector, yesterday announced that a strict enforcement of the speed limits is to be made by his department.

State laws designate the following as fifteen-mile an hour zones: (1) Grade crossings; (2) Intersections of highways; (3) Business districts; (4) curves on highways where driver's view is obstructed for distance of 200 feet or less, and (5) school districts when persons are entering or leaving the grounds.

A speed of twenty miles an hour is allowed in residence districts. Thirty-five miles an hour is allowed under all other conditions.

CALIFORNIA DAY PLANS ANNOUNCED

Reforestation and Water Conservation Topics for Bay City Program

Reforestation and the conservation of water will be the chief topics of discussion Wednesday next in San Francisco, when the first part of a two-day program ushers in Greater California Day, the 20th inst. The program, under the auspices of the California Development Association, will bring leaders from every section of the State together for the purpose of formulating some definite move toward conservation and proper development of our natural resources.

Southern California will be well represented at the gathering, numerous civic and business leaders of the Southland having accepted invitations to attend.

Speakers who will lead in discussion of reforestation from government, State and citizen's viewpoint, are Francis J. Cuttle, member of the State Board of Forestry, and president of the Tri-counties Reforestation Committee, and Dr. G. P. Clements of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Other subjects of discussion will be "Water," from irrigation, power and municipal viewpoints; "Mining," from mineral and oil standpoints, and "Forage," the discussion of which will be opened by C. M. Hawkins, director of the California Cattlemen's Association and stockmen of San Benito county.

One of the outcomes of the conservation is expected to be the formulation of a code of western policies that can be taken by the California Development Association before the divisional meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Los Angeles, December 3 and 3.

FILM TO SHOW INDUSTRIES

A number of motion-picture reels illustrating the industries of Mexico will be shown in the lecture room, Chamber of Commerce Building Friday at 7:30 p.m. A reel made on the last Chamber of Commerce excursion to Mexico which has never before had a public showing, will be thrown on the screen the same evening.

CHURCH ADMITS HEALING LIMITS

New Teaching in Episcopal Ritual Explained

Conference Action Discussed by Bishop Johnson

Promise of Cures by Magic Not Advanced

There will be no miraculous cures, no magical cases of the sick being made well in an instant nor any form of pompous ritualism when the new practice of divine healing is instituted in the teachings of the Episcopal Church of the United States, according to Rt. Rev. Joseph H. Johnson, bishop of Los Angeles, who has just returned from the annual convention of the Episcopalian Pacific Province of Santa Barbara, where this matter was taken up.

"This spiritual healing is not exactly a new thing in the Episcopal Church as it is now being practiced by small groups throughout the nation," said Bishop Johnson yesterday. "We do not wish to create the impression that we are breaking off with the medical fraternity. As a matter of fact we are going to work with them. Nothing in the way of magic will be employed; medicine will not be discarded."

FIRST OFFICIAL STEP

The whole matter of divine healing as announced at the Santa Barbara conference and which caused considerable stir as it was the first official step taken by a modern Protestant church into the field of spiritual healing, is simple in every detail, Bishop Johnson says. The teaching is simply to get the inflicted person's mind and heart in accord with God's law. There are forces in every man's soul, which may be developed if the mind and heart are in such accord. This spiritual power in each individual, when rightly used, can develop a strong body as well as character, he said.

Application of the divine healing may be made by the layman as well as the clergy, Bishop Johnson further declared. The method is simply for the rector or layman, as the case may be, to lay his hands on the head of the inflicted member and pray for the manifestation of God's law. Healing may be instantaneous and on the other hand, this manifestation may be realized in a greater length of time and with the aid of the medical fraternity. Use of medicine or surgical operation may be necessary in many cases, but this will not mean that the person believes God has not the power to heal, but that it is His way of performing the healing, the bishop related.

ADVISES DOCTORS

Doctors and physicians should acquire this form of teaching, the bishop said, for they are in a way helpless without spiritual guidance. In the case of any emergency, the first recourse should be to God. God in turn may use material means to meet the needs of the emergency, he said.

"People are more interested in religion today than ever before in history," declared Bishop Johnson. "People marvel when I make this statement, but it is a fact that people want to know more of religion. They don't want camouflage; they don't want to hear flowery words that sound nice and mean nothing. They are seeking an honest man who will open up the way of understanding for them.

"I have great respect for the searchers of the truth. Science has made many big and valuable contributions to nature. I have great respect for such men as Dr. Robert Millikan and scientists who can foresee to the minute some great happening in the scientific world. Science and seekers of the truth in nature do not conflict with the application of this teaching."

ORIGIN OF DIVINE HEALING

The subject of spiritual healing was first brought to this country by J. H. Hixon, who, the bishop declares, has made a deep study of the subject and has applied it most successfully. It will be only a question of a short time before this teaching will be incorporated in the curriculum of every parish in the country, he said. Another feature is that the work of the clergy in assisting the afflicted will be absolutely free of cost. It will never be possible, it is said, to exploit the idea for financial gain.

This method of divine healing is meeting with the approval of Episcopalian rectors throughout the country, it is said. Dr. Leslie E. Learned, rector of the All Saints Episcopal Church of Pasadena, said today:

"I consider the idea of divine healing to be a very sane one. It avoids sensational claims, and I feel that every effort along this line where it is co-ordinated with the medical profession, should be encouraged. I have no patience with those who take a negative attitude with respect to the medical profession, for I believe that God works through skilled physicians and nurses just as He does through other agencies."

WIFE AVERS HUSBAND IS VICIOUS MAN

Woman's Divorce Plan is Record of Kickings Mate Gave to Others

A violent man was James J. Jackson, according to his wife, Norma Jackson, who has sued him for divorce. Jackson, according to her complaint:

Kicked a man in a barber shop who tried to beat him when the barber shouted "Next;"

Kicked another man who had accidentally stepped on his foot while they were boarding a street car;

Attacked a salesman who had ventured into the yard to sell him something;

Kicked the instructor who was trying to teach him how to drive his new car.

Jackson also declared that, in his opinion, teachers were only "educated fools," Mrs. Jackson said. She being a teacher herself, suspected that there was something personal in this remark, and it caused her humiliation, she said.

PALS IN VALLEY OF SHADOW

Death Tragedies in Homes Strengthen Bond of Friendship Between Two Policemen Who Together Have Braved Perils of Toughest Beat in Sonoratown

And now, pals in sorrow.

For years Patrolmen Walter Hannefield and E. C. Eggleston have been comrades of the closest sort. They shared each other's smallest joys. There always was a bosom sympathy in the bad jolts of life. They were ready to beg or borrow for one another or stand back to back in a fight. Fellow members of the department jokingly called them "the twins."

Eggleston was detailed over in Sonoratown some months ago, one of the toughest beats in the city. That was when his hard luck began. He cornered a desperate Mexican one night and in the fracas was dangerously stabbed. So, when he got out of the hospital the captain at Central Station detailed Hannefield with him to team up on the beat and thereafter they made a pair.

And two months ago, when the same Mexican, out of jail and thirsty for revenge, caught Eggleston unaware and held a stiletto at his throat, Hannefield came on the run with other officers, who were in the vicinity and they knocked the knife yielder into a state of repentance.

BABY DIES

Last Thursday Eggleston's 3-weeks-old baby girl died and his wife was taken to a hospital suffering from pneumonia and with only a bare chance to live. Hannefield put his arm around Eggleston's shoulder and with words from his heart helped ease the burden of grief.

The next day when Hannefield went home he learned that his wife and 4-year-old son had been crushed to death beneath the wheels of a Pasadena Short Line train. He was nearly crazed over the tragedy and fearing some rash act, department heads detailed Patrolman R. N. Hardwick to keep watch over him.

Eggleston was at home grieving because of the loss of his child and fearing his wife would die. Hannefield was like a madman thinking of the mangled forms of his wife and son.

Saturday night the two pals met, and it was the most natural thing imaginable for each to try to assuage the other's grief. They talked for hours, saying words of consolation and comfort. When they parted each was filled with a sense of hope and a feeling of courage to go on.

PALS IN SORROW

They had braved many dangers together, the kind that beset an officer on a hard-boiled beat; they had come through all kinds of hard luck to a grin of joy in their unfaltering friendship; and now, they were pals in sorrow.

Tomorrow, Hannefield's wife and son will be taken from the Walter C. Blue funeral parlors and buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery, and the body of Eggelston's little daughter will be laid to rest in Inglewood Cemetery. There is a faint chance that Mrs. Eggleston will live.

And, in a day or two, Patrolmen Hannefield and Eggleston, the hard-luck twins on the toughest beat in town, are going back into "harness" over in Sonoratown to perform a policeman's duty and try to make the best of a harsh fate.

BIBLE CLASSES FOR JAIL TANK

World-War Veteran Serving Dry Law Sentence Will Teach Prisoners After Finishing Painting Job in County Bastile; Fears Denominational Differences

Lafe F. Huribut is painting tank No. 22 of the County Jail, where he is serving a sentence of 600 days, in lieu of a fine of $600 for asserted violation of the Wright Act, and when the tank is painted he expects to start a Bible class there.

Huribut, a World War veteran, was arrested at Baldwin Park by George Contreras, chief county dry agent, and the latter's squad. Huribut stated to the officers that he had lived in the apartments where he was for several months, but did not know that a still was in operation next door until the officers broke through a connecting door. He was arrested and convicted on two counts in the El Monte justice court.

"I believe a Bible class will do good here," he said. "The only trouble is the difference in denominations. However, we expect to start a class and study the Bible as soon as we can get a Bible and other books necessary. I had nothing to do with bootlegging, and never intend to."

Expert to Talk on Dangers of Radical Sects

Peter W. Collins of Boston, economic expert for the Nation Council, Knights of Columbus, will arrive this morning for his lecture tonight at the Knights of Columbus Auditorium, 614 Flower street. The lecture, to which the public is invited, will be on the dangers of Socialism, Bolshevism and I.W.W.ism, and will be followed by a forum in which he will answer questions. Thomas P. White, State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus, will preside at the lecture, and James M. Mahoney, Grand Knight of the local council, will talk briefly at its conclusion. There will be a short musical program also.

SPEECH-MAKING CLASS

Hollywood will have a University of California course in practical speech-making. This class instruction will be similar to that given in the Los Angeles classes and has been especially planned for business men and women. The Hollywood class will meet at 6356 Hollywood Boulevard, Tuesday, the 18th inst., from 7 to 9 in the evening.

CASH FOR INDIANA SCHOOL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—Mrs. J. M. Maring of Muncie has given $10,000 to the permanent endowment of Earlham College, according to a statement issued by President David Edwards. This is the second $10,000 gift received in the last few weeks.

PHOTOGRAPHERS TO DINE

Members of the Professional Photographers' Club will assemble for their monthly banquet and meeting Tuesday night at the Mary Louise Cafe. A musical program will be presented and a business address delivered.

STATE RADICAL BLOW IS LAUDED

The Better America Federation of California not only played a leading role in the battle for the preservation of constitutional government seriously threatened by La Follettism a few short weeks before the Presidential poll, but proved itself one of the ablest organizations of its kind in the nation.

This is according to Fred R. Marvin, editor of the Searchlight department of the New York Commercial, who is credited with the organization of the propagandic fight against the candidacy of La Follette for President of the United States.

"The people might as well understand that the fight to save constitutional government is not ended—it has just started," declared Mr. Marvin yesterday. "The organization seeking the overthrow of this government, the confiscation of all industries and the final abolition of the private-property right, is gigantic in its ramifications. It is supported by a large number of well-meaning individuals who respond to emotional appeals such, for instance, as the 'no-more-war' appeal. There are something like 100 organizations in this country today with names that are catchy and with expressed purposes that attract a great many really good people who permit themselves to be guided in their work by foreign influences seeking the destruction of the United States.

"It is because there are such efficient organizations as the Better America Federation of California that these movements are persistently exposed."

FORCED RADICAL FIGHT

Mr. Marvin is in Los Angeles covering the Doheny oil-lease cases in Federal court for a syndicate of eastern newspapers. He is recognized as high among the best-posted men in theis country regarding radical movements, their origin, methods, purposes and ramifications. It was largely to his efforts that the decision of the governmental forces to combat actively the candidacy of La Follette, in preference to ignoring the danger, was adopted, and it is generally recognized that the campaign suggested by Mr. Marvin was, in no small degree responsible for the Coolidge landslide that deluged the aspirations of the Socialists at the polls the 4th inst.

Mr. Marvin presented to a number of men high in the business and civic affairs of the nation documentary evidence accumulated by him in thirty years of specialization on radicalism as a newspaper man, and by persistency succeeded in winning them from the position that the mention of La Follette's name as a Presidential candidate was to advertise him. Because of his intimate knowledge of the plans of the Socialists to advance La Follette and Wheeler, Mr. Marvin appreciated that the situation was more serious than appeared on the face, and he devoted every effort to forcing an active campaign against the Wisconsin candidate.

DANGER IN APATHY

Soon afterward in his column in the New York Commercial, one of the leading business dailies of the United States, Mr. Marvin began a series of articles of La Follettism, using nothing but documentary evidence accumulated by him. Later this series of articles was furnished to other papers throughout the country. Mr. Marvin then supplied data, systematized from his files, to speakers, particularly in the Middle West, regarded as the stronghold of the Socialist party. During the last two weeks of the campaign he supplied a series of fourteen articles to more than 2000 newspapers, daily and weekly.

"In the enormous majority given President Coolidge which, in fact, is a tremendous given constitutional there is a grave danger," Mr. Marvin. "It is like as a sleepin ple, while on the will serve to ment, gratified by votes polled by to greater activity. is an indication must go on with vigor."

TRAFFIC TOLL UP TO PUB

Pedestrian League's Head Asserts Slaughter Can Be Checked Only by Concerted Action of People

Until the public as a whole is roused to a pitch of action to reduce the daily toll of death in traffic, the "slaughter streets" will continue unchecked, Harold S. Ryerson, president of the Pedestrians' Protective League, declared in a statement issued yesterday.

It is not the fault of the authorities that the needless killing continues, Mr. Ryerson said, but the fault of the people themselves. Traffic accidents will continue and multiply until public feeling is aroused to such a point that reckless drivers are properly and consistently punished in proportion to the crimes they have committed.

It is the general apathy of the public to the tremendous number of traffic deaths annually which makes such a condition possible, Mr. Ryerson stated.

"As the situation stands at present the public scans the daily report of another traffic several more traffic 'My, My.' Then the gotten.

"That, I think is the of traffic accidents member of one's family injured in a traffic matter does not seem importance for Until every member of munity realizes his or sibility with regard to traffic toll there can reform brought about. is rapidly coming to where each citizen must personal interest in the Only through such hope for a solution."

YOU DON'T NEED
ANY SALES EXPERIENCE TO SUCCEED

Men who have never sold a thing in their life before are now earning more money than they ever dreamed was possible. Our sales plan and the co-operation that we give our men at the beginning absolutely assures nothing but SUCCESS. You not only earn immediate money while taking training, but you are continuously building up a permanent income behind you for the future. We have the fastest selling auto accessory ever put on the market. We have a sales plan that is greater than anything ever conceived and successfully applied to anything that ever went on an automobile. This company, without any doubt whatever, will put out more merchandise than all of its competitors combined, and to it within the first year. Our market is greater than that of any similar merchandise. Now then, men, if you really want something that will not only earn you just a mere living, but really want a permanent connection whereby you can build up a substantial income for the future—you owe it to yourself and to those that are depending upon you, to come down here today and let one of my salesmanagers explain to you in detail just the kind of a connection that they themselves have made. There is no investment required in the company; no charge for territory. You can work in the office or you can work in the field, whichever you like. Call at GROUND FLOOR LOCATION, 838 S.
